

I Leave Tomorrow Night But My Finish Will Be a Lively One.

Gen. G. O. Satterlee

THANKS!
To those who have helped me keep my promise to The Peoples Warehouse so that they could reduce their stock to normal.
The best part of this whole experience is the fact that this concern is now in a better position than ever to keep on giving the people of Pendleton and vicinity real exceptional values in good desirable merchandise.

Tomorrow will be a busy day. Just look at the prices. Your money will go farther than you ever expected it to.

REMEMBER, this is my farewell day. If you haven't made my acquaintance you are the loser.

MAIL ORDER LIQUOR FOR OREGON IS AIM

REDDING, Cal., Aug. 13.—The names of 350,000 tipplers in Oregon and Washington are catalogued and arranged in an alphabetical index by a mail order liquor house that is preparing to open for business in Hornbrook, the California town nearest to the Oregon-California line. Oregon and Washington states will go dry January 1 next.

The law in both states allows, after the opening of the new year, any person in those two states to purchase three dozen bottles of beer and two quart bottles of whisky every four weeks.

The enterprising dealer in Hornbrook who proposes to shoot alcohol across the state line into Oregon and Washington, has built a warehouse 100 feet long and 30 feet wide, in which he will store his alcoholic beverages.

A fireproof, burglar-proof safe has been built in which are kept the names and addresses of the 350,000 tipplers of Oregon and Washington, who, it seems, will be likely purchasers.

The value of town lots in Hornbrook has advanced 50 per cent the last three months, or since the property owners realized the geographical advantage they have in dealing with "booze" shipments to the northern states.

A second mail order house has bought a large lot and proposes to enter into the business which promises such handsome returns from the dry states north of California.

MITCHELLS POINT WILL FIGHT CHANGE OF NAME

HOOD RIVER, Ore., Aug. 12.—When the State Highway Commission seeks to change the name of Mitchell's Point to Storm Cliff, they will find that they will be unable legally to do so. Edgar Locke, who owns the larger portion of the great basalt barrier, his line extending over the crest and well down the west side, has registered officially the name of Mitchell's Point under a state law passed by the 1911 legislature.

"I wrote to the governor this afternoon," said Mr. Locke, who was in the city today, "and told him that if the name of the scenic point was changed I immediately would place trespass signs on the property and refuse to admit campers on the property."

"For 25 years Hood River people have visited the rock. Nearly every day during the summer months I can hear someone calling to me from the top of Big Mitchell's. If the old name is allowed to remain unchanged, I do not care how many tourists travel over the cliff."

"I have the old papers at home now," he remarked. "They are signed by Ulysses S. Grant. Mr. Mitchell for whom the place is named, lived there 55 years ago."
George Martin and C. W. Parker, who own the west base of the cliff, also are protesting against a change in name.

HIGH SEA IMPERILS MANY ALONG COAST

SEASIDE, Ore., Aug. 13.—A wrecked automobile and several narrow escapes from drowning so far is the toll of the phenomenal high sea running along this section of the coast.

The party in the car driven by E. G. Herrien, while examining the caves at Hog Point, on Cannon Beach, was caught by a high sea.

Shouting a warning to the five passengers to take the trail, Mr. Herrien attempted to turn the car. A huge breaker caught and completely wrecked it. Mr. Herrien, after a hard struggle, was able to reach the shore.

At dead low water it was practically impossible to reach the beach on account of the lurch from the heavy breakers from the exceptionally heavy swell offshore.

Despite weather bureau warnings sent out along the coast, many bathers venturing into the surf were bruised or battered. The Oats life-saving crew responded to numerous

JAP AIR HERO ON WAY TO FRANCE

REDDING, Cal., Aug. 13.—Lieut. H. A. Vada of the Imperial Japanese flying corps, and a hero of the battles of Tsingtau, is here on his way to France where he will study the aviation methods of the French army for the Japanese government.

Li. Vada distinguished himself in several flights over the German position at Tsingtau before the Japanese captured it and rendered efficient service as an aerial scout. He was decorated for bravery by the Japanese emperor.

IOWA WOMAN TELLS OTHERS

How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Carried Her Safely Through Change of Life.

Cedar Rapids, Iowa.—"At the Change of Life the doctor said I would have to give up my work and take my bed for some time as there was no help for me but to lie still. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and kept up my work and now I am over the Change and that is all I took. It was better for me than all the doctor's medicines I tried. Many people have no faith in patent medicines but I know this is good."—Mrs. E. J. RICKETS, 354 8th Avenue, West, Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

Such warning symptoms as sense of suffocation, hot flashes, headaches, back-aches, dizziness, palpitation of the heart, sparks before the eyes, irregularities, constipation, variable appetite, weakness and inquietude, and dizziness, are promptly heeded by intelligent women who are approaching the period in life when woman's great change may be expected.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound invigorates and strengthens the female organism and builds up the weakened nervous system. It has carried many women safely through this crisis.

If there are any complications you don't understand write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass.

Sugar Factory for Medford.

MEDFORD, Ore., Aug. 12.—W. H. Gore, president of the Medford National bank, is authority for the statement that the Western Sugar company, with headquarters at Salt Lake City, Utah, will start construction of a $600,000 beet sugar factory near Medford, Ore., at once.

western division of the Nibley interests, will arrive in Medford Friday to make preliminary arrangements. Mr. Bramwell is assistant manager of the Oregon hotel of Portland.

The company has been investigating this section for nearly a year, but absence of irrigation delayed definite action, and the company also wished to experiment with the soil before they made any investment.

According to letters from Mr. Bramwell, results of these soil experiments are so satisfactory and the sugar content of the beets so high that the Nibley interests decided to go ahead with their plans and arrange to handle the 1916 crop independent of the progress of the irrigation campaign.

It is generally believed in Medford that the company will buy a large tract of land and put water on it themselves, thus insuring their initial crop.

Signings of such a large acreage would in itself insure the extension of the irrigation system. With 30,000 acres irrigated, experts maintain that the Rogue river valley would become the richest beet sugar district in the country.

Winner Will Fight America.

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 13.—No matter which nation is victorious in the European war, that country will attack the United States, says former Assistant Secretary of the Navy Herbert L. Satterlee, who is in Seattle with his wife and daughters, touring the Pacific coast.

"The warring nations will look to the United States and the western hemisphere as an easy way of paying war debts," said Satterlee. "We are absolutely helpless, a second China, and though we are the richest nation on earth, we are with China in its most helpless condition."

"We have been getting along on a bluff with our Monroe doctrine, our Panama canal, our great responsibilities in Alaska, the Philippines and Hawaiian islands, but we will see our bluff called at the close of this war. The European nations will be so exhausted by this war that they will not seek further trouble. All history disproves this contention, and the history of our own country is a notable case in point.

"At the close of our civil war we were on our toes looking for trouble. And we had an enormous army fully equipped. We told France to get out of Mexico, and we were ready to back it up if she failed to do so. France got out.

"Europe will be in exactly the same shape that we were in then."

FAR-OFF LANDS SEND MONEY TO BELGIANS

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—Recent donations for the destitute people in Belgium received at the offices of the Commission for Relief in Belgium, have included a large number from parts of the world very remote from New York and from places that have hitherto not been heard from in the work of relief. South Africa, China, Norway and the Philippine Islands have sent a good many modest but none the less welcomed gifts, and recently the Commission received another contribution of $20 from the London Missionary Society at Tutuila, Samoa. This money was in addition to contributions previously sent by that society and was the result of a Sunday morning's service held on June 29. It was contributed chiefly by the small officers and civilian employees at the naval station located at Tutuila, and was sent by the Rev. A. Hough, missionary at that place, through the American Governor of Samoa, J. M. Poyer, by draft on the Treasury of the United States. The draft was signed by Arthur H. Mayo, naval paymaster.
