THE ALMIGHTY VOICE.
The wind to me is an almighty voice,
Unto the clouds the waters and the trees
Speaking a thousand infinite decrees,
And bidding men by turns regret—rejoice.
No exhalations vague and purposeless,
Born of contending currents in the air;
But speech of One whose Soul is everywhere,
But oftener speaking in the wilderness.
The voice that spoke of old on Sinai—
That upon Horeb's holy hill was heard,
Speaks yet again, and I am strangely stirred—
Saddened or gladdened by the Mystery.
For I, alas, am deaf; I cannot gain
More than a little of the truth Divine;
I am no prophet and I have no key
But for my soul's sake I dare not disdain.
—Arthur Goodenough.

HE COST THIS COUNTY A MILLION DOLLARS.

WITH Theodore E. Burton of Ohio a visitor in the state a Portland morning paper heaps high praise upon him for his alleged magnificent work in filibustering against the rivers and harbors bill and in helping block the ship purchase bill.
A fine recommendation indeed. Had the rivers and harbors filibuster succeeded fully the Celilo canal would still be unfinished and a vast amount of Oregon river and harbor work would have been blocked to decided loss of the state.
As to the ship purchase bill the sequel of that filibuster is found in extortionate charters for grain ships. With harvest underway we find the farmer robbed outrageously by a system that holds him almost helpless. We have the spectacle of wheat quoted at $1.70 in Liverpool and less than 90 cents just now in Pendleton. This differential is due almost entirely to the ship situation. It is due to extortion, not to war dangers, because the total war and marine insurance on wheat from Portland to Liverpool is less than six cents a bushel.

Through the behavior last winter of Messrs Burton, Root and others, warmly lauded by the tory press of the east and west, the national government was prevented from coming to the rescue of the producer by the only method of rescue open, and the northwest farmer is now paying the penalty and the ship owners are reaping their expected harvest.
Wonderful indeed is Burton and wonderful the tory press that sees so much happiness and glory in the plundering of the wheatraiser by the millionaire ship combine which without plowing, sowing or harvesting is making fortunes this year out of the wheat business.

Umatilla county farmers this year are being robbed of not less than a million dollars because of the filibuster by Burton and others against the ship bill. No wonder people in a certain quarter like to make a "fuss over him."

A DISGRACE TO GEORGIA

THE civilization of the south is disgraced by the lynching of Leo Frank—an unjust and cowardly act. There may be faults in the administration of the civil law but at its worst the law is infinitely preferable to mob rule. In the case of Frank, the law found the accused man guilty, but there was a shadow of doubt so he was saved from the extreme penalty and given a life imprisonment sentence. The governor took cognizance of the fact the evidence against Frank was not absolutely sure; the mob made no allowance for a possibility of innocence, but rushed headlong to its work of destruction. It disregarded the constitutional rights guaranteed to every citizen—the right of trial by jury and the right of appeal for executive clemency. It was dangerous business and there was nothing manly or courageous about it. It was many men against an unarmed and helpless individual and whatever the real facts may be in the Frank case the work of the Georgia mob last night has only added to the horror.

READING THE STEEL BAROMETER.

THROUGHOUT its existence of fourteen years, net earnings of the United States Steel Corporation have never been so small as they were in the six months including last fall and winter. These earnings are now rapidly rising to normal. They promise for the current quarter to equal the highest previous quarterly record of $45,000,000.

It is thus apparent that the Steel Trust can "come back." Can it ever do much better than that? It can undoubtedly consolidate and hold this position, as they say in the trench warfare of Europe. Can it extend that position in relation to the whole steel industry of the country, whose steel consumption is much greater than in 1901?
Perhaps it does not want to under the Anti-Trust Law as now administered. Its most powerful argument against the government dissolution suit has been that its proportion of the whole industry is now less than half, where before it had been much more than half.
Perhaps it cannot if it would. The boasted "economies" of vast industrial combinations have as a rule proved a delusion and a snare. It is the smaller independent steel companies which are now making most of the noise in the trade.
But there is every evidence of business piling up enough to tax the capacity of them all. This in turn reflects an activity affecting all lines of industry.

No surer barometer of trade exists than steel. As it now reads, that barometer forecasts an immediate area of exceptional prosperity.—New York World.

THE FOOL AND OUR FOREST DOLLARS.

(E. T. Allen.)
Goodbye to the fool with the empty gun;
Forgotten his bid for fame,
Though he kills his friend, it only counts one,
And that, nowadays, is tame.
The fool who playfully rocks the boat
Is on the front page no more,
He may rank high with the fools afloat
But his glory is gone ashore.

There's the fool with women, the fool with wine,
And the fool who games with strangers,
And the joy-ride fool (he does well in his line
By combining these ancient dangers).

But there's all still down in the primer class,
Here novices taking a flyer,
Compared with the prize-taking criminal ass,
The fool in the woods with fire.

A few hearts break for the deeds they've done,
In their pitiful amateur way,
But fire stabs dozens where they slay one
And scourges a state in a day.

For the ruined home and the smokeless stack
And the worker unemployed,
Know a hundred years shall never bring back
The things that his match destroyed.

CLOCK LIGHTS STREETS.

An ordinary alarm clock lights the streets of the village of Leontin, Ohio. At the proper time the clock snaps on the street lights and at a later hour it turns them off.

A circular piece of metal soldered on the alarm winding key acts as a revolving drum and winds up a heavy cord which, acting on a lever, trips a weight. The falling of this weight jerks a light rope which throws the switch for turning on the electric lights.

THE GOODS ON PAPA.

Farmer Stubblefield was gathering mushrooms.
"Are you sure them things ain't toadstools?" inquired Neighbor Jones.
"Wal, no, I ain't dead sure," was the answer. "But it's all right. The boarders won't know the difference."

PHONE FRENZY.

"I believe," said the impatient man as he put aside the telephone, "that I'll go fishing."
"Didn't know you cared for fishing."
"I don't ordinarily. But it's the only chance I have of finding myself at the end of a line that isn't busy."
—Washington Star.

The Way Out of It.

Tommy Tucks, after tucking away three portions of glorious plum pudding, passed his plate for the fourth. But Mr. Tuck said firmly:
"No, Tom. No more plum pudding tonight, my boy. Don't you know you can't sleep on a full stomach?"
"Well," whined Tommy, "can't I sleep on my back?"

EDUCATION OUTSIDE SCHOOLS.

The educational significance of other than school agencies is emphasized in a current survey of educational progress just issued by the U. S. bureau of education.
"Libraries, museums and art galleries are unlocking their treasures, and seeking to establish a very direct relation to organized school work," declares W. Carson Ryan Jr., editor of the bureau. Numerous other agencies and organizations are doing a work whose direct educational influence must in the aggregate be enormous. There are the 300 educational associations, many of them, like the National Education Association and its branches, doing direct work in the professional education of teachers and school superintendents; others, like the National Society for the Promotion of Industrial Education, carrying on a propaganda for education among the general public; and still others, like the Public Education Associations of New York and Philadelphia, investigating city conditions and stimulating an interest in education among the people of the local community. Organizations like the Russell Sage Foundation, the New York Bureau of Municipal Research, the Carnegie Foundation, and the general education board, have brought into the work of education the welcome influence of an impersonal, scientific judgment. No record of the year in education would be complete that did not pay tribute to the work these organizations and others of the kind are doing.
"Colleges, universities and normal schools are going far beyond their own walls in carrying education to the local communities. Nearly half the colleges in the United States did extension work last year. The federal government itself is realizing, as never before, the desirability of a

The outcome of the present war can only be a peace which by expanding our frontiers east, west and over seas, which protect us militarily, politically and economically against new attacks and compensate us for the enormous sacrifices which the German nation already has made and is determined to continue until a victorious conclusion.
Complete confidence in Ernst-Baergermann, leader of the national liberal party, was expressed in the resolutions, which announced that the party would stand solidly back of any movement pursuing with unbending firmness the aims outlined in the resolutions which were adopted with only two dissenting votes.
Astronomers have discovered another big sun spot, but it doesn't act as an umbrella for this sunbaked earth.
In the meantime, bumper crops means so much prosperity in this country we can afford to send some out of it.
A host of other organizations making no claim to a place in the formal school system are nevertheless doing active work of a directly educational nature. The Boy Scouts, the Girl Scouts, the Camp Fire Girls, women's clubs, parent-teachers' associations, musical societies, art centers; these are doing a work whose educational importance is only beginning to be apprehended. The influence of the fraternal organizations is directly educative. The whole vast field of religious instruction in churches and Sunday schools represents an educational problem that is seldom viewed as such because of the larger spiritual issues that are felt to be involved, and because of the traditional separation of church and state in America. Chautauquas, farmers' institutes, lecture courses, the Grange, Young Men's Christian Association and Young Women's Christian Association, social settlements, summer camps, the periodical and newspaper press—these are as truly educational agencies as the schools.

WIDER FRONTIERS ARE DEMANDED BY GERMANY

BERLIN, via London, Aug. 17.—Resolutions calling for the extension of German frontiers as the result of the war, were adopted by the executive committee of the national liberal party which met at the Reichstag. The resolutions made the following declaration:

THE S-W EAST OREGONIAN AND THE PACIFIC HOMESTEAD
Both for $1.50

The PACIFIC HOMESTEAD THE GREAT WESTERN FARM PAPER
THE Pacific Homestead is recognized as the leading farm paper of the Northwest. It is published in the interest of the farmer who believes in up-to-date and modern farming methods.
Each issue contains valuable information on dairying, agriculture, horticulture, stock raising and articles on poultry, bees, garden and the home. Edited by men who are recognized as leaders in their particular line.
No expense is barred in putting out a clean, newsy and wholesome paper. It is printed on a fine quality of book paper, illustrated with real cuts and photographs.
The fact that it goes into more than 18,000 homes in the Northwest each week and is read from cover to cover by every member of the family is the greatest argument in its favor.
If you want to keep posted on all phases of the farming business subscribe to the Pacific Homestead. It will come regularly each week, 52 big issues a year with four special editions, each one of which is worth the subscription price alone.

The East Oregonian
THE Semi-Weekly East Oregonian is an eight page paper with seven columns to the page, and is issued on Tuesday and Friday of each week, making 104 issues in a year.
If you wish to keep just a little closer in touch with local happenings, or with what is transpiring in any part of the country, be it city, county, state or nation, you could not choose a better and safer method than by obtaining that information through the columns of the East Oregonian, the official county and home paper of Umatilla county,—the paper that prints the news the day it happens.
Also remember this offer includes our Home and Farm Magazine section which appears in each Friday's issue of the Semi-Weekly.
Send at once if you wish a newsy, reliable newspaper and a leading farm journal, all for $1.50.
