Are You Clog?

There are people, many of them, who have no self-reliance. They do not believe they are capable of anything. They have no faith in anyone; they doubt everything, yet they huz the illusion that someone will come along and hand them a big check, says the Oregon Merchants Magazine.

These people have much less faith in their own people than they have in rank strangers. The salesman from a distance gets their attention and their orders, while the local salesman is treated to a "kleg." These are the men who act as clogs on the wheels of local progress. They are the arch enemies of home industry, yet they are forever deploring the lack of local pay rolls. They ought to be made to understand that payrolls require patronage, and that it is up to them to educate the consuming public to consume the products of local workers.

Some Oklahoma Wheat—That the Oklahoma wheat crop has been seriously injured this year is indicated by samples of grain in the possession of Henry Craig and which were brought out from Oklahoma by Mrs. Craig who recently visited in that state. The samples are of Turkey Red wheat and show damage from mould. The wheat was bound and heavy rains after cutting caused injury. The wheat is also shrivelled. The wheat in question yielded only 10 or 15 bushels to the acre.

STATE WILL NOT PAY CHARGES FOR CATTLE EXAMINED FOR SALE

ATTORNEY GENERAL GIVES RULING REGARDING THE NEW STATE LAW.

Contrary to a previous announcement given out from the state veterinarian's office, the state will not pay the charges for the tuberculin tests made on cattle offered for public sale, the attorney general having held that such payment would not be in accordance with the new state law. This is the substance of a letter received today by Dr. C. W. Lassen from Dr. W. H. Lytle, state veterinarian.

Dr. Lytle states that the old law was sufficiently broad to permit of the funds appropriated to the livestock sanitary board but the law passed by the last legislature limits the expenditures to certain things, according to the opinion of the attorney general.

"Hence it will be necessary," he writes, "for you to collect money for the tuberculin testing of cattle for public sale purposes from the owner. Possibly, we can make some arrangement with the county whereby this can be attended to as county veterinarian work."

Also, Dr. Lytle writes, he will try to arrange to have the intradermal test accepted for this work as it can be done more cheaply and will interfere less with the veterinarian's practice inasmuch as but two trips are necessary in making it.

Recently, it was announced that the livestock sanitary board would pay the testing fees in order that all stockmen may be treated alike. At present those who can avail themselves of the state veterinarian escape charges while others must pay private veterinarians.

WORLD'S GREATEST FILM PLAY IN PORTLAND NEXT WEEK

"Birth of a Nation" Signed by Clemens—To Start August 20 — Cost $500,000 to Produce.

"The world's greatest moving picture," for a sight of which hundreds of thousands of persons in eastern cities have paid as high as $2 a head, is to have a showing in Portland next week.

It is the "Birth of a nation," made by D. W. Griffith, the $100,000 producer, and it is to be exhibited at the Heilig theater.

"The Birth of a Nation" started out to be a dramatization of Thomas Dixon's "The Clansman" but it soon outgrew the original story. It worked backward from Mr. Dixon's romance of the reconstruction and included the civil war in an attempt to show that his country was not really born until it had proved its unity by a glorious time of bloodshed and rebelling.

The film cost half a million dollars to make, employed thousands of men and horses for its action and hundreds of acres for its setting. The principal players are stars whom Mr. Griffith himself "found," developed and taught the art of photoplay acting by his own standards. Mae Marsh, Henry B. Walthall, Robert Harron and Lillian Gish are in the number.

"The Birth of a Nation" has had more magazine and newspaper publicity than any other picture ever made. The June number of Everybody's and Life are among the periodicals devoting space to it.

It is declared nothing previously done in moving pictures anywhere near approaches the massiveness and pictorial value of "The Birth of a Nation."—Adv.

SHORTAGE IN WATER.

to put in the whole 320 acres of agency grounds in town and maintain it without cost and at the expense of the city of Pendleton. Such a construction could render the city's present water supply inadequate for present needs, he states, and, obviously the commission had no such intention.

Clerk Barbour states that the agency is taking water only for such purposes as the residents of Pendleton are taking it, which purposes are purely domestic, he declares. On the other hand, the water officials point out, every water user recognizes the use of water on farms as irrigation and has to pay additional for water used in the summer or irrigation season.

The agency clerk states that the city will take no action until the return of Supt. Swartzlander, who is expected today or tomorrow but he declares they have no wish to interfere with Pendleton's supply and will probably curtail their use of water. He is having a few leaks repaired at once to prevent needless waste. However, he is not willing to admit that the agency has not the right to draw water from the city pipe line for the maintenance of a lawn.

OGILVY IN JAIL.

you," Stubbiefield says he said, all the time advancing toward Ogilvy, whereat the latter responded, "Do your talking and do it damned quick."

Finally, Stubbiefield was able to dissuade Ogilvy from his intentions and was ordered to leave the canyon at once.

Ogilvy will be given a hearing before Judge Marsh and it is possible that the evidence of Mrs. Lee Dale that he shot twice at her a few days ago will be introduced. Ogilvy was placed under bonds to keep the peace nearly a year ago upon the complaint of Charles Johnson but those bonds only held until the next meeting of the circuit court.

IRRIGATION TO BE TAUGHT—George T. Cochran, water superintendent for the second district, has returned to La Grande from a trip over the state with the water board. After visiting water masters and many marshes looking toward the solution of the marsh problem, Mr. Cochran said:

"As soon as the water masters have made sufficient study in irrigation, it is the intention of the water board to have them do a certain amount of demonstration work in irrigation. Thus, where a water master sees that the system of irrigation upon any farm can be improved, it will be part of his business to instruct the farmer."

NEWS FROM THE FARM AND RANGE

Second Strawberry Crop—Growers on the project are now marketing their second crop of strawberries; the fruit is of exceptional quality and the yield is large. There will be berries on the market here now until late in the fall; there in fact being very little time from spring until late fall when local growers do not have them for sale.—Stanfield Standard.

Cattle to Chicago.—Indicating that the Chicago cattle market is stronger than the Portland market is the fact of a trainload of beef being shipped from Pilot Rock and Juntura. It is understood the shipment is to go forward today. In addition to the Pilot Rock beef 150 head will be loaded at Juntura.

Shipping Train of Lambs—Smythe Bros. are today having a trainload of lambs loaded at Gibbon preparatory to shipment to the Chicago market. They shipped a trainload a month ago to the same market.

Genuine 50 Bushel Wheat—James Wyrick is one farmer on the reservation who really got fifty bushels to the acre. His warehouse receipts show that off a 280 acre field he harvested a little over 14,000 bushels of Russian red wheat and the beautiful part about it for him is that he contracted his wheat last season for a dollar a bushel to E. L. Smith. Three months ago Mr. Wyrick declared he would have been satisfied had he known he was to harvest 55 bushels an acre off this field. It was his first experience with Russian red wheat and this variety looks very spry during the early season. Not until almost harvest time does it even up in length and present an appearance to justify expectations of a big yield.

Gets Permit to Kill Beaver—Beavers are destroying the orchard trees on the John L. Ramsay place at Peradale. The facts being reported to Deputy Game Warden S. B. Sanderson he put himself in communication with the state game warden who has issued a permit to Mr. Ramsay to trap the beaver and ship them to the office of the state game warden.—Freewater Times.

JOHN BRISBEN WALKER

CHICAGO, Aug. 20.—John Brisben Walker, chairman of the convention committee of the Friends of Peace, who will hold a convention here beginning Sept. 5, says that more than 20,000,000 people living in the United States have gotten actively to work in the interest of peace.

"Those who are attempting to make the United States a militarist nation are endeavoring to hold back the cooperation of the American public by declaring that the Chicago convention was at its inception in the hands of German Americans," said Mr. Walker.

"It is true that these citizens, realizing acutely the horrors of war from the hourly loss of relatives and friends have been most earnest in the movement."

"But those at the head of the movement are Americans," he added. "They are actuated solely by their fear of militarism and their desire for peace between nations."

ZEPPELINS DROP BOMBS ON LONDON, IS REPORT

BERLIN, via Wireless to Sayville, L. I., Aug. 20.—Zeppelins dropped bombs upon the city of London and an important establishment on the Thames Tuesday, an official account of the latest aerial raid upon England declared. The bombardment was with good results, it was stated. Factories at Ipswich were also bombarded. The Zeppelins escaped without damage from the fire of the anti-aircraft guns.

"Our observation is that in practically every difficulty between a man and a rabbit the man is the aggressor."
