RED DOG SALOON WILL HAVE TO BE MADE LARGER TO TAKE CARE OF ITS BIG PATRONAGE

To prevent congestion and provide more amusement, the "Red Dog Saloon," chief pleasure palace of Happy Canyon, will be widened 25 feet before the 1915 show. The committee last evening waited upon Superintendent Bollons of the O. W. R. & N. and received his permission to extend the walls on to the railroad property for the desired extra space.

The additional room will permit of the installation of more of the games which proved such an attraction last year. Every town of the northwest is to be combed to find as many as possible of these frontier games of chance.

Another important change which the committee decided upon last evening will result in much better lighting for the pavilion. Big searchlights will probably be installed back of the audience so that the "street" will be illuminated without any glare. A spotlight will also be installed to play upon certain features of the hour program which will precede the main festivities.

The street scene will be much more realistic this year by reason of the fact that the faded paint gives the storefronts a much more weather-beaten appearance. The arrangement of the "business houses" will be changed to some extent to permit of more attractions on the "street."

The hour's program will be even more novel and entertaining than last year. Messrs. Raley, Stelwer and Drake, who have charge of this department, are now working on some stunts that will prove screams.

THOUSANDS OF BANK NOTES UNGUARDED IN THE CITY'S STREETS

GREAT PILE CARRIED BY TWO MEN WITH NO POLICEMAN IN SIGHT.

Over 25,000 in Greenbacks Set Strangers to Gasping in Amusement—Then the Notes Are Generously Handed Out to All Who Ask for Them—Cargo Handled Safely.

Occasionally we see photos of millions of dollars being hauled through the streets of New York guarded by a regiment of police. Yesterday afternoon people on Pendleton's Main street saw two men laden with great bundles of greenbacks, walk the entire length of the street and there wasn't a policeman in sight.

There were thousands and thousands of bank notes in the bundles and no effort was made to conceal the nature of the contents from the public. Strangers gasped in amazement at the sight. The two men stopped a newsboy and bought a paper. They stripped a note out of the bundle and handed it to the boy who ran away in high glee. Soon other newsboys made their appearance and the two men were besieged. With rare benevolence, they stopped and passed out notes among the boys, even including a number of men in their distribution. To prevent a riot they hurried on with their bundles and disappeared within the doors of a newspaper office.

"Who are those philanthropists?" asked a stranger in the burg of a barber.

"Those," answered the omniscient pollster of mugs, "are some of the stinks that run Happy Canyon and those notes are the official currency of that little old town."

It was true. The two men were carrying the 25,000 and some odd Ten Buck notes, used last year, to the printer. Across the face of each is to be printed in red ink, "1915 Happy Canyon, Sept. 22-23" and in another place in smaller type "VOID. This bill for use in 1914 only."

Having decided to issue new currency this year in gold instead of green, the committee will use the 1914 Buck bills as enclosures to send out in letters for advertising purposes. As soon as the printer has finished his job, these notes will be distributed among the merchants and others desiring to send them out in their daily mail.

Dynamite Kills Insects. PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Aug. 26.—S. Lewis Ziebler, director of the department of health and charities, is waging submarine warfare on mosquitoes. Blowing the bottom out of mosquito breeding ponds with dynamite is the spectacular feature of the crusade which he has been pursuing against the pest. Success, it is reported, has attended the director's efforts.

This mode of warfare is known as "down drainage" or the blasting method. It has been discovered that if the hard pan at the bottom of the pond is broken the water will escape into the lower strata of gravel or sand and be absorbed. Sinking dynamite bombs to the bottom of ponds and setting them off by electricity, in every case in which it has been tried, has caused the water to vanish into the earth and millions of mosquitoes have perished.

DENIAL MADE OF RIGA VICTORY BY RUSSIANS

BERLIN DECLARES DREADNAUGHT MOITKE WAS NOT SUNK BY SLAVS.

BERLIN, (via Amsterdam), Aug. 26.—Denial that the dreadnaught Moitke and ten other German warships were sunk by the Russians in the battle in the Gulf of Riga was made by the admiralty.

The official statement from Petrograd claiming that a dreadnaught, two cruisers and eight torpedo boats were destroyed was declared to be without foundation.

"German warships," mentioned by the Russians as having been destroyed, were probably old vessels sunk by the Germans themselves to blockade the entrance to the harbor and bottle up the Russians, the admiralty declared. Some of these vessels had previously been captured from the Russians.

No Warships Sunk.

"Neither a large ship nor any cruiser was sunk or damaged," the statement said. "Our warships silenced the enemy land batteries near Pernau."

It was further declared that the report from Petrograd that the Germans attempted to land troops on the shores of the gulf of Riga was false. No transports were accompanying the squadron which attacked the Russians, and the only German losses were one torpedo boat sunk and two damaged, as previously reported.

Valuations Held Unjust.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—Valuation of cattle, horses and other animals in the livestock shipping contracts made by 45 railroads west of Chicago were declared to be unjust and unreasonable, and ordered canceled by the Interstate Commerce Commission. The commission declared the schedule valuations were not representative of the average actual value of the animals shipped.

The decision upholds complaints brought and supported by the American National Livestock Association, the Railroad Commission of Iowa and South Dakota, the Arizona Corporation Commission, the Cattle Raisers' Association of Texas, and numerous livestock exchanges and associations.

The commission's decision says the Cummings amendment to the Interstate Commerce Law has "in effect abolished the interstate commerce the whole system of released rates based on agreed valuations as distinguished from actual value."

New rates were prescribed.

Katzenjammer Stuff.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 26.—"Billy" is an honorable goat when sober, but he devoured 1000 new Milarity hall tickets. Then "Hogan," a yandeville monkey, untethered him at the Chester Park theater. Miss Marie Chapman, actress, has sued Shirley Alvarado, the goat's owner, for $551 damages. Here's what Billy ate: One set of $5 pink tights, a lovely pair of $5 silk stockings, $28 worth of steaks. Miss Chapman's injured feelings are estimated at $500.

SUGGESTIONS ALWAYS WELCOME BY DANIELS TO IMPROVE SCHOOLS

SECRETARY OF NAVY ENDEAVORING TO PERFECT OFFICERS' TRAINING.

Late Revelations at Annapolis Demonstrate That There Is Room for Improvement—Efforts Being Made to Learn How Other Institutions Are Being Managed.

By F. A. CONNOLLY.

(United Press Staff Correspondent.) WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—Secretary of the Navy Daniels isn't too proud to listen to suggestions for improving Uncle Sam's private school for naval officers at Annapolis. The institution is being run on a creditable plan at present, the navy contends, but any idea worth while will receive Mr. Daniels due consideration. All the late scandal there wouldn't be scandal, it is argued, if the school did not have a good system of government and a fair reputation to uphold.

The late "gouging revelations," however, have shown there is room for improvement. So the secretary, realizing that his is not the only academy in the country, has been trying to find out how the others are run. There are at least fifty other educational establishments where young men are governed by stringent systems. Now the head of the navy figures that in fifty such places there must be some difference in regulation and discipline. If any of them have better than Uncle Sam, he wants to incorporate them into his own. Secretary Daniels has written to the presidents of these schools asking concerning the rules and practices observed in their institutions.

The secretary expects these queries to be answered in the course of time and is in no hurry about them. When he gets them all in he will look them over and pick out the ideas he can use. He will weave the best of those that he can into the Annapolis system and those that he can't he is very apt to ask congress to weave in for him.

"Gouging" and "hazing" are going to go. The secretary is especially interested in the way examinations are conducted elsewhere, and is going to apply some of the safety-first principles in the examination room. The next modern language test won't be cribbed, and the upper class drill masters won't drill under class men in "matter along the same lines as the coming exam" the night before that event takes place. If he has to Mr. Daniels will lock the papers in a steel box as soon as they are made up or carry them in his vest pocket to prevent young prospectives from getting at their contents.

Hazing doesn't occur often. There is a law against that and it doesn't matter whether the offense is grave or insignificant, the law is law. Occasionally a first offender gets off with a severe reprimand, but second offenders "get the boot," and they know what to expect. In this respect discipline isn't often broken.

Uncle Sam has been wondering what has become of all the informers. From the treasury department recently came the answer: "We're paying them too much money."

Prior to August 21, 1913, one who gave information leading to conviction of a moonshiner received only $10 and was happy. Tlgn the fee was boosted to $50 just to encourage others to give away their lawless neighbors, but strange to say the increase has had a markedly contrary effect. With the business all but gone to the hownows, Secretary McAdoo restored the old fee. The result is awaited with interest.

Idaho Landmark Burns. TWIN FALLS, Idaho, Aug. 26.—Fire destroyed the hotel at Shoshone Falls, a large dancing pavilion adjoining and outbuildings. Only the first floor of the hotel was being used this year and this for reception and rest-rooms and refreshment parlors.

Edward Dufresne, one of the leasees, was sleeping in the hotel at the time and narrowly escaped alive. Firemen a quarter of a mile away rushed to Dufresne's assistance and were joined by two men from a touring party camping nearby.

The hotel was a famous landmark. It was built nearly half a century ago and for many years was the only stopping place on the 60-mile stage road between Shoshone and Rock Creek.
