Hendrick, representative of the Kansas City stock yards, who was in Baker on his way through Oregon on a tour of inspection of sheep and cattle conditions.

Explorer, 8, Gets Lost. PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 26.—A journey that was begun with the idea of "seeing the world" ended abruptly for 8-year-old Edward Bauer, of 1013 Benner street, Fox Chase, when he was found at Second and Somerset streets wandering about aimlessly and hungry by Policeman Funck, of the Front and Westmoreland streets police station. He was taken to the police station, where he told the police that he had left his home yesterday afternoon on an "exploration trip" with another little fellow as a companion, who had left him.

According to the lad's tale they had wandered down Second street pike several miles when his companion determined to go home. Edward, however, kept on until it grew dark, and as it was a long way home, he decided to sleep in some building operation near Second and Somerset streets. This he did and said he slept well and was not afraid. When morning came he decided that he would have to return home, as he was tired of his adventures. The lad then, having no money, said he took a number of newspapers from doorsteps and sold them on the street corner to earn his car fare. As he told this part of his story he showed several pennies to corroborate his tale.

At the police station the child was given some breakfast. His parents were notified. Edward was perfectly frank and confessed that he expected to "go out exploring" until he had grown up.

102 At Noon Today. The official thermometer at noon today registered 102, thus branding the weather prognosticator as a falsifier. Docket Being Called. Circuit Judge G. W. Phelps is this afternoon calling the docket to determine what cases are at issue and practically the entire bar of the county is present. Bring Back Two Deer. Col. J. H. Raley of this city and Asa E. Thomson of Echo returned last evening from Bear Wallow and each had a buck deer as a trophy of their hunt. They bagged the animals Monday and they also found the carcass of the deer which Mr. Thomson shot the first of the season. He had trailed it to a thicket and had he gone to the top of the hill nearby would have found the dead body of the buck. Col. Raley shot a deer in the same way on this trip, losing the trail after following it for some time.

A Quick Change of Residence. A woman and a man stood before County Clerk Saling this A. M. They wanted to be one, so they requested a marriage license. "Are you a resident of this county?" questioned the clerk. "I am," the lady replied. "Were you ever married before?" was the next interrogatory. "I was," she answered. "Were you divorced?" and again the answer was "I was." "When and where?" the clerk wanted to know. "Last Monday and in the state of Washington," she spoke back. The clerk scratched his head. "To get a divorce in Washington, you must be a resident of that state," he mused. "To get a marriage license in this county, a woman must be a resident of the county. It follows then that last Monday you were a resident of Washington and today of this county. It strikes me as strange," and the license was refused.

TIMMERMAN CASE IN COURT ENDS IN BOTH BEING FINED

CHARGES PROVE BOOMERANG TO PLAINTIFF—PROCEEDINGS CENSORED.

The Timmerman family linen was washed in the justice court this morning when Mrs. Will Timmerman was tried under the vagrancy statute upon complaint of her mother in law, Mrs. Katherine Timmerman. The case developed boomerang proclivities, for not only was the defendant found guilty and fined but the same measure was dealt out to the complaining witness.

The elder Mrs. Timmerman accused her daughter in law of calling her various and sundry unperfumed names, threatening her and preventing her from going on to the Timmerman farm to look after the crop. The younger woman stood trial and was defended by W. M. Peterson. She was found guilty as accused and fined $10.00 and costs.

Thereupon, she promptly charged that her mother in law had applied a most unavoy title to her and she repeated the objectionable title. "You're right, I did," replied the elder woman, "and I also said that you were a _____ (censored) and that you _____ (also censored)."

Judge Parkes refused to admit evidence tending to prove the aspersions which were made. "It makes no difference whether they were true or not. They were obscene. I will fine you $10." He then administered a lecture to them upon the evils and folly of family quarrels, but the sister lady could not be made to see why she had been fined for speaking what she declared was the truth.
