Here is the sign of real gasoline—the kind the motor of your car was designed to burn. Every time you use a mixed or blended gas, you lose power—you lose miles. Buy real gasoline—buy Red Crown. It's the good, old-fashioned kind—a highly distilled, unmixed, pure refinery product.

POWDER MILLS IN THE EAST ARE DESTROYED

ACTON, Mass., Aug. 21.—With a shock that was felt within a radius of 10 miles the glazing mill of the American Powder Company, which since the war has been working to its capacity blew up. So far as known nobody was killed.

The actual money loss to the company was not heavy, but it was stated that work on large orders probably would be held up for several weeks. Property owners in the surrounding towns, particularly in Maynard, were heavy losers because of shattered windows.

The mill had been closed down since Saturday afternoon and the police express the belief that the explosion had been caused with intent to cripple the plant.

Armed guards have been stationed about the works for several weeks.

WILMINGTON, Del., Aug. 31.—Two workmen were instantly killed and considerable damage was done to property by an explosion of two black powder mills of the Dupont Powder Company in the Upper Hagley yards, near here.

The cause of the explosion has not been determined, but officials say it probably was due to a spark or to grit in the powder.

BOY TOUCHES A LIVE WIRE AND IS KILLED

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 31.—Climbing one of the 80-foot high steel towers supporting high tension electric wires from the Estacada plant, Marvin A. Larson, aged 18 years, was instantly killed near Anderson station when he touched one of the wires with his hat to see what would happen.

Larson was employed as a Portland Railway, Light & Power company section hand under his father. His home was at Boring.

The accident happened a few hundred yards west of the station at Anderson, just east of Gresham, and 200 feet north of the Clackamas county line.

H. C. Larson, the parent, who is section foreman, had just come up the track to gather up some shovels and other tools, preparatory to the return to Boring.

Mr. Kimbley, aged 29 years, another section hand residing also at Boring, and young Larson were left together standing near one of the towers.

According to Kimbley, Larson "banned" him to climb the mast, and he refused.

"I'm going to grab that wire and see what happens," Larson is said to have remarked when halfway up the tower.

Although Kimbley warned him not to, Larson persisted to the top of the tower, and proceeded to lay his hat against one of the live wires. The strands on these towers carry 60,000 volts.

Instantly there was a blinding flash, Larson's body swung from the mast, stiffened and dropped. The body was burned black and death was instant. When the father returned a few minutes later he was prostrated.

ENEMY AIRMEN ARE COURTEOUS IN DEATH

LONDON, Aug. 31.—A strange courtesy of war which attends the fraternity of airmen, regardless of the fact that they are divided into hostile camps, was reported by English army aviators on leave of absence here.

If a British birdman kills a German aviator, he makes a second flight over the enemy's lines, drops a note expressing regret that the demands of war made his action necessary and asks that his sympathies be carried to the dead aviator's family.

A young English aviator started the practice several weeks ago. The Germans promptly reciprocated.

Al Mosler Seeks Another Chance to Fight Farrell

JEWISH JACKRABBIT IS ANXIOUS FOR GO-AND-CONFIDENT OF WINNING.

Al Mosler, the Jewish Jackrabbit who gave Billy Farrell such a hard battle last Thursday evening, is seeking another chance at the local light-weight. In a letter to the sporting editor of the East Oregonian this morning he expresses a yearning to enter the ring with the battling Billie boy again and states a confident belief that he can beat him.

Mosler thinks he put up a good fight with Farrell and none who saw the bout thinks otherwise. Farrell himself, admits Mosler was the hardest man to hit he has ever fought but believes he could have knocked him out in a few more rounds.

In the event that Farrell consents to a return battle, it will probably be a 20-round go as that distance is Farrell's preference. Mosler's style of fighting makes him almost invincible for 10 rounds but such action as he puts into his milling naturally tires a man out in a longer go.

Farrell has won every fight he has fought in this county and is receiving all kinds of offers for bouts.

Foreign Dentists Attend Congress

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 31.—Dentists from all parts of the world are attending the Panama-Pacific Dental Congress. With over 3000 delegates already registered, this meeting is the largest in the history of the profession.

Both the Central and South American republics are fully represented, Chile alone sending 22 delegates. Japan is represented by 20.

The National Dental Association, numbering thousands of members, is represented on the program. Other dental organizations holding separate meetings are the California, Southern California, Utah and the International Dental Federation.

One of the interesting features of the congress is an exhibit showing the latest methods of treating the mouth and teeth.

Three Cigarette Faults to Avoid

- First, avoid cigarettes that don't just suit your own taste.
  - Second, avoid those that bother your throat or tongue.
  - Third, avoid those that make you "feel mean" after smoking all you want.
- If Fatimas, for instance, seem to you to be guilty on any one of those three counts, we say, avoid Fatimas.
- We mean what we say—for, when it comes to the fatma, Fatimas can't possibly please everybody—no cigarette can do that. But Fatimas do please more men than any other cigarette costing over 5c.
- That's one reason why you should try them.
- Another reason is because they are so SENSIBLE—so free from any "after-feeling."
- If you want to know exactly what a "sensible" cigarette is, just try Fatimas by these two tests. Do that little thing today—you'll be glad.

TWO TESTS FOR ANY CIGARETTE

The taste of the cigarette—according to a leading tobacco journal—is up to the smoker. But there are other qualities that you should look for in the cigarette that you are going to stick to, for your steady smoke. Here are a couple of tests that may help the average smoker to choose more wisely between different kinds of cigarettes.

The first test is for coolness, which means more comfort to the throat and tongue. Light any cigarette. Draw in a cloud of smoke—a small, ordinary puff is not sufficient for a few seconds. Let it float around against your tongue and throat. Now blow out the smoke. If the cigarette contains a high grade of mild tobacco leaves, combined in just the right proportion, it will always feel cool and smooth both to your throat and to your tongue.

On the other hand, if the proportions are not right and if the cigarette contains interior grades of tobacco or hidden strands of rank, oily leaf, you will feel a slipping sting at the tip of your tongue or that "sandpaper" tickle in your throat.

Test number two—How do you feel after smoking all day?

If the tobacco in the cigarette includes a correct proportion of mild grades—and is so blended as to bring out the best qualities and to neutralize any unpleasant tobaccoes, you will be able to smoke practically all day without feeling any effect.

But with another cigarette in which the blend is less skillful, even though the tobaccoes are of the highest grade, you will find along towards the end of the day that you are likely to have that feeling of having "smoked too much."

Clip out these tests and try them on Fatima.

Put Newspapers First

"RESULTS are obtained by quality first and then the use of the daily newspapers."

This is the explanation given by a large producer of a food product for the success of his brand.

It is a brand known and sold by name the continent over.

The man behind it has tried every kind of advertising plan there ever was, and has given up about everything except newspapers.

Year after year his advertising keeps up and his sales grow.
