Two games which will be every bit as bitterly fought are scheduled for the middle west the same day—the Purdue-Indiana scrap, and Coach A. Stagg's Maroons battle with Illinois. The season really comes to a close five days later on Thanksgiving Day, but the eyes of the sporting world will hardly turn from the gridiron until Uncle Sam has settled his private little embroglio—the army-navy scrap—scheduled at the Polo grounds the following Sunday. Notre Dame plays Rice Institute at Houston, Texas, the same day, and from then on the season dribbles way until December 4, when the University of Southern California plays the only game in the country against Whittier at Los Angeles.

FOOTBALL SEASON IS NEARING AND EYES TURN TO COLLEGES

SPECULATION BEGINS ON THE CHANCES OF BIG SQUADS TO WIN GAMES.

BY GEORGE R. HOLMES. (United Press Staff Correspondent.) NEW YORK, Sept. 4.—The sphere that comes up out of the eastern horizon mornings is beginning to assure a slightly oval form, and those who have been speculating as to Ty Cobb's chances of finishing with a 400 average are beginning to wonder how Harvard is going to get along without Charley Brickley. The well known football season which has been on its way for a year is almost here.

The lid will be officially pried off two weeks from today when Coach Kelley's Caribbe Indian bucks collide with Albright at Caribbe.

A week later the big universities of the east and west swing into action and the season will be on in full. Little Dartmouth, which proved a Tartar for the big fellows last season starts off with the same day; Penn State faces the same day; Princeton lines up with Georgetown, Syracuse with Hobart; the University of Pennsylvania with the University of West Virginia and the Yale crowd mixes with the University of Maine at New Haven.

The absence of any big inter-sectional combat this season has detracted a lot from the interest. Last season fans in the east and west had the Yale-Notre Dame and the Harvard-Michigan battles to look forward to but the eastern schedule makers passed up the teams from the middle district and for the most part the games will be local quarrels. About the nearest things to clashes between the east and west are the Notre Dame Army game, November 6, and the Michigan-Pennsylvania battle a week later, November 12.

What easterners call their first really big game comes November 5, when Princeton meets Harvard at Princeton. Some other good games are on the docket for the same afternoon with Yale meeting Brown at New Haven; Dartmouth meeting the University of Pennsylvania at Boston; Ohio meeting Indiana at Columbus; Purdue meeting Iowa at Lafayette; Michigan meeting Cornell at Ann Arbor; and Oregon mixing with Washington on the Pacific coast.

A week later comes the Yale-Princeton battle. Brown meets Harvard on the same day, Michigan and Pennsylvania come together; Cornell plays Washington and Jefferson; Illinois meets Wisconsin and Kansas and Nebraska clash.

The climax comes seven days later when the historical Yale-Harvard game, with all the accompanying ceremonies, is played at Cambridge, Yale, with Brickley gone from the Crimson ranks, has high hopes of avenging last year's defeat.

Clark Will Train Here for His Bout

WILL FIT HIMSELF FOR GO WITH BILLIE FARRELL WEDNESDAY NIGHT.

Tommy Clark is scheduled to arrive today from Portland to finish his training for his 20 round bout with Billie Farrell next Wednesday night in the Oregon theater. Tomorrow will see both fighters working out in the Commercial gymnasium and a large crowd will probably be up to watch them. All are invited to attend these workouts and size up the two boys.

Farrell declared today that never in his ring career has he felt better than at present and stated that he would give Clark the roughest bout he has ever experienced.

Word comes from Weston that there will be several carloads of fans come to Pendleton from those towns for the fight and longer interest was never higher. Farrell and Clark put up such a rattling good fight at Athens last month that the fight fans are just naturally hungry to see them fly at each other again. One of the best crowds of the season is expected.

Two good preliminaries are promised to fill out the evening. Tickets will be placed on sale today.

SPORT EVENTS.

Futurity Day at Saratoga. SARATOGA, N. Y., Sept. 4.—Today is Futurity Day, but unless the unexpected happens it will not make racing history. The youngsters who might give the year's two-year-old classic real importance are not eligible and the best expected at the track this afternoon was that it would prove a good horse race. One interesting possibility is White Hackle, sold by John Madden to the Shoebone stable for $19,990. It is remembered that Madden sold Novely about a month before Novely won the Futurity in 1910.

BIG SHELL SHAVES OFF TURK'S DONKEY'S EARS

LONDON, Aug. 29.—(By Mail).—A singular result of naval marksmanship is described in a story from Teheran, where the only "casualty" caused by the bombardment by a British warship was the ears of the ass of Haff Effendi, Turkish collector of customs.

A shell shaved off the ears of Effendi's donkey cleaner than a knife could have done the deed. Consequently, time being slack and Effendi's animal being the sight of the town, Effendi took advantage of the wonderful shot to charge admission to see the donkey.

Red-Eyed Vireo in Oregon.
EUGENE, Ore., Sept. 2.—A song bird, heretofore unknown in the state of Oregon, but common east of the Rocky mountains, the red-eyed vireo, was found by A. C. Shelton, field worker of the department of zoology at the University of Oregon, during his survey in the Rogue River Valley and the north spur of the Siskiyou mountains.

Only three or four times has this bird been found in the west. Mr. Shelton brought back among 220 specimens of birds animals and reptiles collected during his six weeks' trip.

Independence Grain is In.
INDEPENDENCE, Ore., Sept. 2.—After a very profitable season, the grain threshers have stored their machines. Owing to the large acreage and good crops all the machines in this section have been kept busy. They report the quality excellent, especially the barley and oats which have yielded heavier than former years. The spring oats did not fill as well as the fall grain on account of the hot weather, but the quality was good and the straw bright. Many farmers will have their straw baled for market instead of burning it as heretofore.
