"Tuning to the Infinite" is Subject of House Lecture

A large audience listened to Dr. House lecture last night in the Methodist church as he spoke on "Tuning to the Infinite." Taking an illustration of the four strings of a violin, G, D, A and E, he showed that each one of these strings is capable of producing three notes of great importance in the musical world.

He said: "Man has in him these same four great strings, and each one of these strings is capable of producing three notes that are tuned to their object of life, make man great. The G string stands for God, and the three notes are Father, Son and Holy Spirit. The D string stands for Duty, Determine and Declare. He must use his will in making the fight, and he must declare for truth. The A string stands for Attainment, Abandonment and Action. To be attuned in eyesight means joy. To be out of tune in any bodily function was to be miserable. We must abandon sin, because the greater part of our sickness comes from it. We must act up to the light we have, for to do so, is to get more light. The E string stands for Embodiment, Enlargement and enjoyment. What we embody in our mind we get in our lives. Therefore we should embody the good, not the evil; health, not disease. We should get beyond the enlargement of the dollar. Generally the first thirty years of a man's life was health seeking wealth, and the last thirty years of the same man's life was wealth seeking health. Enlarge toward character, toward God, toward man, for this saves in the end. We are made to enjoy life, and God wants us to be happy. True Christianity was not of the fettered kind, not the "cabin'd" kind, but the wholesome, sweet and joyous kind. If we will live the true Christianity we will make it attractive.

This afternoon the subject of the lecture is "Bible Healing," and tonight it is "The Power of Concentration." These lectures are free, but an offering is taken.

Expectant Mothers Relieved of Pain

A most valuable help to women during this interesting period is a splendid external remedy called "Mother's Friend." It is applied over the muscles of the stomach, gently rubbed in, and at once penetrates to relieve all strain on nerves, cord, ligaments and all parts involved. It makes the muscles so pliant that they expand naturally. And at the same time they are invigorated by the absence of harassing pain so apt to distress the mind. Get a bottle of any druggist. There will be at least 25 men in the party, who will lend their efforts toward the support of the annual dairy show to be held in November. Swimming holes were forgotten and paths leading to the school house were filled with staid boys and girls with books equal in weight to their own avoirdupois under their arms yesterday when the familiar school bell sounded at 8:30. The school at this early date has enrolled more pupils than any former year. The additional department of a commercial course has been an attraction to the last year's graduating class six of their members now being enrolled. A manual training course and domestic science department have also been added. The school will be supervised this year by Prof. A. T. Park of the University of Oregon with Prof. H. M. Gunn as principal. Mrs. J. M. Griffin and children, formerly well known residents of this city but now residing at Laidlaw, are the guests of Mrs. Griffin's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Skinner. J. W. THAR'S two things yet to be invented—a gun that'll shoot around the corner, and a "process" that'll take the bite out of tobacco an' leave the flavor in.

VELVET is cool and biteless because it is mellowed by age. Two years the best Kentucky Burley is sealed in wooden casks, until every last vestige of flavor and fragrance is brought to the surface—but every particle of rawness eliminated. The VELVET way is nature's way.
