MELONS OF FINEST KIND ARE GROWN ON UMATILLA PROJECT

WELL KNOWN HERMISTON FARMER SAYS NINE CARLOADS HAVE BEEN SHIPPED.

Settlers are specializing in Monte Christo watermelons which have been found to do the best on the project—this has been best year in that section.

The Umatilla project is a great melon country, according to W. T. Sellers, well known Hermiston farmer who yesterday brought up the second car of watermelons shipped from that section to Pendleton this season. In all nine carloads of melons have been shipped out of Hermiston this year, he states, two coming to this city, two to Heppner, two to La Grande, one to Condon and the eighth was distributed in two ton lots among several towns. Each car held 12 tons.

The Hermiston settlers are specializing in Monte Christo watermelons which have been found to do best there. The average harvest of melons has been ten tons to the acre. The first shipments brought 15 a ton but the market is lower now. However, melon growing has proved very profitable.

This has been the best year in the history of the project says Mr. Sellers. Four crops have already been taken off the alfalfa lands and some farmers will have another half crop. The orchards are beginning to bear and the first large shipments of peaches were made this year. The Jersey dairy herds are growing every day and the dairying as well as hog raising industry is becoming a profitable one.

There is more money in the country now than since the first settlements were made and a consequent optimism. "The people feel better than since the first year they came. Then their optimism was built upon hopes for the future. Now it comes from actual accomplishment," is the way Mr. Sellers puts it.

Mr. Sellers has been a resident of Umatilla county for more than a quarter of a century having lived 12 years at Ukiah, seven years at Weston and more than seven years on the project. He is a booster for all sections of the county but has a great and growing faith in the west end.

Lightning Hits Man's Ring.

WINCHESTER, Va., Sept. 15.—Hope Beam's finger ring is in the jeweler's shop because the ruby getting was loosened by lightning. Also he is alive and well after one of the most exciting experiences of his life, having faced death in an instant's time, when a bolt of lightning struck in the concrete, midway between the Deaderick and Empire buildings.

Mr. Beam was shocked severely, the electricity following the wiring into the office where he was working. Several women in the office of a physician next where the lightning struck were also shocked.

The electric wires in the building were at once ablaze. There was as much smoke, according to the inmates of the building, as if a two-story wooden house were burning. A fire alarm was turned in and soon every piece of fire-fighting apparatus in the city was on hand to fight the fire. A panic resulted among the inmates of both buildings. The elevators were put out of commission by the lightning stroke and occupants of the building rushed down the stairs and on to the street. The blazing wires at last were consumed, with small damage to the building, but the services of electricians were necessary.

The force of the bolt of lightning was shown by the hole it made in the concrete where it struck. A hole about two inches in diameter was forced through at least nine inches of concrete, and a heavy piece of galvanized tin was pierced. The brick wall against which the lightning struck was seared.

Porto Rico Has Jitney War.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—A real war between jitneys and a regular railroad has developed down in Porto Rico. Up to two months ago the railroad had a monopoly of the passenger business between Catana and Bayamon, which amounted to half a million persons a year. Then the pesky little jitney made its appearance and proved so popular with the ing just half the traffic.

Although the jitney fare was ten cents, the same as the railroad, the about two inches in diameter was people that the railroad was forced to reduce its fare. The trip soon became a sporting proposition, the jitneys racing with the trains, and often eating them to the finish.

Now it is announced the railroad will be electrified and all the old equipment replaced with modern cars and appliances. These improvements will cost many thousands of dollars, not counting what the rivalry already has cost the road in traffic shrinkage.

Cudahy Home For Girls.

PASADENA, Cal., Sept. 14.—The palatial residence of the late Michael Cudahy here is being converted into a Sisters of the Holy Name academy. The school will be used for the higher education of girls. Through Bishop Conaty of Los Angeles, the beautiful mansion and grounds were deeded to the Sisters by the heirs of the late Chicago millionaire. The property is valued at $100,000, and is considered one of the beauty spots of Pasadena.

When Jeremiah Dingman's estate was admitted to probate in Richland Center, Wis., it was learned that he waited until he was 100 years old before making his will. He lived to be more than 101.

STOCK JUDGING WILL BE ADDED TO COURSE IN THE HIGH SCHOOL

WILL BE TAKEN UP IN AGRICULTURAL CLASSES AS REGULAR REQUIREMENT.

Students Will Use Cards as Those By Experts and Judge Stock as if Officiating at Stock Show—Will Be Taught to Tell Good Stock from Poor Ones.

One of the interesting studies to be taken up, under the agricultural course at the high school in stock judging. The subject deals with all classes of livestock used and raised about the farm.

In the work of stock judging the boys use the regular score cards and judge the stock as if they were acting at a stock show. The members are taught to tell a good work horse from a racer, a good milk cow or a market hog. Along with the subject is taken stock breeding under which the students are taught to breed for what is desired.

Professor Gambee decided to take this branch up seriously this year because of the great work done by the boys last year when a class team was sent to the Union stock show. They brought back second prize with Charlie Russell high point man and Enoch Friedly, Russell Wilbur and Fred Russell close behind.

Rickey Got Two Birds.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Sept. 15.—If ever two birds were killed with one throw that time was when Branch Rickey, of the Browns, went to Michigan last spring to take a look at a young college pitcher—a port hurler—he had long coveted. The occasion was a game between University of Michigan and Western State Normal. His attention having been drawn to the youngster, Rickey took several looks.

He sat in the grandstand and saw the pitcher go seven wonderful innings in a game that ended in a ten round 0-0 score. Michigan got two hits off the Western Normal pitcher. Those two hits were made by the pitcher Rickey had come to see. Four bases were stolen by Michigan. The twirler Rickey had come to see stole 'em all. Rickey signed up that twirler whose name is George Sisler, right after the game.

After signing Sisler, Rickey realized that the Western State Normal twirler hadn't done so bad with an inferior team behind him. That night he signed him, too. The second bird, also tossed 'em in from the left side. He is Ernest Koob and his name does not rhyme with boob. He says it's pronounced as it spelled "Kobe."

Exciting Ring Contest.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Sept. 15.—As a mute protest against police interference with their practice bouts to which spectators were admitted, Spike Tattling and Kid Crochet, who ordinarily are Charley Hodge and Sam Taylor, staged a sewing contest. As boxers appeared with good sized needles, and a large sheet of cloth. In the ring they sewed desperately, became interwoven in the thread and stuck their thumbs. As a finale, the referee, Kid Glove, held the contestants' bloody thumbs aloft to indicate a draw.

Widow's Act is on Test.

SALEM, Ore., Sept. 14.—A test case of the widow's pension act was started in this county when 11 widows, who had been denied pensions by the county court, filed petitions for pensions and asked for writs of mandamus against the county court. County Judge Bushey and other members of the county court have declined to grant widows' pensions since the widow's pension act was passed in 1913. Their reason is that the county has always taken care of widows and other indigents.
