Penrose Nominating Major.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 22.—Philadelphia republicans are nominating former postmaster T. B. Smith for mayor and Nov. 2 they probably will elect him to the office. Every indication is that the Penrose organization will have things its own way once more, which is a pleasant thing for the organization since two hundred million dollars' worth of municipal contracts will be awarded during the next mayor's term. Lack of unity among opposing forces seems likely to make matters easy for the city's managers, while the unity in the latter organization is marvelous to behold. Smith's nomination at today's primary was made a certainty by the withdrawal of all but one other candidate just late enough to prevent disgusted independent republicans from offering another man. A repetition of the coup by which Blankenberg was elected is not anticipated, since the unity seems all to be inside the old guard.

Ford to See Naval Head.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—Henry Ford, of Detroit, will see Secretary Daniels at the Navy Department next Wednesday.

It is understood that he wants to talk about a plan he has evolved for a small submarine.

HISTORIC NEWSPAPER CONTAINS STORY OF WASHINGTON FUNERAL

RELIC OWNED BY MRS. RUTH A. STRAHORN WILL GO IN CORNERSTONE.

Uster County Gazette is Dated January 4, 1890 and Will be Put Among the Memorials That Will Go Into the Box at the New Federal Building Today.

Among the many interesting relics which will be deposited this afternoon in the cornerstone of the federal building, perhaps none is more interesting nor older than the newspaper which Mrs. Ruth A. Strahorn has contributed. The paper is a copy of the Uster County Gazette, published in Kingston, Uster county, by Sam Freer and Son on Saturday, January 4, 1890.

It is the Washington memorial edition of the paper and contains an account of the entombing of the remains of the first president of the United States. It has been in the possession of Mrs. Strahorn and her ancestors since publication and was highly prized by her. It was only after a great deal of hesitation that she decided to add it to the collection of documents and relics to be preserved in the cornerstone of the federal building.

The whole newspaper, its foreign dispatches, its legal notices, its advertisements and its typographical appearance, is interesting but the account of the last rites over the body of Washington commands first attention. Because of its general interest, the account is published below. It follows:

Washington Entombed.

George Town, Dec. 20. On Wednesday last the mortal part of Washington the Great—the Father of his Country, and the friend of man, was consigned to the tomb with solemn honors and funeral pomp.

A multitude of persons assembled for many miles around at Mount Vernon, the choice abode and last residence of the illustrious chief. There were the groves—the spacious avenues—the beautiful and sublime scenes—the noble mansion—but alas! the august inhabitant was now no more. That great soul had gone. His mortal part was there indeed; but ah! how affecting, how awful the spectacle of such worth and greatness, thus to mortal eyes fallen!—yes, fallen, fallen!

In the long and lofty portico where oft the hero walked in all his glory, now lay the shrouded corpse. The countenance, still composed and serene, seemed to depress the dignity of the spirit which lately dwelt in that lifeless form. There were those who paid the last sad honors to the benefactor of his country, took an impressive—a farewell view.

On the ornaments: at the head of the coffin was inscribed SURGE AD JUDICIUM—about the middle of the coffin GLORIA DEO—and on the silver plate GENERAL GEORGE WASHINGTON, DEPARTED THIS LIFE ON THE 14TH OF DECEMBER 1799, AGE 68.

Between three and four o'clock the sound of artillery from a vessel in the river firing minute guns awoke fresh our solemn sorrow—the corpse was moved—a band of music with mournful melody, melted the soul into all the tenderness of woe.

The procession was formed and moved in the following order. Cavalry, Infantry, Guard, with arms reversed; Music, Clergy.

The General's horse with his saddle, hostlers and pistols.

Corpses, with pall bearers.

Colonels Sims, Ramsey, Payne, Gupton, Marsteller, Little.

Mourners.

Masonic Brethren.

Citizens.

When the procession had arrived at the bottom of the elevated lawn on the banks of the Potomac, where the family was placed; the cavalry

Events in the War One Year Ago Today

- China has replied to Germany's protest against the landing of Japanese troops in China, saying she is unable to defend her neutrality.
- Heavy fighting is reported in France, the Germans attacking vigorously southeast of Verdun and claiming success. The French war office reports an advance of eleven miles in an effort to envelop Gen. von Kluck's army on the right of the German line.
- Late reports indicate 1133 British seamen were lost and 1667 saved by the sinking of three cruisers in the North sea.
- Austrian cruisers Maria Theresa and Admiral Stuen were badly damaged in a fight with the French fleet in the Adriatic.

halted, the infantry marched toward the mount and formed their line—the clergy, the Masonic brothers and the citizens ascended to the vault, and the funeral service of the church was performed. The firing was repeated from the vessel in the river and the sound echoed from the woods and hills around.

The general discharges by the infantry—the cavalry and 11 pieces of artillery which lined the banks of the Potomac back of the vault, paid the last tribute to the entombed commander in chief of the Army of the United States and to the departed hero.

The sun was now setting. Alas! the SUN OF GLORY WAS SET FOREVER. No—the name of WASHINGTON—the American president and General—will triumph over death. The unclouded brightness will illuminate the future ages.

Loss of Vitality is loss of the principle of life, and is early indicated by failing appetite and diminishing strength and endurance. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the greatest vitality—it acts on all the organs and functions, and builds up the whole system.—Adv.

Head Barred; Suit Filed.

HOOD RIVER, Ore., Sept. 22.—Alleging that George Fry, manager of El Corredor Ranch, felled trees across a road in front of his machine and blocked the highway, Fred Howe, a garage man, has brought suit for $500 against Mr. Fry and Colonel N. F. Tucker, owner of the property.

Mr. Howe says the trouble arose when he started for the G. M. Kirkpatrick ranch on the road through the Tucker property. The Tucker interests, according to Mr. Howe, are disputing with Mr. Kirkpatrick over the rights to a spring. The car was allowed to enter but had to be abandoned on the return, the complaint asserts.

Separate Trial Is Asked.

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—Charles F. Brooker, one of the defendants in the government suit against the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad Company, asked Federal Judge William H. Hunt for a separate trial. Brooker gave as a reason that he did not want to be arraigned with Edward D. Robbins, former counsel of the New Haven road, alleged to have sanctioned the acquisition of the subsidiaries which has created the alleged monopoly denounced by the indictment.

Radium Mining Simplified.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 22.—Van H. Manning, director of the United States Bureau of Mines, speaking at the opening session of the American Mining Congress here, detailed the discovery, by his bureau, of the new radium refining process, which reduces the cost of refining two-thirds. Mr. Manning said the new process will make available large deposits of carnotite in Colorado and Utah and may result in the United States taking first place as a radium producing nation.

Note Forgery Charged.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 22.—Charges of forgery were made against the late Carroll Cook, formerly judge of the superior court by his widow, Mrs. Beattie Grim Cook, in an amended answer to suit to collect three notes for $500 each by the Union Securities Corporation. Efforts were made to exclude the amended answer from the court records.

Her husband, the answer said, "was in such dire need of money that he feared to divulge it to her" and "that he possessed the peculiar capacity to imitate the signature of others."

Judge Cook was a brother of William Hoff Cook, a member of the California bar.

Historic Hotel Is Sold.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 22.—The Continental Hotel, one of the oldest and among the most famous hotels of the country in civil war days, was sold by the sheriff to an attorney representing undisclosed interests. The purchase price was $1,121,500.

Manager Brothers, of New York, who operated the hotel under the name of the Bell Hotel Corporation, leased the property last year for 21 years. At that time, foreclosure proceedings had been instituted by the holders of a mortgage amounting to more than $1,000,000. Many noted guests, including President Grant and the Prince of Wales, made the Continental their headquarters while visiting Philadelphia in years gone by.

CLUETT, PEABODY & CO., INC., MAKERS

MAYBE you're one of these reformed grinders yourself and know how they like to meet and talk about the little chew that satisfies. When you meet a non-member puddling a big wad in his cheek don't you feel like stopping him and giving him the facts about the Real Tobacco Chew?

A little chew of pure, rich, mellow tobacco—seasoned and sweetened just enough—cuts out so much of the grinding and spitting.

ASK YOUR DEALER FOR W-B CUT CHEWING TOBACCO. IT IS THE NEW REAL TOBACCO CHEW—CUT LONG SHRED.

Take less than one-quarter the old size chew. It will be more satisfying than a mouthful of ordinary tobacco. Just take a nibble of it until you find the strength chew that suits you, then see how easily and evenly the real tobacco taste comes, how it satisfies, how much less you have to spit, how few chews you take to be tobacco satisfied. That's why it is The Real Tobacco Chew. That's why it costs less in the end.

The taste of pure, rich tobacco does not need to be covered up. An excess of licorice and sweetening makes you spit too much.

One small chew takes the place of two big chews of the old kind.

Notice how the salt brings out the rich tobacco taste.
