THE PEOPLES WAREHOUSE

WHERE IT PAYS TO TRADE

Washington Wigwags

BY GEORGE MARTIN. CHESAPEAKE Bay's "fish-net stakes" need regulating, thinks the war department. Yes, we have eaten this variety: also the galvanized and India rubber kinds, and we favor the reform.

A man in Brazil has asked the commerce department where he can buy $5,000 razor blades. We'd like to see his whiskers.

A Netherlander has written the commerce department for the address of whoever makes "a handy folding egg boiler." We would like to glimpse the folding egg he's going to boil.

Same Netherlander wants "a perfect noodle cutter." We fear he is doomed to disappointment in this, as perfect noodle cutters have for the most part given way to the kangman and the electric chair.

Since the commerce department has so lamented the lack of Potash, we are reminded that there hasn't been much Perimeter noticeable lately, either.

An American motor-boat engine ran 31 hours on a Chinese river without stopping, reports Mr. Consul Hanson at Ewaton. Brilliant thought. Maybe the trouble with our "demon motorboat" engines all along has been that we didn't run 'em in Chinese. Come to think of it, they speak the language perfectly.

The Flight of the Stork.

Every normal person is interested in the arrival of the stork. It is the greatest event in one's life.

The expectant mother needs, above everything else, comfort and peace of mind. This she is sure to have if Mother's Friend, the safe, dependable external remedy, is used to soothe the network of nerves and to enable the muscles to expand naturally, thus relieving undue strain.

Mother's Friend, obtained at any drug store, is the one remedy used and recommended by thousands of women everywhere, who testify as to its wonderful merit.

MOTHER GIVES 10 SONS TO FIGHT FOR ENGLAND

5 DEAD IN FRANCE, 1 PRISONER, 2 WOUNDED AND ONE STILL FIGHTING.

BY WILBUR S. FORREST.

(United Press Staff Correspondent) LONDON, Sept. 19.—(By Mail.)—The mother's record in this war is held by Mrs. Mary Fury, of Doughra, county Galway, Ireland.

She has given ten sons to the British army. Five are dead in France. One lies in a hospital recovering from wounds. One is a prisoner in Germany. One remains fighting and another is nursing a right arm shattered by a bullet.

This is not all of Mrs. Fury's fighting family. She has a daughter, Mrs. Mary Casey, Romford, England. Mrs. Casey's husband is one of Romford's 5,000 fighting men at the front. Several weeks ago, Mrs. Casey supported her large family of small children with the aid of two brothers-in-law. Now they have gone to war and she is struggling on alone.

What Mrs. Mary Fury and Mrs. Casey have suffered in England's greatest crisis is the story of hundreds of homes of the working class in the British Isles. A similar story can be told in a smaller way from the mansions of British aristocracy and from the "castles" of the middle classes. But it does not leave the sting of poverty that confronts Mrs. Mary Fury of County Galway and her sisters of the lower classes. She will suffer until her body is planted in Irish soil and with her thousands of other women whose husbands have left the spade and shovel.

If conscription comes in Great Britain it will not find the husbands, brothers and sons of the Mary Furies and Mary Caseys among the "slack-ers."

The laboring element is becoming gradually the starkest element in Britain. Cities, towns and villages alike have emptied their houses and streets. These men are today in the majority in northern France. The Dardanelles and other theaters of war. The upper and middle classes are in the hopeless numerical minority.

There is one obscure little street in Walsworth, a suburb of South London that tells the tale. This street is in the heart of the "working" locality. It is called "Trafalgar street" and is simply a two rows of 150 small brick buildings and shops built closely together. The war office has distributed cards of honor for every family that sends a man to the army. There are 195 cards of honor in the window of these little shops and houses. Children play with cocked hats and wooden guns in the narrow street. About half of them will never see their fathers again. They will go into the factories their fathers left as soon as their arms are strong enough.

The war has brought all British classes together—in the trenches. It has brought all classes at home down to the same place—during the war. But what is to become of the Mrs. Furies and Mrs. Caseys after the war, is a question that is hard to answer.

Billousness and Constipation.

It is certainly surprising that any woman will endure the miserable feelings caused by billousness and constipation, when relief is so easily had and at so little expense. Mrs. Chas. Peck, Gates, N. Y., writes: "About a year ago I used two bottles of Chamberlain's Tablets and they cured me of billousness and constipation." Obtainable everywhere.—Adv.

Man in Zeppelin Falls.

LONDON, Sept. 22.—One member of the crew of the Zeppelin concerned in the most recent raid on London either fell or was blown from the car and his body was mangled beyond recognition "somewhere in England," says the Daily Express.

The paper asks whether this explains the reported death of Dr. Sticker, widely known in Germany for his researches in aeronautics.

A Silent Wedding.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Sept. 22.—William R. Lyons and Mary Henderson presenting themselves to be married by Court Commissioner Bates, said not a word. Neither did Bates, who sat down at a typewriter and typed the wedding ceremony. Spaces were left for the bride and groom, who filled in their parts of the ceremony. Then Bates wrote at the bottom of the peculiar document, "I pronounce you man and wife." Mr. and Mrs. Lyons are deaf mutes, from Faribault, Minn.

Dumba Will Go Home.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—Austrian Ambassador Dumba notified the state department that his government has informed him to return home. Because of this he asked the department to arrange for his safe conduct on "a leave of absence."

Lumber Co. Destroyed.

ALBANY, Sept. 22.—A fire at Lebanon practically destroyed the plant of the Lebanon Lumber Company. The loss is $100,000. The origin of the fire is not definitely known.

Widow Adopts Minister.

ASHLAND, Ore., Sept. 22.—Rev. Arthur R. Blackstone, pastor of the Baptist church here, has been adopted by a wealthy widow, Mrs. Aurelia Ferguson and made her heir. His benefactress' estate is reckoned at $100,000 or more.

The marriage of Miss Helen Snyder to William Lowell of Boise, Idaho, was solemnized last evening at 7:30 o'clock at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. J. M. P. Snyder, 505 Catherine street, by the Rev. C. E. Tuke, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church.

The impressive ceremony was witnessed by relatives and a few intimate friends of the two families. A wedding reception followed at 8 o'clock at which a large number were present.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Tess Snyder, maid of honor, and Miss Gwendolyn Snyder, bridesmaid, and Miss Margaret Lowell, sister of the groom, bridesmaid. Dr. Beckley of Boise, Idaho, was best man.

The Snyder home was transformed into a bower of ferns, vines and flowers. In the living room where the ceremony was performed was a profusion of roses, vines and a most effective decoration of the dainty ocean spray forming an immense globe enveloping the chandelier. In the dining room were banks of gypsy daisies, other varieties of yellow flowers, foliage, vines and ferns.

The bride, who has spent most of her life in Walla Walla, has a large circle of friends here. The groom is a son of Stephen A. Lowell of Pendleton, Oregon. He is engaged in the newspaper business at Boise, where the couple will make their home.—Walla Walla Union.

Mr. and Mrs. Orville Reeves of Corvallis are Round-up guests.

After the Honeymoon—

The bride's first and never-ending problem is "What to Eat."

For breakfast, lunch, or supper what could one have more delicious than

New Post Toasties

These new flakes are made of choice Indian corn, cooked and toasted by a new method that brings out a wonderful new flavour.

In this new process, intense heat expands the interior moisture producing little pearl-like "puffs," a distinguishing characteristic of the

New Post Toasties

For a flavour test, eat some dry. Then notice that these New Toasties have a body and firmness—don't mush down when cream or milk is added—
