ECHO YOUNG LADY IS INJURED WHEN SHE THROWN FROM HORSE

MISS GLADYS WELLS SUSTAINS BROKEN COLLAR BONE WHILE RIDING.

Echo Commercial Club gives Banquet and Entertainment Monday Night—Dancing is Enjoyed Afterwards—Mrs. Daniels and Son Have Returned from Panama Fair.

(Special Correspondence.) ECHO, Ore., Sept. 22.—Miss Gladys Wells of this place, while out riding Tuesday afternoon was thrown from her horse and had her collar bone broken. The fracture was adjusted and she is now doing well.

The Echo Commercial club gave a banquet and entertainment on Monday night to about 80 club members and invited guests. The first of the evening was spent in the lower hall of the L. O. O. F. building, where a very interesting program was rendered. The banquet was later served at Tefft's Grill, at which Thomas Ross was toastmaster. After the banquet the company returned to the hall, where dancing was enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Ross are home again after a week spent in Portland.

Mrs. Irl Daniels and son returned Wednesday morning from a month's visit to the San Francisco fair.

C. P. Bowman was a visitor in Pendleton this week.

T. G. Smith spent Wednesday in Pendleton.

E. N. Litsey left Tuesday for the San Francisco fair.

Dr. F. R. Dorn and Louis Scholl, Jr., motored to Pendleton yesterday to attend the laying of the cornerstone of the federal building.

WILSON SHOWS ABILITY TO GUIDE IN A CRISIS

THE PRESIDENT CAN THINK THROUGH DECISION WITHOUT CALLING ADVISORS. BY GEORGE F. WEST.

(United Press Staff Correspondent.) WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—Through swiftest days of international crises (the word is stale in Washington) President Wilson again has demonstrated his marvelous ability to sit tight and to think through to a decision without seeing advisors and without a flurry in White House routine.

So far as visible signs go, President Wilson in these perilous days might be a quiet scholar leading a singularly uneventful and retired life in the big homey old mansion among the trees.

During the most critical days of the Arabic-Besperian-Dumba incidents he saw Secretary of State Lansing for a brief 40 minutes, ate lunch on at his own table with Son-in-law McAdoo once, and in the course of a week received formal calls lasting fifteen minutes from not a half dozen others—all persons of no importance to whom international affairs are Greek.

Not once did the president sit across the table from an official or personal advisor and enjoy one of those loose and informal discussions that average citizens crave when confronted by problems infinitely less absorbing and momentous. One afternoon he sat through a ball game with the round form of Secretary of the Interior Lane beside him, but the president's shaking shoulders showed that their conversation led far away from submarines and diplomatic conspiracies.

All that policemen on the White House lawn and white house correspondents saw during these days was the leisurely White House routine of golfing in the morning and motoring in the afternoon. All the executive offices assistant secretaries read newspapers and talked tennis or baseball. The appointment book was nearly blank.

This does not mean that President Wilson hasn't his finger on the pulse of the nation. He has imagination for one thing, and it is declared it is just because he wants to listen to the voice of all the people that he refuses to listen to a handful who may or may not represent the ninety millions.

The president has resumed theater going for the first time since the death of Mrs. Wilson. In his first week he saw a stock company in one of the old popular favorites and a vaudeville show.

There is nothing high brow in his pleasures. No gum-chewing girl with her "steady" beside her could be more appreciative when a sleep-stick "artist" falls into the footlight trough or reaches over and gives the orchestra leader a resounding smack.

Dr. Gary Grayson, White House physician on special detail from the navy, is the president's constant companion at golf, motoring and the theater. Dr. Grayson has a reputation as a good story teller and at the White House he gets lots of practice. The president loves a good story and laughs like a boy.

Washington doesn't like the president's seclusion. It likes the search light on the Washington monument at night and the Marine band. It likes fuss and feathers, and it likes White House occupants who are good subjects for endless anecdotes. But even to Washington the thought occurs that perhaps the president is

Merchandise of Highest Quality Only

THE race ain't always to the swift. VELVET is way ahead of those quick-cured tobaccos, even if it does wait two years for agein'.

There are less expensive ways of curing tobacco than Nature's way—not less than two years of mellowing in sealed wooden casks. But that ageing gives VELVET its smoothness, and brings out to the full the natural fragrance and flavor of the choice Kentucky Burley tobacco.

MANCHURIA GETS GOODS FROM AMERICAN FIRMS

American commercial travelers are now penetrating far into northern Manchuria. Consul Moser reports from Harbin to the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce, department of commerce, that he is busy introducing American trade solicitors to Russian firms. The consul says he endeavors to be personally acquainted with the managers of every importing firm in his district. When the American commercial travelers arrive at Harbin, the consul introduces them, and gives them useful information. The result is that the buyer and seller are mutually assisted. Recent orders thus placed in Harbin for American goods include Pennsylvania watch cases, $25,000 worth of Massachusetts shoes, New York roofing, California dried fruits, and Pennsylvania rubber goods, while several orders are pending for railway supplies and other goods. The bureau of foreign and domestic commerce has gathered considerable data about Manchuria for all American manufacturers who want to know.

Worth Their Weight in Gold.

"I have used Chamberlain's Tablets and found them to be just as represented, a quick relief for headaches, dizziness and other symptoms denoting a torpid liver and a disordered condition of the digestive organs. They are worth their weight in gold," writes Miss Clara A. Driggs, Elba, N. Y. Obtainable everywhere.—Adv.

AMERICAN DOLLAR IS ON 'CHANGE IN CHILE

New York exchange has taken the place of London exchange for Chilean nitrate sales, according to a report just received by the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce, department of commerce, at Washington. Consul General Keena at Valparaiso announces the sale to an American firm of 4000 tons of nitrate worth $155,000. However, he adds that since there is no American bank in Chile, much of the benefit of the tendency to establish dollar exchange must be lost, as this type of exchange is only temporarily favored by foreign banks. American banking opportunities in South America are being given spe-

Three Are in Murder Net.

BELLINGHAM, Wash., Sept. 23.—Two men and one woman are held in the Skagit county jail in connection with the murder of three passengers on a Great Northern train near this city on the night of February 20, 1914. George Brooks, a real estate broker of this city, and D. J. Hennessey, formerly a Great Northern railroad man, are suspected of the crime and Mrs. H. Pearce, who is in jail with them, is charged with aiding a criminal with knowledge of his guilt. Brooks, whose movements had been followed since the night of the hold-up and murder, is alleged to have come to the home of Mrs. Pearce, in this city, after the crime was committed, and remained there until public interest in the affair subsided. He remained in Bellingham until taken into custody. The woman was arrested near Pendleton, Ore., Sunday, and taken to Mount Vernon.

Lad Admits Setting Fires.

BAKER, Ore., Sept. 23.—Farmers are sleeping again in the vicinity of Hamilton, Grant County, because 14-year-old Will E. La Rose, known as "the arson kid," is being taken to Portland by J. G. Kilpack, of the Boys' and Girls' Aid Society, in hopes of spring him. The lad is normal in every other way, but he says frankly that he set many fires to haystacks and buildings "just to see them burn." He is a waif, found destitute in Jackson county and taken into the home of G. E. Jones, of Hamilton, a few months ago. The fires have been set frequently ever since. He may be taken to Salem for medical examination and later placed in the state industrial school.
