THE SAME HOME.

At home here in peace and in plenty—the same home we knew from of old, When her voice matched the mockingbird's music and her hair had the glint of the gold.

THE EFFRONTERY OF PROF. BARNETT

Now that the land grant conference has been held with its resolution for a forty million dollar swindle, and the water power conference has made its brazen appeal that the riches of the west be given for eternity to the electric trust the Portland Oregonian turns its attention to bulldozing the university of Oregon.

A SUGGESTIVE MISTAKE

There is too much tendency on the part of shallow newspaper writers to picture school work as something distasteful to the average boy and to view the relationship between pupil and teacher as that of jailbird and hated keeper.

Here is a sample that is less idiotic than much that is said: "The average youth dislikes school. Is it because of the coincidence of physical development with mental preparation for a useful life? Or from the necessary inhibition of animal exuberance before the mind has obtained full mastery? Might it be that the subject matter is beyond the grasp of youth, and therefore without the stimulus of success; or again is it the substitution of parliamentary regimen for parental indulgence; or a mere hatred for the harness?"

To begin with the average youth does not dislike school. The normal boy craves something in the way of mental development just as much as he desires physical development. It is entirely natural he should. Mental development is what gives man the mastery over brute creation. Mental development plus energy and personal stamina is what makes successful men and women. Without a "noodle" you will not make good and this applies as much in one line of business as another.

ENSLAVING THEMSELVES

Great Britain's debt before this war broke out was $3,535,000,000. It had nearly doubled that figure at the end of the British fiscal year, March 31 last. The total of that date will be doubled again by March 31 next, in the estimates of the Chancellor of the Exchequer given to Parliament—a "dead weight of debt" of $11,000,000,000.

Britain Needs Doctors.

LONDON, Sept. 27.—There will be no course open but to apply to the United States to fill up the necessary complements of medical men if this country cannot produce the requisite doctors, writes Sir James Barr, vice president of the British Medical Association and a lieutenant-colonel in the Royal Army Medical Corps, in appealing for doctors for the armies going abroad.

FREEMONT, Ill., Sept. 27.—After more than 76 years of wedded life, Mrs. Thomas Siffer, aged 96 years, is dead at her home in Lanark, Ill. Her husband, at the age of 97 years survives her.

Stories From the War Zone

BY WILBUR S. FORREST.

(United Press Staff Correspondent.) LONDON, Sept. 27.—(By Mail)—A breath straight from Halded street, Chicago, U. S. A., reached London today via the British trenches in France.

Writing to a London paper, which conducts a "Lonely Soldier's Guild" for the benefit of unparented "Tommys," the Halded street recruit said: "The other day one of my pals put me wise to the fact that there is a society or something connected with your paper having for its object the befriending of soldiers who have no people or friends who will write to them while at the front."

"If that is right, put me on the list for the love of Mike, as I am the real, genuine, unadulterated article. I have lived the best part of my life in the U. S. A., and had come to consider myself a true-blue-son-of-a-gun of a Yankee until this scrap started. Well, as you know, blood is thicker than water. The only friends I've got are the guys who will be waiting for me with the glad hand if I should happen to get back to Chicago with a few dollars in my pocket."

"So if any of the 'Lonely Soldier' people want to be a pal to me, I say to them, come now, make no delay; as the poet says, 'come early and avoid the rush.'"

The lonely Halded street's name was not disclosed.

A new type of soldier is just beginning to appear in London.

They are big brown men, wearing sun helmets and short knickerbockers who walk about with their sleeves rolled up. They are some of General Botha's men who helped clean up German Southwest Africa and who are so anxious to get into real action that many have "trekked" at their own expense all the way from South Africa to London to enroll in English regiments.

England's champion army recruiter is Sergeant Netmeyer—a Canadian—who, despite his Teutonic sounding name, has induced, within three months, more than 3000 Londoners to join the colors.

Niemeyer uses plain North American language on his crowds. Standing, usually at noon-day on a box in Temple Bar or one base of Gladstone Memorial in the Strand, he delivers straight hammer blows at all before him who show any resemblance to soldier material.

"You're a bunch of white livered cowards," is one of the Canadian's favorite terms. "You are afraid to fight, if you weren't you wouldn't be here," he shrieks. He believes that gentle appeals don't get results and he is always direct to the point of harshness. He is a veritable "Billy Sunday" for "army converts" and he seldom ends a speech with less than a dozen law clerks or others following him to the nearest recruiting depot.

Big Timber Deal is On.

CHEHALIS, Wash., Sept. 27.—A timber deal aggregating approximately $40,000, is being closed here by George F. Stone and James Barnes of Seattle, representing eastern capitalists. The timber tract is in Lewis county, and extends from the Morton neighborhood to the Cowlitz river, in the vicinity of Riffe.

This is the biggest timber land deal which has been made in Lewis county for several years past, and the announcement comes as a surprise, owing to the fact that no business of this kind had been transacted recently.

Think Bulgaria Bluffing.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27.—If the sentiments expressed by the Bulgarian embassy in its accord with Sofia's idea, Bulgarian mobilization is simply a club to be used in a final effort to force the allies to persuade Serbia and Greece to cede her Macedonia. Officials said it did not indicate that Bulgaria was about to join the Teutons.

Bulgarian vessels plying the Black sea, are running into their home ports. Meantime mobilization is proceeding as rapidly as possible, according to Athens, disposing of a report that the order had been withdrawn. Greek reservists in Italy are preparing to embark for home following orders recalling them to the colors.

French Shells Work Havoc.

PARIS, Sept. 27.—French shells in an artillery battle along the western front are smashing German works into debris. The Tenthon works about Arras were badly damaged, communique reported, while in Champagne, that the Argonne regions trenches, blockhouses, encampments were wrecked during the past twenty four hours. Another enormous artillery battle occurred about Royes and Quenivieres. There the Teutons hurled appalling shells without result against the French who were protected by respirators. Near Bret, occurred a strong German patrol made a daring attempt to storm the advanced French position, but were driven off with heavy casualties.

Turkish Transport Sunk.

PARIS, Sept. 26.—A Turkish transport was torpedoed and sunk in Naxos Bay by an allied aviator, it is officially announced. English submarines sank two Turkish transports in Ak-Bachi Bay under great difficulties.

PARIS, Sept. 27.—The infantry battling in the Dardanelles region, has undergone a lull for a few days, the official statement added: "Turkish artillery is capricious," said announcement. "Sometimes they seem to lack ammunition. At other times they fire with maximum rapidity though with little damage. The Turks are most inactive, while the allies are just the reverse."

Marshall Cries "Soft Pedal."

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27.—"We don't want to be attending vaudeville while church is going on," With this epigram, Vice-President Marshall in an exclusive interview with the United Press, urged congress and the people of the nation to put the "soft pedal" on politics while foreign relations are critical. In this connection, he opposed the proposed extra session of the senate.

"I have been in more than three-fourths of the states since congress adjourned," he said. "Everywhere the rank and file of the citizens are not discussing the old fashioned politics. They are interested in the war and in the efforts of the president to keep peace with honor."

Heirlooms Given Wilson.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27.—Mrs. Walter R. Stauffer, of New Orleans granddaughter of President Zachary Taylor, presented to President Wilson for the white house collection, several heirlooms belonging to her ancestors. They included a pair of silver candlesticks, a cut glass recanter and several wine glasses used by President Taylor in the white house, a brooch containing a lock of his hair, a silver spur and the handle of a walking stick given him during the Mexican war.

Clam Packing Goes On.

HOQUIAM, Wash., Sept. 27.—Grays Harbor's razor clam-packing industry has been little affected by the strike of the clam-diggers on the north beach, and all of the nine plants in this district are running. Six of the canneries are running full time and the other three, the only ones to feel the effects of the strike, are running part time.

A difference over the price to be paid for clams caused the strike. Last year the packers paid $1.75 a hundred pounds. This year, at the opening of the season, they announced the price would be cut to $1.50, and diggers on the north beach immediately made a demand for $2 a hundred pounds.

DODGE BROTHERS ROADSTER

A roadster designed to be all that a roadster should be. A car capable of carrying two people in continuous comfort. You can see better than we can tell, how beautiful it is. Modeled in clay, when it was first conceived, it was re-modeled, again and again, till the last harsh line was eliminated. The body is built of steel, with the usual useless framework entirely eliminated. As a result there is extraordinary storage space at the rear—more than sufficient for all the luggage two might take on a long tour. A light car, with all the advantages which that lightness adds to the powerful motor—but a stout, staunch, strong car, and a steady one as well.
