HOOKEE SENT FROM HERE.

at the fugitive. It was while going over a barbed wire fence that the officer lost him.

Manning's pants caught on the fence and held him securely. Finally by a hard wrench, he pulled himself loose, tearing his trousers nearly off himself. He lost sight of his quarry during this time and could not get further trace of him. On the same night Hooker is supposed to have tried to burglarize the store of John Milne on West Court street.

The police turned Hooker, who gave his name as Tom Murphy, over to Sheriff Taylor. He consented to plead guilty to an attempt to commit burglary and on October 11, 1914, was sentenced to the penitentiary. He was taken below on November 6, and began his sentence.

Hooker's home is in Wichita, Kansas, but he at one time served a term in the Whittier reform school of California. He was about 21 years old, is about six feet tall, light haired and well built. While here he dressed like a huckaroo, wearing a green sweater and high-topped boots.

MRS. HUGHES ON TRIAL.

she hoped to break up the alleged relations between the two, her attorney said, and to win him back for her. She went out through the timber road alone. Col. Bailey said, searched the house for the desired evidence, started back toward Meacham, carrying a lamp and later throwing the lamp away. Then, remembering that she had left her veil at the house, she went back, he said, and struck matches to find it. Probably one of these matches fell in some trash and started the fire her attorney said.

Prosecuting Attorney Steiner first put upon the stand Mrs. Hiram Schrecklebe who lives on the Straits place near Sitacham. Her principal testimony was to the effect that the defendant visited at her home for four days last spring after Mr. Hughes had been granted a divorce and told her and her husband that she was going to Hughes' place to search for some papers her possession of which would prevent him from getting a deed to the property, and that if she failed to find them, she would turn the house. "I told her she had better not," the witness said, "that she would go to the penitentiary. She said she didn't care but she would keep Ira from having a home if she couldn't have one."

Hughes himself, took the stand at 11:50 and told of the troubles which led up to his securing the divorce. His wife was a woman of violent temper, he said, and subjected him to much unpleasantness. After he had filed the suit for divorce, he said, she had repeatedly tried to coax him back to her, and, even after he had secured the divorce, maintained the same attitude toward him. This attitude changed last August, he said, and was indicated by three letters he had received from her while he was working in harvest. In the letters she accused him of being intimate with other women and in one told him that her love had turned to hate, he testified.

On cross examination, the defense tried to establish that the reason of their quarrels had been his association with Mrs. Keith. He denied this however.

The defendant, who is a handsome woman and well dressed, is extremely nervous as she sits in the court room and exhibits a good deal of emotion. At times she is very tearful.

ALLAN DRUMHELLER WINS FIRST RACE AT SALEM

SALEM, Ore., Sept. 25.—Allen Drumheller of Walla Walla won first place in the great western relay race, a feature of the state fair racing program here yesterday.

The race is 12 miles, two miles to be run each day with saddles changed every half mile. Drumheller's time for the first two miles was 4:07, Ed Armstrong was second, time 4:07 1/2, and Darrell Cannon, third, time 4:35.

The Allmans are half-civilized mountaineers, and live in perpetual anarchy, every village being at war with its neighbor, even the several quarters of the same town carrying on mutual hostilities. Many of them serve as mercenaries in other countries, and they form the best soldiers of the Turkish army.

PRISON WARDEN KILLED.

Hooker escaped from the prison work gang yesterday near the prison. He was serving time for burglary, having been sentenced from Umatilla county a year ago. He had been a quiet prisoner and was not considered desperate.

The gun with which he killed Min-tonne convict had been taken from Marsal Benson at Jefferson, he having shot the officer with the gun while they were scuffling.

At last reports a posse led by Sam Burkhardt, one of the penitentiary guards was close behind the convict. It is now believed doubtful if the man will be taken alive.

Feeling ran high here when word was received of the killing and men were heard to declare that should officers bring him in they would have difficulty in taking him from the hands of a mob.

Marshal Benson Shot.

SALEM, Ore., Sept. 28.—City Marshal J. J. Benson of Jefferson, who was shot about 10 o'clock last night by Otto Hooker, a convict who escaped from the Oregon penitentiary, is in a serious condition and may die.

Hooker suddenly appeared in Jefferson about an hour before Superintendent Harry Min-tonne of the penitentiary had been there searching for him. The marshal recognized him by the description given and attempted to arrest Hooker. The convict grabbed Benson's gun and shot him while the two were scuffling.

Hooker made his escape and started toward Albany.

Family of American Consul.

Miss Frances Coffey, Mrs. A. B. Cooke, and her three children, Mary, Louise and Earle.

Mrs. Cooke and her three children appeared in answer to the wireless call. Since there was fire in two separate holds, the officials of the line are satisfied that it was simply one more case of German spies in America planting a bomb in the vessel. They thought she carried thousands of war to the British fleet by the Paritanelles.

Frank Loughrey.

Frank Loughrey who started for Australia as a lightweight and came back a middleweight, is now looking for a match with Al McCoy, so-called champion. While in Australia Loughrey met Les Darcy in the ring and remained with the renowned Les for twenty rounds, which is longer than our own McGourty lasted.

"Darcy is a great fighter," said Loughrey. "He reminds me a lot of Stanley Ketchel in his shift. He brings in one of the most powerful lefts to the ribs I ever saw, when he makes it. Believe me, there is some force to that punch. He has broken the ribs of many a fighter with it."

A salmon which had been recently caught, marked and returned to the water at Kinradswal, north of Broro, Sutherlandshire, was caught again fifteen days afterward on the Aberdeenshire coast. The minimum distance covered by the fish was 140 miles, and it had lost one pound and a half in weight.
