This Wonderful Vessel Has Made History

through three centuries. She marked the beginning and the end of England's monstrous penal system.

She is the oldest ship in the world and the only convict ship left afloat out of that dreadful Fleet of Hells which sailed the Seven Seas in 1790 A. D.

She is unchanged after all these years, nothing being omitted but her human freight and their sufferings from the cruelties and barbarities practiced upon them.

Aboard her are shown, in their original state, the airless dungeons, death chambers and condemned whipping posts, the manacles, the branding irons, the punishment balls, the leaden-tipped cat-o-nine tails, the coffin bath and the other fiendish inventions of man's brutality to his fellow man.

She has held lurid horror and dreadful inquiries beside which even the terrible stories of the Black Hole of Calcutta and the Spanish Inquisition pale into insignificance.

From keel to topmast she cries aloud the greatest lesson the world has ever known in the history of human progress.

The "Success" was built in 1790 A. D., at Moulmain Burmah of solid teakwood logs 33 inches thick and used for some years as an armed East Indian merchantman. In 1802 she was chartered and used by the British government for transporting convicts to the colonies. From 1851 she was used by the government as a floating prison anchored in Hobson's Bay, Australia.

She was subsequently sunk in Sydney Harbor and after being under water about five years was raised and has been used for exhibition purposes. In 1913 she sailed unaccompanied by convoy from England to America, taking 96 days to do the journey.

Prices 10 and 20 cents. Come early. This feature will pack the theatre.

- The Belgians admitted that the forces defending Antwerp had fallen back to the River Netha.
- Petrograd news dispatches said that the Germans had evacuated Russian Poland and that whole regiments had been drowned in the River Nieman. The czar had left for the front.

EASTERN BUYERS SEEK WHEAT IN NORTHWEST

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 2.—Export interests were greatly excited when it was learned on good authority that eastern buyers are purchasing large quantities of wheat in the northwest. Exporters have a large number of high priced ship charters on hand and fear if a distinct rise should occur in the price of wheat the vessel owners would absorb most of the profit. Although the wheat crop in the east is the greatest in history, it was said to be lacking in quality. This is reported to have necessitated the presence of eastern buyers in northwestern markets, where the quality is of the finest.

National Shoot Is Opened Today.

Several improvements have been made in the method of scoring and unusual marksmanship is expected. The meet will last three weeks.
