By Richard Harding Davis,

Featuring

CLIFTON CRAWFORD

Supported by Metville Stewart, Fania Marinoff, Rhye Alexander and Sam Ryan.

THE STORY

The story deals with a divorced war-correspondent who divides his time between dodging alimony-hunting wives and various creditors. As a means of relief from his financial troubles he makes love to a brewer's widow, proposes, and is accepted. War breaks out between Turkey and Greece and he seizes the opportunity to dodge his troubles and a fiancée who does not appeal to him to go out as a war-correspondent to Greece. It happens that a young American millionaire at the same time is sailing for Africa to hunt big game. On the same steamer are two charming girls who are going to the front as Red Cross nurses. One of them turns out to be the war-correspondent's last wife; the millionaire immediately falls in love with the other. Arriving in Greece the war-correspondent finds dodging his former wife too strenuous and resigns his position. The millionaire offers to take his name and act as correspondent for him. From then on there are all sorts of comical misunderstandings and situations. Scene after scene is a riot of laughter up to the very end where misunderstandings are cleared up, the millionaire is accepted by the Red Cross nurse, and the war-correspondent reunited with his former wife. Despite the fact that "THE GALLOPER" is primarily a comedy, there is plenty of drama and much thrill to it. It is the first Gold Rooster Play, and sets a high standard for those to follow.

THE NEW ADVENTURES OF

J. RUFUS WALLINGFORD

By George Randolph Chester.

Featuring BURR McINTOSH, MAX FIGMAN, LOLITA ROBERTSON.

THE STORY

J. Rufus Wallingford and Blackie Daw, "con-men" extraordinary, through the pleadings of Violet and Fanny Warden, whose father was ruined by the Falls' clique, make an attack on the Falls' millions. J. Rufus, the spokesman of the team, invests money in a portable house invented by young Falls, son of the president of the O. Q. & T.

But for a long time no customers appear to take their products off their hands. Finally one does show up, a farmer—and with a big order if there were more improvements on the houses. Now, Wallingford has several inventions along these lines which he will sell for $125,000 and the Company is forced to take them.

However, as they are about to be shipped, "Onion" Jones comes on the scene with the alarming statement that if the entire output of the Company is not turned over to him, he will sue for infringement of patents. His request is complied with by J. Rufus Wallingford and his companions.

As the boys file out of the office after giving up their all to Mr. Jones, the farmer takes off his beard and is none other than Blackie Daw, "Onion" Jones proves to be a member of the firm of Wallingford and Co., and the two ladies, the maid and the farmer's wife, apparently, are the Warden girls.

Then, with due ceremony, the name of Falls is crossed off the list of prospective "soft ones," and they prepare to "land" another. This is done in the next episode. It is called "Three Rings and a Coat."

THE SHINING SOUL

- Ain't no shadders of the night
- With yer soul a-shinin' light,
- Ain't no sorrow of the day
- Where a soul sings on the way.
- Give life but a crust o' bread
- An' place to lay its head.
- In its winter or its spring
- It has still the soul to sing.

OUR HISTORIC POLICY—MODERATE PREPAREDNESS

THE proposition of bringing the naval forces of the country more nearly up to the standard of the present day and of adding to the strength of the army will be generally approved because it is a line of action in accord with prudence and common sense.

The plans of the administration, as outlined, will not be satisfactory to the militarists who think not less than a half billion additional money should be expended for this purpose. Neither will the move be supported by the extreme peace advocates who see no good whatever in armaments of any sort for this country.

Nevertheless the action will be wise and timely. It is taking ground midway between the two classes of extremists and that is the historic position of this nation. We have never been very zealous along military lines yet we have never relied entirely on the Golden Rule for protection. Had we done so there have been times when the country would have faced disaster.

A stronger navy and a better equipped army will not make a bully out of Uncle Sam and it will be a lifesaver if ever the time should arise when it is necessary for this country to settle issues with the sword. The fear that such improvements in our fighting arm will take us too far along the path of militarism is not well grounded. We have followed much this sort of policy for over 100 years and it has not worked badly.

IT IS A WHOLESOME SIGN

THERE are signs of decided interest in the city election despite the fact that event does not occur until early in December. Prospective and actual candidates for the council are being freely discussed and the respective merits of the two candidates for mayor are being investigated and weighed in the balance.

This is a wholesome sign. There was never a time when earnest attention to business on the part of the citizenship of Pendleton was more needed. Next year will be a trying time in Pendleton in some respects. There will be unusual need for clean and capable men in office. The keen interest in the coming campaign augurs well because it means people are striving to do their part toward bringing about the election of such officials.

IS IT STILL TRUE?

WHEN the Panama canal was opened for commerce over a year ago it was announced by grain buying interests in Portland that the canal would make practically no difference in the price of wheat for the reason that sailing ships would still be used around Cape Horn in order to avoid payment of tolls in the canal.

Is it still a fact that the canal is not a vital factor in the wheat price? If the opening of the canal meant nothing with reference to the wheat market is it not logical to suspect the closing of the canal because of the slide will have no bearing on northwest quotations?

WHERE THE FRENCH EXCEL

THERE are indications that the English are not as well prepared as the French in the matter of military aviation. The evidence is in the fact London has been repeatedly raided by Zeppelins whereas Paris has been almost exempt from serious attacks of that sort.

The answer to this is probably found in the recent news story telling of the great flotilla of air fighters in reserve near the French capital. One of the new French airships is a veritable dreadnaught of the air. It is a heavier than air machine, yet is large enough to carry a battery of cannon and a dozen men.

If England had sufficient air fighters of this class ready for defensive purposes the Zeppelins would not fare so well over London.

The problem of revenue for the federal government will be pressing as long as the war lasts because imports are largely cut off; but what is the difference, we make money exporting goods not by importing them.

Joseph W. Folk as an ambassador to Mexico sounds good; the oil magnates will not be using him as a tool in their operations.

At last that dream of a library building is taking very tangible form.

The White Ribbon special smashed a hand car at Nolin—next time the hand car will know better.

Sink German Destroyer. COPENHAGEN, Oct. 15.—Attacking a German cruiser and two destroyers at the south entrance of Oer Sound, a British submarine sank one destroyer, according to Swedish advices.

BAKER PARCEL POST SHIPMENTS HELD UP

BAKER, Ore., Oct. 14.—Postmaster John C. Foster yesterday announced that investigation by postoffice inspectors had resulted in proof that parcel post shipments for Baker to the interior have been held up. Seizure surrounds the investigation, and no details have been given, except that the investigation followed complaints of Baker wholesalers that goods were not reaching purchasers, and that shipments were held up at Prairie City, the terminal of the Sumpter Valley railroad, and at other interior points. Foster announced that the investigation will continue.

HOW TO CLEAR AWAY PIMPLES

Bathe your face for several minutes with resinol soap and hot water, then apply a little resinol ointment very gently. Let this stay on ten minutes, and wash off with resinol soap and more hot water, finishing with a dash of cold water to close the pores. Do this once or twice a day, and you will be astonished to find how quickly the healing resinol medication soothes and cleanses the pores, removes pimples and blackheads, and leaves the complexion clear and velvety. Resinol ointment and resinol soap stop itching instantly and speedily heal skin humors, sores, burns, wounds and chafing. Sold by all druggists.

SOAP FOR BABY'S TENDER SKIN

The regular use of resinol soap is usually enough to prevent those distressing rashes and chafings to which most babies are subject. This is so, first, because resinol soap is absolutely pure and free from harsh alkali, and second, because it contains the resinol medication, on which so many physicians rely for skin troubles.

DODGE BROTHERS ROADSTER

A roadster designed to be all that a roadster should be.

A car capable of carrying two people in continuous comfort.

You can see better than we can tell, how beautiful it is.

Modeled in clay, when it was first conceived, it was re-modeled, again and again, till the last harsh line was eliminated.

The body is built of steel, with the usual useless framework entirely eliminated.

As a result there is extraordinary storage space at the rear—more than sufficient for all the luggage two might take on a long tour.

A light car, with all the advantages which that lightness adds to the powerful motor—but a stout, staunch, strong car, and a steady one as well.
