CARSON TO TAKE STUMP AGAINST BRITON CABINET

retired Minister Said to Think New Men Are Needed if Germans Are to be Defeated.

PREMIER ASQUITH IS ILL

Differences in Cabinet Said to Have Arisen Over Eastern Situation—General Told to "Report" On Campaign Against Dardanelles.

LONDON, Oct. 19.—"Can the Asquith cabinet last?" that was what England asked today. That there has been a difference in the body over many of the gravest problems of the war has been long known. But the resignation of Carson emphasized them so sharply many politicians expect the speedy fall of the cabinet.

LONDON, Oct. 19.—As a sequel to his resignation from the cabinet, Sir Edward Carson, it is believed, may take the stump actively against the cabinet. It is understood he considered the present conduct of the war wrong, that he holds there is need of a new administration to beat the Germans.

London believes there is even more serious discussion in the cabinet than Carson's quitting indicates. His move is attributed to a disagreement over the eastern situation. Simultaneously with the news of Carson's step came word that General Hamilton was returning from the Dardanelles operations to "report." Major General Monro will relieve him. The cabinet met at noon, presumably to take up in addition to war problems, the Carson case. Premier Asquith is ill, taking a few days' rest. Asquith's physician said he is suffering from gastro-intestinal catarrh.

FOES ENGAGE IN BLOODY RACE TO CONSTANTINOPLE

Serbian Strive Desperately to Hold Back Mackenzin Until Friends Arrive.

TEUTONS LOSE HEAVILY

Allies Landed at Enos May Be Intending Drive Against Sofia to Distract Bulgarians—Germans Make Gains at Riga and Dvinsk Region.

LONDON, Oct. 19.—The Serbian defenders are putting forth their last ounce of strength in an effort to delay the invaders on their way to Constantinople. Even aged men, women and children are reported as joining the fighting lines. The Serbians are being forced slowly to retire before Von Mackensen's army. The Serbians' losses are admittedly tremendous. Proportionally the invaders' losses are greater. From Strumitza it is expected the allies will threaten Sofia to distract the Bulgars from their westward advance toward the German lines.

Meantime the belief is growing that the allies reported as landing at Enos, intend to hammer through to the Ottoman capital. The railroad facilities for such a move are good. While Turkish resistance is anticipated, it is believed here it is weak from a scarcity of ammunition. The German concentration in Champagne and the Vosges suggested a fresh drive is contemplated to keep the Germans busy on the west front. The Germans reported important gains on the east front between Riga and Dvinsk. Elsewhere the Russians are still on the offensive.
