A Whirlwind Suggestion. To the Editor of the Bulldogger: I notice in a recent edition of your paper an announcement of a contest for a suitable slogan for your paper.

Very respectfully yours, ROY ALEXANDER.

The Chance of a Lifetime. We noticed in the E. O. recently a letter from an Indiana girl who said she wanted to marry a man out here.

O, You Mal de Mer. "Did you come up on the boat?" someone asked Fred Lamplin shortly after he returned from San Francisco.

COURT IN CONTEMPT TRYING SUNDAY CASE. PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 1.—District Judge Dayton, Deputy District Attorney Mowry and a jury of six prominent business men suddenly woke up to the fact that they were in contempt of the circuit court in proceeding with the trial of John Eastman on a charge of keeping his grocery store open on Sunday.

The situation had arisen through a misunderstanding of the contents of an injunction issued by Judge Gatens earlier in the day, restraining the further prosecution of arrests until the circuit court shall have disposed of the appeal of Dan Kellaher, convicted a few days ago and fined $15.

A jury had been selected after tedious examination and A. C. Roberts, the state's first witness, was on the stand when Judge Dayton was informed of the actual contents of the injunction of which he had previously heard but the wording of which he had not examined closely.

In addition of enjoining the further arrest or indictment of Mr. Kellaher it went on to say that neither he nor any attorney retained should be "further indicted" until the determination of his appeal.

There was a hurried conference with Judge Gatens, who held that the order covered the Eastman trial, and then Judge Dayton resumed the bench in his own court and dismissed the jury, making an elaborate explanation of how it had happened that all those engaged in the trial were in contempt of Judge Gatens' court, a superior tribunal.

Mr. Mowry added the explanation that Mr. Kellaher had not intended to interfere with the Eastman trial, in which statement Mr. Kellaher concurred and said that George Hall, attorney for Eastman, had reported that Judge Gatens had said it wouldn't interfere.

There can be no reason why any reader of this who suffers the tortures of an aching back, the annoyance of urinary disorders, the pains and dangers of kidney ills will fail to heed the words of a neighbor who has found relief. Read what a Pendleton citizen says:

Mrs. William McGregor, 711 Lillith street, Pendleton, says: "I was troubled more or less all my life by weakness of the kidneys. My hands and feet swelled and sometimes my whole body bloated. A steady pain in the small of my back and sides annoyed me and when doing my work, it was hard for me to straighten after stooping. When I did stoop, sharp twinges shot through my back and sides. Dizzy spells and headaches were common and I couldn't rest well. In the morning I felt all tired out. It would be hard to describe the misery I went through. I tried many remedies and spent a great deal of money for doctors' treatment, but got no relief. Finally, I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised and the first box helped me. Continued use cured the aches and pains in my back and regulated the action of my kidneys."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. McGregor had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

RANCH HAND BOASTS HE IS DESPERADO; ROBS HIS EMPLOYER

ONTARIO PRISONER SAYS HE IS HUGH WHITNEY—HIS CAREER IS SHORT.

Steals Horse and $100 from Farmer—His Capture Follows Shortly Afterwards and He Confesses Crime—Victim of Holdup Frees Himself and Gives the Alarm.

BAKER, Ore., Nov. 1.—Tying his employer hand and foot after robbing him of $100 and compelling him to saddle a horse, riding by horse and auto 26 miles to Baker, spending nearly three hours in this city, then riding 90 miles to Ontario, where he was captured and soon afterward confessed, was the 19-hour Sunday experience of a man who boasted he was Hugh Whitney the Idaho desperado.

The man was hired ten days ago by C. B. Adams, a McEwen bachelor farmer, and had worked for him quietly until Sunday morning. After washing the dishes at 8 o'clock he went to the barn, where Adams was working, poked a revolver into Adams' face and said: "Saddle that horse. I am Hugh Whitney, and I want to get out of here."

"I'm Hugh Whitney," he boasted. Adams complied, and the man marched him to the house, where he tied Adams' hands behind him, then put him on the bed and tied his feet. Then the man took $100 and rode 10 miles to Auburn, where he hired Alva Gardner, son of a rancher, to bring him 10 miles to Baker in an automobile.

They arrived here at 11 o'clock, the man alighting at Stoddard Bros. lumber mill at the edge of the city, and sending the youth back home. The robber then leisurely ate dinner at the busy Columbia restaurant, and boarded O. W. R. & N. passenger train No. 6 at 1:45 o'clock. As he bought no ticket it is believed he went blind baggage.

Victim Saws Self Free. Left alone, Adams finally rolled off of the bed, worked himself to an old saw in the room, got it between his legs and cut the rope binding his feet. He then walked two miles with his hands tied, to a ranch house, where his hands were freed and his story relayed at 4 o'clock to George Herbert, who immediately sent word all along the railroad.

Distress of the Stomach. There are many people who have a distress in the stomach after meals. It is due to indigestion and easily remedied by taking one of Chamberlain's Tablets after meals.

Opinion is Given in Tax Lien Cases. NO LONGER NECESSARY FOR DISTRICT ATTORNEY TO FORECLOSE, IS HELD.

In response to a request from District Attorney Frederick Steiwer of this county for an opinion, Attorney General Brown holds that it is no longer the official duty of district attorneys to prosecute foreclosures brought by holders of delinquent tax liens, except when the county holds the liens.

Under section 3597 of Lord's Oregon laws it was the duty of the district attorney to prosecute all actions brought by holders of certificates. The last legislature amended this so that now county clerks furnish certificates to holders of the necessary papers upon payment of $1 for each suit brought.

There can be no reason why any reader of this who suffers the tortures of an aching back, the annoyance of urinary disorders, the pains and dangers of kidney ills will fail to heed the words of a neighbor who has found relief. Read what a Pendleton citizen says:

Mrs. William McGregor, 711 Lillith street, Pendleton, says: "I was troubled more or less all my life by weakness of the kidneys. My hands and feet swelled and sometimes my whole body bloated. A steady pain in the small of my back and sides annoyed me and when doing my work, it was hard for me to straighten after stooping. When I did stoop, sharp twinges shot through my back and sides. Dizzy spells and headaches were common and I couldn't rest well. In the morning I felt all tired out. It would be hard to describe the misery I went through. I tried many remedies and spent a great deal of money for doctors' treatment, but got no relief. Finally, I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised and the first box helped me. Continued use cured the aches and pains in my back and regulated the action of my kidneys."
