NEWS OF PENDLETON

Has Typhoid Fever.
There is little likelihood that Enoch Friedley, star guard of the P. H. S. team, will be able to play any more football this fall. The illness which has kept him home for some time past has been pronounced typhoid fever by the physicians. They state it has been developing several weeks. Manual Friedley, father of the young man, states that his son contracted the disease while working on the farm.

No. 18 Delayed.
Westbound passenger No. 18 was delayed in the Pendleton yards early this morning for nearly an hour by the pulling out of a drawbar on one of the cars. Traffic west of Pendleton was held up also by the accident.

Cannot Sell Deer Heads.
It is unlawful to sell deer meat, deer hides, deer heads, deer horns or any other part of a deer, according to word received this morning by Game Warden Tonkin from the state department. Mr. Tonkin asked for an opinion in order to learn whether or not the sale of deer heads and antlers would be permitted under the law.

Cabin Found in Mountains.
While hunting in the mountains last week, William Drumheller, Orion Starr and Kirk Norton discovered a cabin on a ridge above Tiger canyon. The cabin was rotted and apparently deserted. The men accidentally stumbled over a trap door which led into a full basement where a complete "lay-out" of stoves, beds, furniture, foods, etc., were seen and the place seemed neatly arranged and well kept.—Walla Walla Union.

Alfred Smith Injured.
Alfred Smith of the J. E. Smith Livestock Co. has been nursing a broken leg since Sunday when he was hurt while working with some cattle on the Frank Byrd place near Pilot Rock. Mr. Smith had injured his leg last spring and when working in a corral Sunday was unable to jump out of the way quickly enough to avoid a cow that knocked him down. In falling he broke his leg between the ankle and knee.

Killed Two Bucks.
There are two bucks less on Mendow creek as the result of a trip to that section by a party of Indians recently. Those in the hunting party were Phillip Jones, Robinson Minthorn, Allen Padawa, Amos Pond, E. J. Conner, Paul Jones, Andrew Allen and Joseph Thomas. They made the trip horseback and celebrated the close of the deer hunting season by bringing down the above described game.

Examined Stanfield Sheep.
Dr. W. H. Lytle, state veterinarian, is in Pendleton today after having stopped at Stanfield to examine the sheep of Harry Bartholomew which have been dying. Mr. Bartholomew has lost about 100 head and thought them affected with some disease. An examination convinced Dr. Lytle that the mortality was caused by the animals foundering from too much dry food with too little water. The sheep had been on dry stubble at Lewiston and there was considerable grain in the stubble, shattered by hail. Dr. Lytle, who was former coach of the Pendleton football team is very much interested in the team this year.

"Buckaroo" to Exposition.
A Phimister Proctor's bronze "Buckaroo," which has been on exhibition here in the Frazier Book Store for the past few weeks, will probably go to San Francisco for exhibition at the exposition. Mrs. Proctor yesterday had the "Buckaroo" and other bronzes packed and shipped to Portland for exhibition in the Portland Art Museum. Last night a telegram was received by President J. V. Tallman of the Commercial association from W. L. Thompson, who is in San Francisco, requesting him to have the "Buckaroo" shipped to the exposition at once. Mrs. Proctor forwarded the request to her husband and thinks he will comply with it.

El, He Lied.
El Parr, a quarter blood Indian, and Charley Bennett, Jr., full blood, were arrested by the police yesterday for being drunk and on each was found a bottle of whiskey. The bottles were of the same size, of the same brand and came from the same store. Chief Manning promptly suspected that Parr purchased them, both and gave one to Bennett. This morning in police court, they told a strange tale of having secured the liquor from an unknown white man. Chief Manning produced a bartender in court who testified to having sold the liquor to Parr. Thereupon Judge Fitz Gerald told El that he believed he lied and would sentence him accordingly. He was given 20 days in jail and Bennett 10 days. Doc Ruddy, the bootlegger who stood trial yesterday, was convicted and was given a sentence of 140 or 20 days.

Unavoidable Accident, Says Jury.
The coroner's jury, which investigated the death of James Byrd Pettigrew yesterday afternoon, returned a verdict of "unavoidable accident," after examining Irvin Wilkes, his employer, Ray Garrison, who was on the wagon with him, Guy R. O'Melveny and Claude Oliver, eye witnesses, and Dr. R. E. Ringo, the physician called. The jury found that he came to his death by falling off a wagon loaded with dirt and weighing about 6000 pounds, the fatal injuries being caused by the wheels passing over his chest and by his head striking the iron rail of the railroad track or the wagon wheel. The body of the young man was this morning shipped to Seymour, Iowa, where his parents live. He had only recently written his parents that he would visit them soon after an absence of several years. The jury was composed of Frank O'Hara, H. E. Bickers, Marion Jack, Charles Hamilton, F. R. Curt and L. L. Mann.
