Announcements were received in Pendleton this morning of the marriage of Miss Bertha Millicent Anger and Rocky Burley, evening in Walla Walla on Thursday, Nov. 11, 1915, at 7:30 o'clock at the parochial residence, Rev. Father Van de Vyn, officiating. Only members of the families and a few close friends attended. Miss Genevieve Clark of this city was maid of honor, while Leone Anger, a brother of the bride, attended the bridegroom. The bride was attired in a traveling costume of field mouse gray and wore a corsage bouquet of yellow roses. A wedding supper was served immediately after the ceremony at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Alice Anger, 149 Newell street, and the young couple left on an automobile honeymoon tour. They will be at home on the Estes farm near Prescott after December first.

The bride formerly lived in Pendleton and was one of the most popular members of the younger set while here. Her husband, who is a prominent young farmer living near Walla Walla, also has a wide acquaintance in this city.

One of the prettiest and most enjoyable dancing parties ever given by the high school was that of last evening in the Moose hall in honor of the visiting football players from Baker high school. The hall was prettily decorated with Indian robes, ferns, palms and settees. A large number of students and townspeople were in attendance and victors and vanquished forgot their late hostilities in the pleasure of the dance.

Coming as the celebration of the successful conclusion of a membership contest, the Epworth League of the Methodist church had evening at 8:20 gave a sumptuous banquet, the older members being hosts and the new ones guests. There were about eighty gathered around the board to enjoy the good things.

Mrs. William J. Clark was a charming hostess yesterday afternoon at her home on Jackson street, to the ladies of the Luncheon Bridge Club and a number of other guests. A very dainty luncheon was followed by an afternoon at bridge at which Mrs. Charles A. Vargill won honors. Guests outside the membership were Mrs. Lana H. Scargis, Mrs. Charles L. Bonhoefer, Mrs. Charles Greulich, Mrs. William Dunn and Mrs. H. H. Hattery.

The reception to be given this evening in the Presbyterian church by the Supreme Chancellor Brig. S. Young of the Knights of Pythias and Mrs. Young promises to be a memorable event in local Pythian circles. Mr. Young, whose home is in Ada, Ohio, is one of the biggest men in the order and his visit here is the first that a supreme chancellor has ever made in Pendleton. The fact that he is making Pendleton one of the three cities in the state for a visit has brought many Pythians from eastern Oregon and Walla Walla here to greet him.

The members of the Friday Bridge Club and a few other ladies enjoyed the hospitality of Mrs. Charles A. Murphy yesterday afternoon, the occasion being the regular meeting of the club. Honors in the play were won by Mrs. William H. Metromach, Mrs. Murphy's guests other than members were Mrs. Earl Tulloch, Mrs. McKelvey and Mrs. C. O. Rinehart.

Miss Loretta O'Connell, one of the grade teachers, left yesterday noon for Portland to spend the weekend with friends.

An effort is being made to place whole meat on the market as a table food, whalers insisting that this flesh is equal to any eaten by man, but not used ashore because of leprosy.

In the old whaling methods all the meat was thrown away. In present methods it is used in the manufacture of fertilizer.

CORONATION EDICT IS READ BY THE EMPEROR

GIOTTO, Japan, Nov. 11.—Following the first coronation ceremony yesterday, in which the Emperor Yoshihito informed the spirit of his grand ancestors of his formal acquisition of the three sacred treasures, there came a second ceremony, belonging in a special way to the people, for it was dedicated to the purpose of announcing to them the accession of the mikado. The emperor actually mounted the throne and read an address to his subjects.

The function was held in the reconstructed Shishinden Hall, where the illustrious monarch, Mutsuhito, became emperor and which, owing for reconstruction in several directions, retained its ancient simplicity and beauty. Shishinden, which signifies "purple hall of mystery," faces south and is made of the sacred hinoki wood, with its roof thatched from the bark of the same tree.

The two main gates leading to the Shishinden were opened in early morning; the court poles set in a row. At the appointed time in the afternoon the police guard was replaced by troops. The high dignitaries and their wives who had attended the coronation Shinto services before the imperial sanctuary in the morning arrived in front of the two side gates of the Shishinden and ascended in a hall preliminary to entering the ceremonial pavilion.

The American ladies, as well as the other ladies of the diplomatic corps, for the most part wore the same court dresses with rain awnings during the morning. Mrs. Gifford, wife of the American ambassador, was an exception. She wore a gown of white liberty with a specially designed court train embroidered in green and star jasmine in gold running over a tressis of silver.

Neutrality Cases Over.
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 12.—Federal Judge Douglas dismissed all writs issued in the British neutrality cases and all charges against any of the men involved, thus clearing the calendar.

An appeal is pending by the two convicted men, Ralph K. Blair and Dr. Thomas Adde, who were fined $1000 each by Judge Douglas for recruiting British soldiers here.

Privy Council Meets.
LONDON, Nov. 12.—The privy council held a meeting at King George's bedside. The American proposition to resist British interference with neutral commerce is believed to have been discussed.
