

ALLIES ASK FOR STATEMENT UPON GREEK POSITION

Definite Attitude of Hellenic Nation Toward Balkan Affairs is Demanded by Ministers.

FRIENDLY ATTITUDE IS KEPT

Note to Grecian Premier is Couched in Terms Against Which No Opposition Can Develop—King Constantine Intimates That Favorable Reply Will Be Made.

ATHENS, Nov. 24.—Ministers of the allies have handed Premier Skoufopoulos of Greece an urgent request for a definition of Greece's attitude toward the allies in the Balkan operations. The request is couched in friendly terms. It specified no definite period for a reply, but emphasized the need for promptness. There is no request for Greece to participate in the war, but the note demanded assurances that the allies may cross Greece to attack the central allies and that in the event of a repulse of the allies into Greece, the latter will not attempt to disarm or intern them.

Whether a demobilization of the Grecian forces was asked was not announced. King Constantine intimated the terms make a favorable reply possible.

1 Bandit Meets Death in Raid on Frisco Cafe

PATROLMAN IS WOUNDED—RUNNING FIGHT ENSUES FOR SEVERAL BLOCKS.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 24.—Following a daring raid on the Claremont cafe at the outskirts of the town, in which Ed Schiff, one of the proprietors, and Tom Smith, a bartender were relieved of $200, a number of patrons were held at bay with revolvers, a running gun fight which lasted a score of blocks ensued. One of the bandits, James Ross was shot from the running board of an automobile, while Police Corporal Frederick Cook, in pursuing the car, was wounded in an exchange of shots. Ross later died at a hospital. Four highwaymen participated in the robbery. The highwaymen also robbed patrons of the cafe of about $500 and a quantity of jewelry.

Body of Man Is Found. ABERDEEN, Nov. 24.—The body of C. H. Shutt, president of the Grays Harbor logging company, who disappeared Thursday, was found in a log-book where he evidently fell.

Judge Fee Makes Answer to Story Criticising Him

The following statement relating to the Sturgis fund and the library controversy was submitted by Judge J. A. Ford.

Quote correctly, if you quote at all. It is good advice to the author of "Sturgis Will Save Income to be Spent," which was published in Monday's Tribune.

Paragraph 11 of the will reads: "I give and bequeath to James A. Fee and Edward D. Boyd, as trustees, the sum of $5000 in trust to be invested for them and the annual income derived therefrom to be used by them for the benefit of the library of the Commercial Association of the City of Pendleton, Oregon, but if from any cause said Commercial Association of the City of Pendleton shall cease to exist for a period of three years, then all of said $5000 shall revert to my estate and become the property of my wife, Anna H. Sturgis, in fee."

The author seems to think the language "The annual income derived therefrom shall be used by them for the benefit of the library" as embodied in that paragraph is equivalent to "The annual income derived therefrom shall be used annually for the benefit of the public library" by the Evening Tribune, or by those who furnish the inspiration for its attacks. I have no doubt such a construction would be appreciated by the Tribune.

It is probably like the democratic politician, who was informed a campaign fund of fifty thousand dollars had been received in Umatilla county to be spent by a local politician. The democrat whispered to his friend that he would like to get $25,000 of it.

Another Deformed Baby Case Before New York Doctors

PARENTS AND RELATIVES WANT CHILD TO DIE—OPPOSE OPERATION.

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—New York has a deformed baby case, paralleling in many respects that of baby Bollinger of Chicago whom parents and doctors allowed to die rather than permit an operation. The New York baby was born last night to Mrs. Joseph Roberts. It has club feet, distorted knees and paralyzed legs, while a spinal ailment is expected to prove fatal in the course of a few hours, according to Dr. Julius Goldsmith. Both the parents and the relatives of the child oppose an operation and want to allow nature to take its course as it did in the Bollinger case. On the other hand, Dr. Goldsmith, unlike Dr. Haiselden of Chicago, is desirous of operating. He has urged the parents to agree to such a course in an attempt to save the child. In this case the prospects are for physical, rather than mental or moral deficiency, should the child's life be spared.

The purpose of the institution is to provide a place where homeless men or men seeking companionship can find light, heat, baths, cheap meals, reading tables and other conveniences. A wholesome substitute for the saloon as a poor man's club is what some of those interested characterize it.

Wounded Germans. LONDON, Nov. 24.—Wounded, lame and deaf Germans have been readmitted for series at the front services received here from Amsterdam said.

Coffee House and Reading Room May be Opened in the City for the Winter Months

A move has been started in the city to open a coffee house and reading room here during the coming winter such as was conducted last winter by the Civic Club through the help of local citizens. The matter was presented yesterday afternoon to the W. C. T. U. by the ministers and will be taken up also with the Civic Club.

Brother and Sisters of Defective Child

Left to right, Gilbert, aged 4, Ida, aged 6, and Margaret, aged 2, the three perfectly normal children of Mrs. Anna Bollinger, whose defective infant Dr. H. J. Haiselden, of the German-American hospital in Chicago, left to die at the age of six days, because he was convinced it would grow up an imbecile and probably a criminal. His refusal, with the consent of the parents, to perform a simple operation which probably would have saved the life of the child, created much comment all over the country.

ITALIAN TROOPS ARE IN ALBANIA TO HELP SERBIA

Will Move at Once Across Mountains to Strike at Austro-German Flank in its Southern Drive.

MONTENEGRINS TO COOPERATE

Difficult Stretch of Country Over Mountain Passes Will Be Crossed by Italians in Order to Give Relief to Serbs Who Are Trying to Turn Invaders.

LONDON, Nov. 24.—Italian troops are now landing in Albania and will go directly to the aid of Serbia, according to Swiss advices. They plan to strike at the Austro-German flank and it is expected the Montenegrins will cooperate. To reach Serbia the Italians will have to cross a stretch of from 40 to 50 miles but this march is of extreme difficulty owing to the mountains and the absence of roads.

LONDON, Nov. 24.—With the Austrian capture of Mitrovitsa and the Bulgarian capture of Pristina officially reported, the central powers now are face to face with the Serbs' northern army. A final fight is evidently at hand. A 20 mile gap between the towns, at the end of the historically famous plain of Blackbird, are entrenched the indomitably courageous Serbians. Whether the invaders are in sufficient force to attack immediately is unknown, but it is believed a decisive battle will be delayed but a few hours. If the struggle continues long, the Serbs, it is believed, must inevitably be captured.

POLICE AT LOSS TO SOLVE CRIME OF GREEN TRUNK

No Progress is Made at Portland in Murder Mystery Which Has Thus Far Baffled Detectives.

MOTIVE BELIEVED ROBBERY

Money Belt of Victim Is Found—Search for Bartholomew Still Goes on But Man Has Completely Disappeared from Sight and No Clue to His Whereabouts Found.

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 24.—No progress was made today in the trunk murder mystery. The search for George Bartholomew, the alleged murderer, continues, but he has disappeared completely out of sight. The police still believe the murdered man's name was John Linn. There was never a more mystifying tragedy in Portland. The police had many clues but one by one an investigation dispelled them.

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 24.—Discovery of strong circumstantial proof that the motive for the crime was robbery, minimizing the possibility that the murdered man was Harry Rogers, and discrediting many rumored appearances of the murderer in the city since Friday night were local developments yesterday in the stark street trunk-murder mystery. A money belt, dyed with spots of blood, and with ends revealed, showing that it probably had been torn from the body of the murdered man, was found yesterday among the effects of the murdered man at the morgue, where it had been overlooked in previous investigations. It was damp and of cloth and had been mistaken for a strip of underclothing in

Bar View Hotel is Washed Into Sea by Immense Waves

SEVERAL SUMMER COTTAGES ALSO ARE GONE—DAMAGE FIXED AT $100,000.

BAR VIEW, Ore., Nov. 24.—Waves sweeping in from the sea before a high wind at low tide washed the Bar View Hotel, a number of summer cottages and other buildings along the waterfront out to the sea and old damage that some have estimated at $100,000.

No one was injured when the buildings were lifted from their foundations and washed out along the shore. The high waves were seen from the shore and cottagers and residents at the hotel fled to higher ground.

Telephone and telegraph lines are down in many places and the light plant has been dismantled by the water. The waves are still running high and other cottages are being undermined by the water, among them the $1500 log cabin belonging to Captain Farley.

The hotel was owned by D. A. Wise. Among other buildings damaged are the bakery, owned by Mrs. Tobias; the residence, bowling alley and billiard hall belonging to R. E. Jackson and several small buildings the loss of which will be slight. A large dance hall near the shore was not damaged.

Actor-Aviator Gets Cross

LONDON, Nov. 24.—Robert Lorraine, the actor-aviator, well known in America has received the military cross for gallantry for attacking a German Albatross at a distance of fifteen yards. Capt. Lorraine brought down the German Albatross after it had dived from 6,000 feet to escape his fire. The British aviator swooped down after his enemy until they were only 500 feet from the ground. He came within forty five feet of the German, whose pilot was wounded. Robert Lorraine joined the Royal Flying Corps as a second lieutenant. He was shot in the lung a year ago while flying at a height of 4,500 feet, but returned to the British lines with the shrapnel bullet which hit him caught in his clothes. A month later he returned to the front.

Churches of City Will Hold Special Services Tomorrow

ALL BUSINESS PRACTICALLY WILL BE SUSPENDED THANKSGIVING.

Having enjoyed a year of bountiful blessings and with another year of prosperity in the offing, Pendleton will tomorrow celebrate a real Thanksgiving Day.

Practically all business will be suspended for the day, the churches will hold special services, big dinners will be the order of the day, a football game will occupy attention in the afternoon and during the evening the dance halls and picture shows will be the scenes of holiday gatherings.

Special Thanksgiving Day programs will be given at local churches tomorrow in fitting observance of the occasion. The congregations of four churches, the Presbyterian, Christian, Methodist and Baptist, will join in a union service at the Presbyterian church commencing at 10 o'clock. Rev. H. H. Hubbel, pastor of the

Love's Young Dream Spoiled by Officers

RUNAWAY COUPLE FROM GARDENA ARE TAKEN IN CUSTODY IN CITY.

Love's young dream was followed by a rude awakening last evening when Deputy Sheriff J. A. Blakely took into custody Charles Watson and Ruth Maxfield, a runaway couple from Gardena, Wn. Today Deputy Sheriff C. E. Anderson of Walla Walla, accompanied by the fathers of the couple, arrived and escorted them back to their homes.

Deputy Sheriff Blakely noticed them last evening as they were returning on the train from Milton. A traveling man, who had been in Milton during the day, had become suspicious of them and directed the attention of the officer to them on the train. On arriving in Pendleton he took them to the sheriff's office where they confessed to their elopement. The girl, who is under 14, stated that she and the young man, who is about 19, came to Pendleton Sunday night after attending church at Gardena. Monday they went to Milton, according to their story, and the young man went on to Walla Walla where he arranged with a friend in Touchet to send him some money to Pendleton. They were returning here to wait for the money and expected to go on to Portland to get married.

Communication with the officers at Walla Walla brought the information that warrants were out for them and their return home this morning resulted.

HOUSE OF LORDS REEDS A CENSOR DECLARES DERBY

Man at Head of Recruiting in England Flays Members Who Criticise Policy of the Government.

IN SAME GLASS AS SPIES

Defense is Made of Sir John French's Staff at the Front—Threat is Made of Conscription Unless Enlistments Become More Frequent Than in the Past.

LONDON, Nov. 24.—Announcing that he could give the lie direct to Lord St. David, and intimating that Lord Ribblesdale should be classed as a spy, or a traitor, Lord Derby, in charge of recruiting, advocated a censorship of the house of lords and hinted at conscription. Derby's utterances were made during a recruiting speech.

"I can give the direct lie to Lord St. David," he thundered, referring to the latter's recent arraignment of Sir John French's staff as incompetent, his complaint that women were present at headquarters and that officers failed to be up early mornings because of being tired from bridge playing the previous night.

"I am in a position to do so, for I visited the staff personally and frequently. No gentleman would have said what St. David said and no gentleman will believe him." Then he turned his attack on Ribblesdale for the latter's recent criticism of the government's war policies.

"A man who gives the enemy information, goes by an ugly name," he said significantly, "and this applies as much to a man giving information to the enemy through a speech in the house of lords."

Aprons of Ribblesdale's and St. David's speeches, he suggested a censorship of the house of lords. The conscription threat came in an announcement that there must be a big increase in enlistments in the next three weeks if this strong measure is to be avoided.

EARLY DAYS IN THIS COUNTY ARE RECALLED BY PIONEERS

The early days of Umatilla county were last evening recalled in a most interesting way by people who have first hand information of those times, it was the occasion of the annual meeting of the Umatilla County Historical Society in the Commercial club rooms and there was a big attendance to enjoy the occasion.

After a program of papers and short talks, a social session was enjoyed, all songs were sung, refreshments served and conversation enjoyed. During the program J. M. Ashworth of Weston played some of the old familiar tunes on his fiddle and they were received enthusiastically. A male quartet of this city also contributed several pleasing selections. Mrs. G. W. Phelps and Mrs. W. C. E. Pratt also contributed selections.

The program was opened by reminiscences by Mrs. Nancy E. Despain of this city and they were told in a most entertaining way. Mrs. W. B. May's in a brief paper recalled the early days of pioneer Weston and vicinity. A. W. Nye was unable to be present but a paper by him on "Little Happenings" of early times was read as was a letter from Mrs. Clough, daughter of A. B. Meacham, by the president, A. C. Hampton.

W. M. Blakely, who was one of the first men in the county to turn to wheat raising, and Henry J. Taylor, another retired farmer, spoke most interestingly of the beginning in making this the greatest wheat country of the state, and a paper by C. A. Barrett of Athena on the same subject was read. Judge Lowell read a paper from O. D. Teel of Echo on the subject of early raising of alfalfa.

"The Beginning of Umatilla," written by ex-Governor Moody and published several months ago in this paper, was read during the evening. Mrs. A. L. Schaeffer, whose father, Major Lee Moorhouse, was one of the early day Indian agents, told of the agency school when she was a girl and the last paper of the evening, "Stage Coach Driving in Early Days," by Dave Horn, was one of the most interesting.

Tomorrow afternoon the Pendleton high school football eleven will give battle to Jefferson high of Portland in the last interscholastic game of the season. This is the first time in eight years that a Portland team invades Pendleton and the local boys hope to duplicate the defeat administered to Portland eight years ago when they beat them 14 to 0. Some of the boys will see their last game of football and intent making their

SUPPLIES GIVEN SEA RAIDERS BY CHARTERED SHIP

Vessel Flew the American Flag While Transferring Goods to German Commerce Destroyers.

CAPTAIN RELATES INCIDENT

Pilot Said to Have Been Fostered by German Naval Attache in Being Untraveled by Government—Hamburg-American Officials Are Involved in the Conspiracy.

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—Weaving a net of evidence about the operations of Naval Attache Boyed of the German embassy, and Hamburg-American line officials, the government put on the stand today Captain Fritz Falkenberg, an alleged aide in the plot to supply German commerce raiders. Falkenberg testified that Hamburg-American officials chartered his steamer, Berwind, in August, 1914, for an unknown destination, directed by the defendant, Adolph Poppinghuse. Ostensibly the vessel cleared for Buenos Ayres. On August 25 the Berwind sighted the raiders Cape Trafalgar, Santa Lucia, Allos Weermer and Lorenza off Trinidad.

"We transferred our supplies to them," said Falkenberg, "when the British cruiser Carmenla hove in sight the German ships scattered. After a running fight for two hours the Trafalgar sank."

The British did not attack the Berwind for she flew the American flag.

BRITAIN PLANS TO SEIZE TRANS-ATLANTIC VESSELS

ALLEGED THAT GERMANS WILL BE THEY ARE OWNED BY GERMANS.

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—Great Britain plans to seize all of the 11 American Trans-Atlantic Company's steamers on the ground they are German owned, President Richard Wagner declared. The British have seized the Kanakee, coal laden from Norfolk to Buenos Aires, the third to thus be taken in custody. Another vessel lies at Buenos Aires in fear of the same fate. Wagner intends to protest to the state department against what he regards as high-handed methods on Britain's part.

Pendleton and Jefferson to Clash on Gridiron Tomorrow

Tomorrow afternoon the Pendleton high school football eleven will give battle to Jefferson high of Portland in the last interscholastic game of the season. This is the first time in eight years that a Portland team invades Pendleton and the local boys hope to duplicate the defeat administered to Portland eight years ago when they beat them 14 to 0. Some of the boys will see their last game of football and intent making their exit a memorable one. The game is to be called at 3 o'clock.

The last football rally of the year will be held tonight for the game tomorrow. The rally has been placed in charge of Myers and Walker, the two boys who made such a success with the first rally held this year.

A large bonfire will be held on the hill at 7 o'clock, after which there will be a parade through the main streets of the town. Everybody is asked to be present. "The more the merrier."
