IMPORTS, EXPORTS, AND TRADE BALANCE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—A total trade of a half billion dollars in the month and of five billion dollars in the year, with exports comprising two thirds of the whole, is the unparalleled record of American commerce in November and the twelve months ending with November. Figures made public by the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce, department of commerce, show that November imports were valued at $164,313,169, as against $128,467,062 in November, 1914, and that they exceeded by $11,000,000 the former November record made in 1912. Twelve months' imports to November 30, 1915, aggregated $1,730,248,229, as compared with $1,358,645,027 in the preceding year.

November exports broke all prior records. Last month's total was $221,144,527, as against $228,020,241 in October, 1915, also a record. One year ago November exports aggregated $208,878,333 and in 1912, the former record, $278,244,191. Twelve months' exports rose to the new level of $3,437,292,573, as against $2,191,120 a year earlier, and $2,591,135,471 two years ago.

The export balance for November was $166,825,358, as compared with $179,411,271 for November, 1914; and for the twelve months ending with November last, $1,707,048,304, as against $242,542,082 one year ago and $728,472,118 two years ago.

Duty-free imports comprised 65.3 per cent of the November imports, compared with 62.1 per cent for November, 1914.

Gold imports during November, 1915, amounted to $60,981,510, as against $7,391,729 in November, 1914. Twelve months' imports of gold aggregated $410,650,976, as compared with $58,352,035 in the preceding year. November exports of gold were valued at $2,641,358, as against $14,526,822 in November, 1914; while for twelve months ending with November the total was $19,667,337, as compared with $228,027,825 in the preceding year. Instead of a net outward gold movement of $174,705,798 as in the twelve months ending with November, 1914, the year just ended shows a net inward gold movement of $290,983,429.

WHAT THE PENDLETON PICTURE THEATRES HAVE TO TELL YOU ABOUT PRESENT AND COMING PHOTO PLAYS

The Alta Theater.
Marjorie Daw, the famous 14-year-old protegee of Geraldine Farrar, the grand opera prima donna, will be seen as Nora O'Brien in the Jesse L. Lasky production of James Forbes' famous comedy, "The Chorus Lady," which will be shown for the last time today at the Alta. Little Miss Daw will be remembered for the instantaneous hit she made in the support of Charlotte Walker in "out of Darkness," after which she was promptly selected to play the part of Nora, the headstrong, willful, younger sister of Patricia O'Brien, "The Chorus Lady."

In addition to the above feature, two big vaudeville acts are offered. The merry mystifiers, Johnson and Arthur, presenting wonderful illusions skilful hand manipulations, marvelous changes all interspersed with good eccentric comedy. Also Fred Crouch, the dancing harmonist, in refined high class entertainment.

Tomorrow and Wednesday, "Beating Back," the most famous of the Saturday Evening Post's human document stories.

One of the latest film dramas of human interest to be offered to the public is "Beating Back" or the life story of Al Jennings, who has been at different times in his life cowboy, lawyer, bandit, life terner, lawyer, politician, evangelist, etc., and recently made a strong run for governor of the state of Oklahoma.

At one time the most feared man among the tougher element of gun men and bandits of Indian Territory, he is today one of Oklahoma's leading citizens.

Al Jennings has kept faith with the broad-minded men who gave him his liberty and a chance to make good.

With the cooperation of Will Irwin and the Thanhouser Film Corporation, Mr. Jennings consented to appear personally in the leading role of "Beating Back" with one sole aim in view—believing that his life story in film would be a moral lesson to a warning to coming generations, showing the fallacy of wrong-doing, and the reward for clean living and clean dealing with our fellow men.

"Beating Back" complete in six parts will be shown at the Alta theater tomorrow and Wednesday.

A 10c Production.
That "Avengeing Conscience," the D. W. Griffith wonder picture which comes to the Temple next Sunday and Monday, is the most costly photoplay which has ever been seen in Pendleton, is declared by Managers Downey and Rhodes.

"Avengeing Conscience" is declared by Mr. Griffith to be a greater picture than "The Birth of a Nation." Mr. Griffith says: "It is my supreme achievement and is two years ahead of the art of motion picture photography."

Not only is there in the cast of "Avengeing Conscience" every star appearing in "The Birth of a Nation," but Miss Blanche Sweet will be seen in addition.

This remarkable photo play is a picturization of Edgar Allan Poe's books and poems, particularly "The Telltale Heart" and "Anabel Lee."

Not only did "Avengeing Conscience" break attendance records at the Helix theater, Portland, where it ran a full week, but at the Melbourne Theater, Seattle, where larger crowds saw it than witnessed "The Birth of a Nation." At the Strand Theater, New York, it ran for weeks, at prices ranging from $2 down. Baltimore paid $1.50 to see it, Chicago and many other eastern cities the same sum.

The state rights are owned by Orton E. Goodwin and Sol Baum, who are asserted to have paid a tremendous price for the picture.

The cast of stars includes: Henry B. Walthall, Blanche Sweet, Mae Marsh, Ralph Lewis, Robert Barron, Josephine Crowell, George Sleeman and Spottiswoode Aitken.

"CHALLENGE OF COURAGE" REAL PICTURE TREASURY

Great crowds throng Pastime Theater yesterday.

Today will be your last chance to see the peer of all motion pictures "The Challenge of Courage," by Rev. Cyrus Townsend Brady in six parts and presented at the Pastime theater. All day long yesterday great crowds taxed this popular playhouse to capacity and many times during the afternoon and evening admittance had to be denied those eager to view this wonderful production. The picture in itself is a revelation of the modern motion picture directors' art. Possibly the most striking scene is the one where woman and horse fall hundreds of feet from the narrow trail to the bottom of the canyon, below and the most dramatic instance is where the wife begs her husband to shoot her rather than leave her lay in misery with every bone in her body broken. The picture took a whole year to make. The scenes we see clothed in summer garb we also see in winter raiment. Through the six reels the plot holds your close attention and it was so interesting that many stayed to see it twice.
