The condition of Mayor J. A. Best is reported to be improved today. He is still suffering a good deal, however, from his injured right eye.

Moves to Adams Farm.

Duncan McDonald, who has been farming near Pendleton recently, has moved back on to his old farm near Adams.

Small Refund from Fair.

The Commercial association has received a refund of $10.50 from the eastern Oregon organization which maintained an exhibit at the Panama-Pacific exposition.

Suffering From Rheumatism.

G. W. Goodman, cutting at the Oregon Market, has been confined to his home for the past week with rheumatism. He sustained a sprained ankle on New Year's day and rheumatism later developed.

Gets Good Bag.

Pat McDevitt returned yesterday evening from duck hunting at Umatilla and brought in a good bag of game. Hunting is said to be excellent at this time of the season and other parties returning report good luck.

Selecting New Jury List.

The county court this morning began selecting the new jury list from which will be selected the panels drawn for the various 1916 terms of the circuit court. The list will contain between 200 and 300 names.

Would Learn of Local "Nat."

Secretary Cranston of the Commercial association this morning received from LeRoy W. Allison of New Jersey a request for pictures and information about the Pendleton natatorium. The letter states that the writer desires to contribute an article to an engineering magazine on the local swimming pool.

Judges Can't Be Sold.

Because there are a number of liquor advertisements in the current issue of Judge, the Frazier Book Store this morning decided not to put the popular humorous magazine on sale this week. To cut out the pages containing the liquor "ads" would spoil some of the reading matter. The new prohibition law prohibits the sale of magazines containing liquor advertisements. Life gets around this by setting out a dry state number and other magazines so arrange their liquor "ads" so that dealers may cut them out without injuring the publication. One of the magazines which contains many of the prohibited advertisements is the Vogue.

Alleges Wife is a Fury.

Charging that his wife of little more than six months has a vicious temper which finds expression in violent assaults upon him, William P. Hansen yesterday afternoon filed suit for divorce against his wife, Lottie Ross Hansen. They were married June 1, 1915. The attack, which led to the filing of the suit, is alleged to have been made on Jan. 5 of this year. Plaintiff charges that his wife threw at him a ketchup bottle, a stove-lifter, a chair, a statue head and various and sundry other articles, some of which he dodged but others of which found their mark to his consequent pain and suffering. He also accuses his wife of infamy with other men during his necessary absence from the city. W. M. Peterson is his attorney.

Easier for Candidates.

Hereafter candidates for party nominations for state and county offices will not be required to circulate petitions until they get a certain percentage of the voting population. All that will be necessary, under Chapter 124 of the Oregon laws of 1915, will be to file with the county clerk a declaration of candidacy accompanied by the proper fees, or, if the office sought be a state office, with the secretary of state. The new law recognizes that any person of any party can secure sufficient signatures to make him a candidate for a nomination, by eliminating the necessity of nominating petitions, reduces the expense and trouble of getting your name upon the ballot.

County Registrars Named.

Registration of electors in Umatilla county, which began yesterday, will be conducted in all of the precincts.

Attention U and I Club.

The next U and I Club dance will be given Saturday evening, January 8, at Eagle-Woodman hall.

Hal Merryman, who has conducted dancing classes in Pendleton the past two winters, has returned to Pendleton and will give private lessons for a time. He spent the summer assisting for the government in the heart of the Cascades. He plans to remain in Pendleton until the first of April.

Husband Wants Divorce.

Alleging that his wife, Florence Rose, deserted him while they were living in Boston and has refused since to live with him, Gilbert S. Murray this afternoon filed suit for divorce. He asks that the defendant be given custody of the minor child, promising to pay $15 per month for her support. The couple were married in Boston in April, 1907. W. M. Peterson is plaintiff's attorney.

He Didn't Get His Whiskey.

Some friend in another state sent a prominent local merchant a case of Scotch whiskey for a Christmas gift but through delay in shipment and transportation it did not reach the local express office until Jan. 1. Having in mind the provisions of the dry law, the agent refused to deliver the case and it was accordingly shipped back to the sender. Therefore the local merchant is unhappy for while he doesn't care for Scotch, he has a friend or two who does.

To See Flag Presentation.

The Pendleton school children have been invited to be present at the ceremonies attending the presentation of an American flag to the circuit court on naturalization day, tomorrow. The ceremonies will be held in the afternoon, beginning at 2 o'clock. The flag is being presented to the court by the Oregon Society of the Sons of the Revolution for use in the naturalization ceremonies and Judge S. A. Lowell will make the speech of presentation. After it has been officially accepted by Circuit Judge Phelps, the alien seeking citizenship in this country will be examined by the court and Naturalization Officer H. B. Hazard. The pupils will be invited to remain to see just how a citizen is made. There are four applicants for final papers to come up tomorrow: David McKinnon Bell of Pendleton, George Clough Patterson of Hermiston, Demetrios Sarantos of Freewater and George Frederick Edmund of Pendleton.

Forty-seven were present and enjoyed the good program and a pleasant social hour. The special feature of the program was some scenes of East Indian home life showing the degeneration of womanhood, particularly in India. Those taking part were dressed in costume. The women of division No. 3 of the society furnished the program and entertainment.

A new dancing club made its advent in Pendleton society last evening at a delightfully informal party in the Eagle-Woodman hall. The club is composed of about twenty-five well known business men and their wives and was organized only last week. The club plans to have parties twice a month, the second party being set for Thursday evening, January twentieth. Informality was the keynote of the introductory meeting and the memory of the participants. Old-fashioned dances, the quadrille and Virginia reel alternated with the modern steps and everyone danced. The party began at 8 o'clock and the dancing quit at 11, being followed by a lunch. The new organization is to be called the Killikare Club.

An attractive recital will be given this evening at the Presbyterian church by Miss Zilla Simpson of the Malen Burnett School of Piano Playing, assisted by Miss Nellie Des Whiting of the faculty. It is Miss Simpson's graduating recital. She plays brilliantly and has an extremely difficult program. She will also sing a group of songs being possessed of a beautiful voice.
