Removing the Cause of Much Sickness

The advantage in taking Foley Cathartic Tablets is that in addition to carrying off the entire congested mass without griping or nausea, they thoroughly cleanse the walls of the intestines and keep them free of all clogging matter.

It is this clogging on the walls of the intestines that prevents their natural action and function, and is the direct cause of so much of the sickness and misery that makes constipation the curse of our present day. For it is constipation that is responsible for a large share of headaches, depressed feelings, and many other serious bodily ills.

W. A. McEae, an elderly gentleman living at Raleigh, Ga., writes: "Foley Cathartic Tablets are the only ones I have ever taken that cleanse my system thoroughly and do not gripe or hurt me at all. They are entirely satisfactory and wonderfully different and more pleasant than anything I have ever used."

VATICAN EXPECTED TO TAKE INTEREST IN WORLD AFFAIRS

MORE ATTENTION WILL BE PAID TO TEMPORAL EVENTS THAN EVER BEFORE.

Pope Benedict Was Trained in the Diplomatic and Political School of the Late Pope Leo—He Has Associates Who Will Work in Harmony With Him.

BY ALICE BOHE.
 (United Press Staff Correspondent.)
 ROME, Jan. 6.—(By Mail.)—The Vatican is to take more active interest in temporal diplomatic politics than it has evinced for many years. In the opinion of Vatican affairs observers whose opinions are respected.

In the recent elevation of six new cardinals to the royal purple of the Sacred College, Pope Benedict has given the first definite indication of what will be the future character and policy of his pontificate, say these men, who assert that they base their conclusion upon centuries of Vatican precedent.

The Sacred College consisting usually of from 60 to 70 members, has charge of the administration of the Catholic affairs throughout the world. The college is under the direction of the pope. The pontiff usually wants this body composed of cardinals in harmony with his ideas.

The Vatican world awaits with interest the first consistory that a new pontiff holds in order that it may judge, from the character of the first cardinals created by the new pope, what will be the general policy of his pontificate.

When a cardinal is elected pope he finds himself surrounded by a Sacred college chosen by his immediate predecessors. These cardinals may be out of harmony with what he wants to accomplish. It is seldom a prelate becomes a cardinal before he is fifty and as deaths in the college membership are not infrequent, the new pontiff gradually may change the character of the Sacred college by the elevation of new members. In the course of ten years a new pope ordinarily may have it he wished surrounded himself with a Sacred College, the majority of which is in harmony with his ideas. It is only then that a pope begins to give to his pontificate that character which is likely to be associated with his name in history.

In the recent creation by Pope Benedict of his first six cardinals the fact stood out most prominently was that four of them were chosen from the ranks of the Vatican diplomatic service. These were: Cardinal Toni, papal nuncio to Portugal; Cardinal Cagliero, papal nuncio to the Central American republics; Cardinal Frutkin, papal nuncio to Munich, and Cardinal Scapinelli, papal nuncio to Vienna.

Pope Benedict's reign therefore, according to Vatican students and tradition, is expected to mark a revival of the political side of the the church. This predicted outcome would be in harmony with Pope Benedict's training.

Pope Benedict, when he was Monsignor Della Chiesa, was trained in the diplomatic and political school of Pope Leo. When Cardinal Rampolla as secretary of state to Pope Leo, labored in harmony with the latter to straighten the vatican's diplomatic relations to all the leading courts of the world. Monsignor Della Chiesa was under secretary of state to Cardinal Rampolla. He also had held diplomatic posts at Paris and elsewhere.

The revival of this policy, Rome believes again is presaged in the elevation to the Sacred College of four veteran diplomats. It is confidently expected that this entire pontificate will be marked by this policy.

This is the time of the year when the stores begin showing the new cotton prints.

This year the displays will be especially interesting because of the presence of more "home-made" designs.

Imports have been largely curtailed and domestic manufacturers have filled the gap.
