NEWS OF PENDLETON

Son was Born.
A nine pound son was born on February 8 to Mr. and Mrs. V. A. Bott of Pilot Rock.

Dr. Kern to Resume Work.
Dr. M. S. Kern, who recently underwent an operation at St. Anthony's hospital, is able to be about on the streets now and expects to resume his dental practice Monday.

Mylin Sentenced to Pen.
Tom Mylin, formerly of this city, was yesterday sentenced to the penitentiary in the Baker circuit court on a charge of attempted robbery. His sentence is from six months to three and a half years.

To Go into Hide Business.
Alex Manning, former chief of police, will soon go into the business of buying and selling hides, pelts, furs, brass, copper and other such materials. He intends purchasing an auto, making it into a light truck and doing his own hauling.

First Baseball of Season.
While Pendleton has no hinterland of which to boast and though she is begirt by a snow belt, she has nevertheless her own hinterland of the spring that is approaching. Today the ground where has stood the Happy Canyon pavilion has been the scene of a hotly contested baseball game with a score of small boys as the contestants.

Change of Hotel Clerks.
Ray Le Fevre, who has been chief clerk at the Hotel Pendleton for the past year, has resigned his position and will be succeeded by Roscoe Vaughan, who has been night clerk. Mr. Vaughan's place will be taken by W. Gault, who has recently been connected with the Hotel Benson in Portland. Mr. Le Fevre will remain here for a week or two.

J. M. Blakely for Sheriff.
James M. Blakely, prominent Enterprise stockman and brother of Deputy Sheriff J. A. Blakely and of ex-Sheriff W. M. Blakely of this county, has announced his candidacy for the democratic nomination for sheriff of Wallawa county at the spring primaries. He will oppose Edgar Marvin, the present incumbent. The republicans also have two men out for the job, M. O. Courtney of Lostine and R. C. Cranmer.

Appropriation Reimbursed.
As it passed the house of representatives Congressmen Simpson's bill providing money for the construction of bridges at Thorn Hollow and Mission is reimbursable from any future additions to the Indian tribal fund here. The amendment was insisted upon by Republican Leader Mann, the bill as originally introduced calling for an appropriation out of the general fund. The reimbursable feature of the bill does not affect any tribal money already apportioned to individual Indians but applies only to tribal money. It is the presumption that the bill will be passed in its present form.

Wm. Put Up Bungalow.
L. Shaver yesterday took out a permit to erect a bungalow on Logan street at a cost of $2000.

Showcase is Broken.
Through the dropping of the lid of a glass candy jar accidentally by one of the employees yesterday afternoon, the big plateglass top of the beautiful big candy showcase in the Kopper Kettle was broken. It will be replaced by a new top.

Curfew Will Ring.
The curfew will ring out tonight. The police committee has made the necessary arrangements to have the firebell sound three times just at 9 o'clock and this bell will be the signal for all youngsters under 16 to hide themselves off the streets.

Sees for Divorce.
Blanche M. Gray today filed suit for divorce against her husband, Walter A. Gray, alleging that for the past seven years he has been a heavy drinker of intoxicants and has not contributed much toward the support of herself and child. She asks for the custody of the child. W. M. Peterson is her attorney.

Investigate Scandal Among Boys.
County Judge C. H. Marsh and Juvenile Officer John Halley are this afternoon investigating the circulation of copies of some obscene verses among a large number of school boys between the ages of 8 and 14. The copies were printed by two older boys working in the printing plant and through the misdeeds of the younger lads.

Come After Alleged Yeggman.
Sheriff Harry Leider of Lewiston and Deputy Welker arrived today to take back with them James Morgan, Harry Carrier and Roy Howard, the three alleged yeggmen arrested here several weeks ago by the police and who have since been held by Sheriff Taylor in spite of their efforts to free themselves by habeas corpus proceedings. They are wanted in Idaho for burglary and were extradited from this state.

Deepest snow in 54 Years.
That the recent snow was the heaviest in his experience as a stockman of this county was the statement of Henry La Zinka, prominent cattle raiser who came down yesterday from his ranch on Cable creek. Mr. La Zinka has been in this county 34 years and never in that time, he says, has the snow reached such a depth as two weeks ago. It was five feet on the level at his place, he states, and there is still two feet there. He had plenty of hay, he says, and his stock came through in good condition.

PRETTY LITTLE DOG STORY.
Three of Pendleton's four judges, Judge Marsh, Judge Parkes and Judge Fitz Gerald, failed miserably when asked to repeat the sentences. The fourth, Judge Phelps, probably escaped a like fate by his absence from the city. Judge Marsh, who is a bachelor, started out bravely, "I saw in the street a pretty little girl," and he probably did, but that had nothing to do with the matter at hand. Judge Parkes curtailed the last sentence, that is he left the tail off the ear, and Judge Fitz Gerald didn't give the poor dog a leg to stand on.

Mayor Best, after hearing the sentences and learning their purposes, refused to commit himself, being a wise politician. Some of the brainiest of the councilmen flunked ignominiously. Chief of Police Gurdane, instead of repeating the sentences, inquired whether or not the dog wore a muzzle.

The county officials, with hardly an exception, proved their finest imbecility. Most of them took a running start at the pawky but stumbled and fell before they came to the end. The only mental giant in the whole courthouse was Deputy Sheriff J. H. Estes. After Sheriff Taylor had put long legs on the dog and a short tail, his deputy hung out the correct passage without a break and, having proved the superiority of his mind over that of his chief, he declared he couldn't understand why he held the subordi-nate position.

Right up and down Main street the leading citizens acknowledged their mental inequity. Most of them looked sheepish when they learned the nature of the test, a few were insulted and some refused to incriminate themselves by an attempt. Anyway Mr. Binet has made the people of Pendleton look like a sorry lot, but they can take the consolation that the same test can prove the same thing in any other city.

Glenn Scott, young farmer of Cold Springs is at the St. George.
J. T. Brown, local furniture dealer, went to Milton today on business.
D. P. Bunch of Adams was registered at the Bowman last evening.
John L. Barker, well known Meacham resident is down from the mountain.
Dr. G. W. Tape, head of the Hot Lake sanitarium, is a guest of the Hotel Pendleton.
Pete Sheridan, prominent Butter Creek stockraiser, came in yesterday from his home.

What Emerson Would Say of a Hallmark Watch

Hander said, "What a piece of work is man!"

Some years later, when Emerson described the best kind of man, he said of him: "He is put together like a watch."

If Emerson were living in this day he might say: "He is put together like a Hallmark Watch."

If you never rightly appreciated a good watch, it was because you never considered the wonders of its mechanism.

The similarity between a good man and a good watch is not solely that both have face and hands. You learned when in knickerbockers, that the human body has about 200 bones, that you breathe by means of lungs, and that the heart sends blood thru the arteries. But the Child's Book of Nature does not tell that a watch has about 150 parts; that the escapement is the heart; that the mainspring gives it what is equivalent to muscular power and that the balance wheel provides self control.

Unreliability in watches or men is proof that they are wrongly constructed, or that their functions are impaired.

Each then requires the diagnosis of an expert.

Of the two sciences, medicine and watchmaking, the latter is less speculative, and the rule of our watch repair department is "No cure, no pay."

Some watches, like human beings, have congenital defects.

Poor machinery and poor methods give but one result.

Years ago, people supposed that good timepieces came only from Switzerland, as if such watches were peculiar to the soil of that country. Now America leads the world in watch manufacturing.

Here machinery and methods have reached the highest stage of development, and the Hallmark Watch is the composite creation of the best mechanical minds of our generation.

In every part of the United States are doctors who pose upon the physical, mental and moral qualifications of emigrants.

If this principal were applied to watches, and the Government these overboard every incoming timepiece a patch, New York harbor would some day have a bed of metal.

When you buy a watch, buy one of established reputation and look for the name of the maker.

Put your confidence in a Hallmark Watch and you will be repaid.

Here is your strongest guarantee, buy your watch from a Hallmark store because the watches are loved, tested and properly fitted in the cases at the factory and the watch will wind, set and run as it should and in any town or city in the United States the "Hallmark Store" will re-wind or adjust it without charge.

When you want a movement and the case repaired, and have them put together you subject the watch to future troubles, there may be pressure on some part of the plate, or the glass may be too low or too high, or the hands may catch and it will take an expert to obviate your troubles.

The Hallmark dealer has more to do with the outcome of your purchase than the dealer in any other line.

If a man buys his watch from the barber, he might reasonably go to the jeweler to be shaved.

Only one who has carried an excellent watch can quite know the pleasure of such a possession. Its rust is returned a hundred fold. Were it human it could not serve you so well.

If human it would often cry for better care.

A person who rightly values his teeth visits a dentist once a year. Have a jeweler examine your watch as often.

Caution About Use and Selection of Spectacles
If you are having normal vision you will be able to read this page. In a distance of 10 inches from the eyes with clear and correct, you will be able to read it with each eye separately. If unable to do so your eyes are defective and must first be examined. When the eyes become tired from reading or sewing, or if the letters look blurred or run together, it is a sure indication that glasses are needed. The lenses used in the cheap goods are of inferior quality and have a tendency to injure the eyes. Careful use of these poorer lenses will result in positive injury from the constant strain upon the muscles of accommodation in supply defects in the eyes.

If your vision does not meet the above requirement your eyes should have immediate attention.
