NEWS OF PENDLETON

Setting Up Big Estate.

James H. E. Scott, well known Milton attorney, is now in North Worth, Texas, representing C. W. Harder of Milton, in settling up the estate of Adam Harder, a son of the Milton man who died recently leaving his father as the sole heir to an estate valued from $100,000 to $300,000.

May Build Weston Garage.

It is reported that Lowell Rogers, one of Umatilla county's largest and most successful farmers, is preparing to invest in Weston property to the extent of building a concrete garage on the Dupuis corner, which is well located for the purpose. The building will be occupied by H. L. Hedrick, the local garage man.—Weston Leader.

May Join German Army.

Dietrich Schimacher, who formerly resided near Pilot Rock and who has made his home in Pendleton since leaving here about a year ago, has decided to move again and possibly may go to Germany if he can get by Uncle Sam's guard. He wanted to join the Kaiser's forces at the time of leaving here, but his friends advised him to stay as he was too good a Dutchman to be fed to bullets.—Pilot Rock Record.

Predicts Extension of Road.

John R. Jordan of Riverside, Malheur county, is in the city today en route home from Freewater. Riverside is on the new line being extended from Ontario through Malheur county and Mr. Jordan states that the road has now almost reached Harney county. He states that the feeling down there is that the road will be extended on to Bend and down the Deschutes to give direct connection with the Columbia basin.

Expert Watch Repairing A Specialty

All watches of a given make and size do not properly take the same strength of spring. A variation in thickness of only two one-thousandths of an inch may be the measure of the difference between the right and the wrong mainspring for your watch. This again is the field of the qualified workman. To select a proper spring calls for experience and judgment. If your watch is worthy of a spring at all, pay what a competent watchmaker considers a proper charge for a good one. All Hallmark watches are standardized and uniformity of the size of the mainspring is a notable feature.

We have two watchmakers always busy.

Meacham Sawmill Shut Down.

J. D. Casey, who is down from Meacham today, states that the milling business of which he is the head is temporarily at a standstill on account of weather conditions. A large amount of logging work was done earlier in the season, but the deep snow interferred to such an extent that operations were closed down until the weather situation is more favorable.—La Grande Observer.

McNary to Portland.

Dr. W. D. McNary, superintendent of the Eastern Oregon State Hospital, left on No. 17 today for Portland on a short visit.

Divorce is Granted.

A decree of divorce was granted by Judge Phelps yesterday at the conclusion of the trial of the case of E. F. Gratian vs. Sophia Gratian.

Set Out Trees at Cemetery.

The cemetery committee of the council is today having a row of shade trees set out along the front of Olney cemetery, as one of the first steps toward improving the burial ground.

Adams Wants Dog Ordinance.

T. A. Lletallen, one of the Adams city officials, is in the city today looking over the Pendleton dog-muzzling ordinance with a view to having such an ordinance introduced in the Adams council.

Milton Defeats Hermiston.

Accompanied by Principal A. T. Park, the Hermiston high school basketball team is in Pendleton today en route home from Milton where last night the Milton high won from them at basketball by the close score of 11 to 10.

Bad Weather Predicted.

The local forestry office today received the following weather warning bulletin for stockmen: Unsettled, continuous cold, weather with rain or snow, winds not strong for Sunday, Monday and probably Tuesday. Colder tonight.

Weston Organizes Ball Team.

Preparing to enter whatever league is most advantageous to her, Weston has already begun the organization of a baseball team for the coming season, according to reports reaching Pendleton. At a recent meeting F. G. Lucas was elected manager and will be assisted by Marvin Price. A subscription fund will be raised to finance the team and the town expects to turn out a winning team.

Indian Workers to Kamiah.

To attend special evangelistic services at the second church of Kamiah, Idaho, the following members and workers of the Tutulla Indian church left last evening: Elders Allen Patawa and Philip Jones and Parsons Mottanic, president of the temperance society, and his wife. Earlier in the week Julia Minthorn, Lizzie Patawa and Is-ka-ka left for the same place.

Blydenstein Case up Monday.

The case of the state vs. H. G. Blydenstein will come up for trial Monday and it will be followed by the State vs. Colesworthy. Both cases involve alleged use of incorrect weights. The case of the State vs. Basil Parr and that of Peringer vs. Carney et al. set to follow, have been postponed owing to the throat trouble from which District Attorney Stelwer is suffering and instead the equity case of Holt vs. Campbell has been moved up on the docket.

Women to Join Club.

At the suggestion of C. M. Bishop last night the name of the proposed republican club was changed to The Young Men and Young Women's Republican Club, admitting the women with equal rights and responsibilities. Constitution and by-laws were prepared and discussed. The nominating committee after an extended session asked for further time and will meet again tonight to further consider the matter. It was decided last night that the vice president and assistant secretary should be women and nominations will be made accordingly. The final meeting will be held next week when John McCourt, president of the Oregon Republican Club, will be the speaker. There was a good attendance last night and all were very enthusiastic over the possibilities of the organization.

Attendees, W. O. W.

At their regular meeting on Monday evening, March 6th, Pendleton Camp No. 41, W. O. W. will have initiation of candidates, followed by a luncheon. A good time assured. All members urged to be present.

The Mainspring

Your watch has stopped without apparent cause. You intuitively attempt to wind it. The crown turns with a new sense of ease, but the operation is endless.

Then you learn that a "fickle" mainspring concluded to resign its task and simply broke. Why?

Here is a query that may stand in the company of "Who Wrote the Letters of Junius?" "Who Was the Man with the Iron Mask?" and other unanswerable interrogations of profane history.

The best mainsprings have maintained their right to break ever since modern watches were invented, and they will do so until some secret of nature, for which scientists are still searching, is revealed.

Sudden electrical disturbances of the atmosphere, extreme change of temperature or contact with cold substance, will occasionally, by result in a broken mainspring. Such contingencies are well understood by watchmakers.

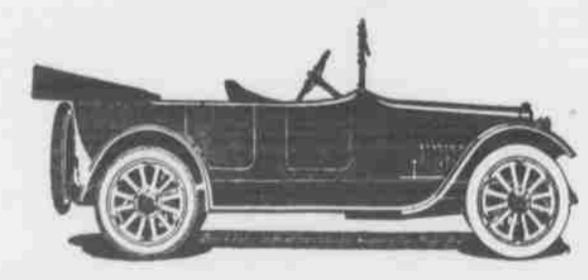

What is not so well understood is why a spring will sometimes snap in twain or in twenty pieces in spite of the best of care. You may ascribe it to a fit of temper or to the dog days, or give any other reason that does not sound logical, or horological.

The fact and the mystery remain. This spring is a piece of tempered steel, usually about twenty inches long, coiled in a barrel between the upper and lower plates of the movement.

It is the motive power of the watch. It is made in degrees of strength, width and thickness suitable to the watch.

As a mainspring is subjected to varying conditions, from that of highest tension when fully wound, to that of comparative rest when the watch is run down, and it is constantly undergoing a change in resistance as its coils unfold, this spring is the only part of the watch subject to stresses against which even careful use cannot always provide.
