Forty-five candidates have been secured to take the degree, most of them coming from this city and about Condon, The La Grande, Walla Walla and Portland councils will send over delegates to assist in the ceremonies.

Will Live in Spokane.

J. E. Shellenberger has taken his family to Spokane where they will make their home. He is the inventor of an intermediate gear for Ford cars and has formed a corporation which will have a factory in Spokane for assembling the parts. The parts will be manufactured in the east. Mr. Shellenberger perfected the invention while living in Pendleton.

Jas. A. Ross Dies in Portland.

James A. Ross, for many years a resident of Helix, and also a former resident of Pendleton, died this morning in Portland, according to a message received from Milton Ross, his brother, who went down several days ago. Deceased had been in California for his health and had only returned to Portland Tuesday night. The body will be brought to Helix for interment.

Fly from Federal Charivari.

Determined to escape the charivari threatened by their friends in Walla Walla, Fred Pitt of Lowden, Wash., and Mae Bowman of Walla Walla, arrived in Pendleton yesterday for the purpose of getting married. However, they could not get a license here, owing to the fact that the woman is not a resident of this county, and left during the afternoon for Pasco. "We won't get married in Walla Walla if we have to go as far as Vancouver," said the bride. "That charivari would be awful."

Motanic spoke for Temperance.

Parsons Motanic, prominent Indian and president of the Tutuilla temperance society, and his wife arrived home last evening from Kambah, Idaho, where they attended and assisted in the special services among the Indians there. Motanic spoke on the question of temperance there, telling of the evils of liquor and of the great benefits to be derived from prohibition. Reports coming back have it that he made quite an impression. Among those who came forward and signed the pledge were three of the old and prominent men of the Nez Perce. The other local Indians who were attending the services there, will arrive home today.

Alleged Bootlegger Nabbed.

Just in the act of delivering a bottle of liquor to Ed Chapman and Leadore Whitehill, two Indians, William Switzer, well known local character, was yesterday afternoon detected by Chief of Police Gurdane. To save himself, Switzer dashed the bottle to the ground, breaking it, but the chief secured enough to identify the contents as liquor. He was charged in police court this morning with an attempt to sell liquor and sentenced to pay a fine or serve 12 days in jail. He is still in jail.

"Spring Has Come."

It's here at last. At least the indications are such and everybody is trying to persuade themselves that gentle spring has really come to abide. The day is ideal and all are trying to take advantage of it. Fires in the stoves have been permitted to die and the doors have been opened to let in the spring air. Autoists are on the road, the kids are playing baseball and the golf bugs are limbering up their muscles. Quite incidentally but another sure sign of the springtime, a man and a maid were seen walking down Main street today holding hands unashamed.

Strikes at Cigarettes.

At the meeting of the Washington parent-teachers' association last evening, Supt. A. C. Hampton urged upon the parents and citizens in general to co-operate in securing the enforcement of the state law against the use of cigarettes and tobacco by minors. He stated that his attention had been called to the fact that some school boys habitually smoked cigarettes on the streets but he declared the school administration was powerless to stamp out the practice without the active support and co-operation of the community. The meeting last evening was well attended. Among the other speakers was C. P. Strain, a member of the school board.

Man Dies in Cabin.

Coroner J. T. Brown this morning received word by telephone that the body of a dead man had been discovered on Reed and Hawley Mountain out from Weston and left in the Frank Murphy car at once. Telephonic information received this afternoon at the East Oregonian office is to the effect that the deceased man is Henry Goldberg, 49 years old, a bachelor resident of the Finnish settlement ten miles southeast of Weston. He had been living alone there in his cabin on a forty acre tract and recently had been suffering from asthma which is supposed to have been the cause of his death. The body was discovered yesterday by neighbors. He was a native of Finland and had no known relatives.

By installing electric power in nearly every mining camp of importance in Montana it has been made possible for operators to resume work on properties which otherwise would have been idle. This has done more to reduce the cost of mining than any other thing.

LANSING DENIES WARNING RUMORS

WASHINGTON, March 9.—Declaring that the recent state department announcements indicate Americans will be effectively warned, McCumber of North Dakota, withdrew his resolution for warning Americans from armed merchantmen. Lansing today denied that the government will shortly warn Americans not to travel on vessels carrying guns. He declared the story false, and asked to be quoted denying it.

This afternoon Lansing reiterated emphatically he would not issue a warning for Americans to avoid armed ships. Discussing the difference between offensively and defensively armed merchantmen, he admitted

The convention was a big success from every standpoint. In all there were 149 active delegates present and the evening session Tuesday was attended by 500 people.

The ways and means committee recommended that the county pay $200 during the coming year to the state association, the money to be raised by an apportionment among the schools. The convention voted the money and decided to levy a tax of six cents upon each member enrolled.

The following resolutions were adopted at the close of the convention: Whereas, We are profoundly grateful to our Heavenly Father for the many blessings and the spirit of success which have been ours during the year. Therefore be it Resolved, First, that we lift our hearts in gratitude to Him from whom all blessings flow.

Second, that we congratulate and extend our thanks to the committee for the splendid program; to each speaker for the splendid and inspiring addresses to which we have been privileged to listen and to every one who has taken part in such a way as to make our convention a real success.

Third, That we express our sincere thanks and hearty appreciation to the people of Milton and Freewater for the splendid entertainment and kind hospitality which they have given and shown us during our stay among them."

THE SEEMING HOPE. (By Dr. E. B. Haslop, Pendleton, Or.) Some people jump at straws where health is concerned.

Think of an anemic, thin, weakly person being told by a physician that all needed to restore health was Roman meal and port wine. Yes, eggs, butter and materials of a fattening nature to be crowded as well on an already badly functioning digestive tract. I suppose the port wine by its stimulating effects will make the patient seem better at times.

Two things are necessary to consider in a case of this kind: Weight and strength. Weight may be obtained by absolute rest in bed, for mark you, the patient is weak to start with, under forced feeding with proper preparation of the digestive tract for at least six days before the forced diet is commenced. Then after or two or three weeks the patient is allowed up. Osteopathic treatment is advised during the stay in bed to keep the bowels active and assist in assimilation of food.

Strength and energy are not obtained by regulated exercises, but taken in the open air, moderately at first, but consistently, for never will strength be gained unless worked for. The blood will be enriched by fresh air and a proper diet. Tonics and pills do not make the blood, unless it is bad blood, but food does.—Adv.

Before Buying a Car the things to consider

Only buy from a good reliable Pendleton dealer—it will pay in the long run.

Buy a standard car; a car proven to be built for our rough country. Don't buy a car that is only good to look at. Go inside and look at the machinery—that is what takes you through dust and mud and over the hills.

Before buying investigate the Little Buick Six, 45 horse power.
