OLIVER P. MORTON IN CHARGE OF OFFICE

The Arizona Republican of Phoenix has the following article relative to the transfer of Oliver P. Morton, well known here, to Los Angeles:

The Hon. Will R. King, chief counsel of the United States reclamation service, has recently established one of the chief offices of the legal division of that service at Los Angeles. A district counsel has been placed in charge with an assistant and proper clerical help. The new office has jurisdiction over the Orlando, Truckee-Carson, Yuma and Salt River projects. Judge King, whose decisions upon water right questions while a member of the Oregon supreme court blazed a new and progressive trail and are cited as authority throughout the west, considers Los Angeles a particularly suitable and convenient point from which to conduct the legal administration of the projects above-named.

Oliver P. Morton of Portland, Oregon, has been designated as district counsel in charge and will have as his assistant, D. H. Tyree of this city. With headquarters in Portland, Morton served for a number of years as district counsel for the so-called Pacific division, which then included the Oregon projects, together with Orlando and Truckee-Carson. He is a pioneer graduate of Stanford University, a former southern California high school teacher, and was admitted to the bar at Los Angeles in 1899, after spending some time in the Los Angeles Law School, since affiliated with the University of Southern California. He practiced at Nome, Alaska for a couple of years and afterward here, where he served for a considerable period as a prosecutor for the county of Maricopa. His work as counsel for the service began in 1906 and has covered a wide range. Mr. Morton married a daughter of Major Lee Moorhouse of Oregon in 1912. He is now in the city and expects his wife and family to join him immediately.

His assistant, Mr. Tyree, formerly attended the Georgetown University Law School at Washington, D. C., but for the past year has been located here, where he has had considerable experience in the legal work upon the Salt River and Yuma projects. The new office is located at Room 607, Federal building, Los Angeles.

At this time, owing to the difference in the grading rules between the cities of the northwest, it is often difficult for Portland to sell surplus to northern markets except at sharply reduced values from those in effect elsewhere. The new rules will therefore eliminate much controversy between the trade and allow better prices here.

MRS. HORTON LOOKING LARGER IN WAITE CASE

MRS. H. M. HORTON.

NEW YORK, April 6.—Mrs. Margaret Horton, the "mystery woman" in the case of Dr. Arthur Warren Waite, accused of poisoning his wealthy father-in-law, John E. Peck, looms daily in a larger light in the developments at the district attorney's office.

The district attorney has announced himself as far from satisfied with Mrs. Margaret Horton's story of her meeting with Dr. Waite. He declares himself to be still unconvinced that Mrs. Horton, the "mystery woman," met the dentist in exactly the accidental manner she claims.

One of the most peculiar angles of the case is the attitude of Horton. The husband, in high pitched voice, affirms his loyalty to the "dove." He said he was perfectly willing for her to bring what comfort she can to Waite in his prison room.

"We haven't gotten a square deal from our questioners," he said.

"We have told the district attorney everything and our testimony, as given out, is distorted—distorted in the sense that the statements are published with meanings we did not intend to convey. We have nothing to fear."

"What my wife and I should have done was to have left the state when this matter first came to life. We have told everything, I repeat, and still they are not satisfied. We are still forced to bear up under a pack of lies."

The checkered career of Horton was a source of interest to the authorities. Court records show he was a bankrupt during Christmas week last. This was the period during which Mrs. Horton claims first to have met Waite.

Splendid for Rheumatism.

"I think Chamberlain's Liniment is just splendid for rheumatism," writes Mrs. Dunburgh, Eldridge, N. Y. "It has been used by myself and other members of my family time and time again during the past six years and has always given the best of satisfaction." The quick relief from pain which Chamberlain's Liniment affords is alone worth many times the cost. Obtainable everywhere.—Adv.

What is Home Without an Hair?

This is a subject that has a place in all minds in all times. And it naturally directs thought as to the comfort of the mother during that wonderful period of expectancy. Mothers who know recommend "Mother's Friend." It is an external remedy for the stretching muscles, enables them to expand without undue strain, assists the organs in crowd against nerves, to pull at ligaments to thus avoid pain.

These restless days are unquiet, peaceful nights are experienced, morning sickness, headaches, apprehension and other distresses are among the various things which women everywhere relate they entirely escaped by using "Mother's Friend." And by its effect upon the muscles the form is retained and they return to their natural, smooth contour after baby is born.

Get a bottle of this invaluable aid to expectant mothers. Any druggist will supply you. It is harmless but wonderfully effective.

Write to Bradford Regulator Co., 415 La-mar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for a specially written guide book for women interested in the subject of maternity. It will prove an inspiration. It contains information that every woman should know all about. Write today.

Does Newspaper Advertising Pay?

A large paint manufacturer asked this question of retailers throughout the country:

NO. 9 SAID:

"I think newspaper publicity a necessity to get the best possible results from an advertising campaign."

"It not only brings customers to the store, but when we solicit business it is much easier to sell a paint that has been advertised locally than one people have never heard of. I think it is money well spent."

Money Couldn't Buy It

The relief he personally experienced moved Mr. W. F. Briggs, Konawa, Okla., to write to the Pinus laboratories a letter of appreciation in which he says:

"Fruitalia and Traxo helped me so much I am advising all who suffer with gallstones to try them. Money wouldn't buy what this medicine has done for me."

Fruitalia is an intestinal lubricant that softens the congested masses, disintegrates the hardened particles that cause so much suffering and expels the accumulated waste to the intense relief of the patient. Following a dose of Fruitalia, Traxo should be taken three or four times a day to restore the system that has been weakened by constant suffering. It is a splendid tonic, acting on the liver and stomach most beneficially.

Fruitalia and Traxo are prepared in the Pinus laboratories at Monticello, Ill., and arrangements have been made to supply them through representative druggists. In Pendleton they can be obtained at Tallman & Company, 623 Main St.

ANGLERS FIND THEY ARE WAR SUFFERERS

Prices of Supplies in Some Cases Advance 125 Per Cent; Makes Sport Costly.

The anglers are trying the streams. With incoming April the disciples of the rod and basket weary of the desk and counter, office and factory. The call of the wild is here.

Those anglers who have waited until the last day before the opening of the trout season to purchase their fishing supplies will wish they had manifested a little more haste. When they go to replenish their kits they will discover that prices for all sorts of anglers' supplies have greatly advanced; in some instances more than doubled.

Notice has been received in this city by jobbers from wholesale and manufacturing establishments that because of the war an advance in the wholesale price of all anglers' supplies of 125 per cent has taken place. This includes rods, reels, hooks, leaders, lines, spinners. Usually the best material obtainable is used in the manufacture of these necessities for anglers, and it is this sort of material which has been affected more than anything else by the war.
