THE FAT AND UNTRAINED CHAMPION

Before Jess Willard went into the ring to box Frank Moran he refused to pose stripped for the fight. He was afraid he would show he had not trained properly. Once in the ring he had to pose, and then his enormous fat became apparent. He weighed 253 1/2 pounds, at least 25 pounds too much. After the fight Dr. Creamer, physician of the New York State Boxing Commission, went into Willard's dressing room and found Willard in bad shape from his exertions. He was very tired and his wind was poor. His fight was slow and tiresome because he was so fat he winded quickly. Had he been properly trained he might have knocked out Moran.

AVERILL FURNISHES DIRECTIONS TO GET RID OF CROP PESTS

The following directions for poisoning ground squirrels, pocket gophers and jackrabbits are given out by E. P. Averill of the U. S. bureau of biological survey. Squirrels and gophers may best be destroyed at this season while rabbits can be most effectively poisoned in the winter.

For Pocket Gophers.
Pocket gophers are readily caught in any of several makes of special traps commonly on the market, and a few of these suffice to keep small areas free of the pests. For ridding alfalfa fields, orchards, and long stretches of ditch embankments of them, a very successful and much more practical method is to poison them by use of baits of sweet potato or of parsnips placed in their underground runways.

The baits should be cut about 1 inch long and 1-2 inch square, and washed and drained. From a pepper box slowly sift 1-3 ounce of powdered strychnine (alkaloid) and 1-10 of this quantity of saccharine ground together in a mortar over about four quarts of the dampened baits, stirring to distribute the poison evenly.

The runways, which are usually 4 to 8 inches beneath the surface, can be located by means of a probe made of any strong handle an inch in diameter and 36 inches long. One end should be bluntly pointed. Into the other should be fitted a piece of 1/2-inch iron rod, protruding about 12 inches, and bluntly pointed. A foot rest aids in probing in hard soils. By forcing down the iron rod near gopher workings, or a foot or two back of fresh mounds, the open tunnel can be felt as the point breaks into it. The blunt end of the instrument is then used carefully to enlarge the hole, a bait or two is dropped into the run, and the probe hole closed.

One soon becomes expert in locating the runs, and a man can treat 300 to 500 gopher workings in a day. Baits need be placed at only two points in each separate system of 10 to 20 mounds, which is usually the home of a single gopher. Experience has shown that baits placed fairly in the open runs invariably kill the gophers. The method has found great favor wherever introduced.

Told That There Was No Cure for Him.

"After suffering for over twenty years and having some of the best doctors here tell me there was no cure for me, I think it only right to tell you for the sake of other sufferers as well as your own satisfaction that a 25 cent bottle of Chamberlain's Tablets not only relieved me but cured me within two months although I am a man of 65 years," writes Jul. Grubben, Houston, Texas. Obtainable everywhere.—Adv.

ests granted, and in all cases as far as may be necessary for public use.

Instead of giving exclusive attention to the business for which they were chartered, they are undertaking the molding of public opinion through publicity departments, the conduct of legislation and the manipulation of elections.

Instead of recognizing the fact that they were intended to serve the public, they have entered upon the task of dictating to it.

Everyone concedes that railroads and all transportation lines along with every utility should be permitted to earn reasonable net returns on their judiciously expended actual investment.

Capitalized at about $4 to $1 of outlay, the railroads of the United States are demanding a reasonable return upon their capitalization although about three fourths of it is purely a fictitious paper liability (watered stocks and bonds) having no earning right whatever.

The tremendousness of this transportation tax is staggering to the mind when it is stated that the average citizen, every year, pays more for transportation alone than he pays for the combined support of the nation, the state, the county and the city or village in which he lives and again when it is said that the railroads, doing their cash business, put every dollar of the actual money of the nation (about three billion dollars) through their cash tills, taking their toll from it as it passed through. In 1890 every man, woman and child in the United States paid, in railroad transportation tolls, the average sum of $11.57, in 1913 it was $12.20, while for Oregon it was about $40.

With the present cost of labor to produce the "ton mile," the unit of transportation is lower than ever before in the railroad's history and only 35 per cent of the cost to produce it in 1888 together with an increasing population, increasing tonnage, and decreasing cost of tonnage movement, rates should be reduced, but instead they are increased higher and higher until the people's life blood is being drained to the point of exhaustion through the vein of transportation taxation.

The above indicates the need of better regulation.
