Mitchell

The last word in automobile construction—'The Masterpiece Car'

26 Extra Features,—Unique to the New Mitchell— All Paid for Through Factory Savings

These are some of the extras which the New Mitchell offers. No other car in this class, we believe, offers more than two of them. No other car at any price offers more than three or four. Reversible head lamps—searchlights which shine forward or backward, or wherever you want light. A carburetor which costs 15 per cent more than the usual. Rates cantilever rear springs, which double the ease of riding. Oversize steering parts, made of Chrome-Vanadium steel and fitted with ball bearings. Chrome-Vanadium steel for all parts which meet major strains. An engine with drilled piston and other refinements to give wondrous power for its size. A 22-coat body finish of most enduring lustre. Electric light in the tonneau. Lighter, more powerful and silent operating electric starter. Engine primer on instrument board. Locked compartment for articles of value. Tool compartment under hood. Handles for entering car. Compartment gasoline tank, 18 1/2 gallons. COSTS REDUCED HALF. This New Mitchell car is produced for one-half what it would have cost us seven years ago. It is built for one-fifth less than it could be built if we let others make our important parts. How much we save is shown by our extras. Our price is low for a big Light Six of the highest grade. Yet we offer 26 extras—some very costly. And all of these features which rivals don't offer are paid for through factory efficiency.

FROM THE PEOPLE

SENATOR LANE'S POSITION.

In a further letter to the East Oregonian relating to the O & C land grant bill, Senator Harry Lane says in part:

I do not think there is anything further that I can say in regard to this subject. My idea of disposing of the land is governed by the conditions under which the grant was made and the manner in which said lands were handled by the settlers. No value was placed on the timber by either the railroad company nor the settlers. It had no value. Most of the settlers' time was devoted to destroying it in order to clear the land which was the richest where the timber grew the heaviest. He did clear it by grubbing up the stumps, piling them up and burning them. The railroad company officials knew this as well as any one else and a price of $2.50 an acre was set upon the land, and as I stated above the land where the timber grew being included regardless of the timber.

All bona fide settlers should have sufficient timber in order to pay them for the expense of clearing the land. There will be no difficulty in disposing of all of it on an equitable basis, the surplus timber being disposed of in such a manner as to build schools, public highways, reclaiming lands and harbors improvements.

This is what I stated before the committee on public lands. I would not do an injustice to the railroad company, neither would I allow the railroad company to do an injustice to the people of the state, if I could help it.

If you thing what I have said is of sufficient importance you are at liberty to publish it in the paper. Thanking you for writing me on this subject, I remain with kind regards,

Very truly yours, HARRY LANE.

War was ever the breath of life to the American Indian, and in a strange way the present one is reacting greatly to his advantage, especially in the case of the Crow tribe in Wyoming, who have been enriching themselves at a great rate by selling horses to the allied governments.
