

Sunday Evening Concert No. 2

Has a nicely balanced program that will appeal to all lovers of music, being composed of old favorites, classics and light opera.

Last Sunday's concert was a musical surprise to the many that heard it. All of the Trio are accomplished musicians and their interpretation of the work of famous composers brings them praise from the most critical. You have often paid 75c or a dollar to listen to programs not even entitled to comparison with these we are offering you.

All that is necessary to make a delightful day complete.

QUALITY OUR FIRST CONSIDERATION.

THE KOPPER KETTLE

Mt. Hood Ice Cream is made of Homogenized Cream

What is Homogenized Cream?

It is cream that is heated to 185 deg. (which sterilizes it) and then passed through a machine that subjects it to a pressure of from 3000 to 5000 lbs. This breaks up all the fat globules distributing them uniformly through the liquid and making an emulsion so perfect that it cannot be separated by the most powerful machinery.

This process makes the cream more easily digested and also prevents the cream and water separating in the freezing operations. Many European and Canadian hospitals require homogenized cream for all their patients.

Why Mt. Hood Ice Cream is The Best.

- 1st. It is made of homogenized cream.
- 2nd. It is not touched by hands in the making.
- 3rd. No other product but ice is made or handled in the same building.
- 4th. It is a principal product not a "side issue" or by-product like that made in butter factories, bakeries and candy factories.

WHY

THE SMALL ICE CREAM MANUFACTURER DERIDES THE USE OF HOMOGENIZED CREAM.

- 1st. The machine costs $3500.
- 2nd. Lack of education along newer lines due to ice cream being a "side issue" or by-product with them.
- 3rd. Volume of business does not warrant purchase of machine.

ENOUGH SAID

We take pleasure in announcing that Miss Baldwin has consented to render some violin solos during the series of concerts and will first be heard in the "Spanish Danz" by Rihfeld, tomorrow evening.

RELATED HONOR

- "The folks who lived in Shakespeare's day
And saw that gentle figure pass
By London bridge, his frequent way—
They little knew what man he was.
- "The pointed beard, the courteous mien,
The equal port to high and low,
All this they saw or might have seen—
But not the light behind the brow!
- "The doublet's modest gray or brown,
The slender sword-hilt's plain device,
What sign had these for prince or clown?
Few turned, or none, to scan him twice.
- "Yet, it was the King of England's kings!
The rest with all their pomps and trains
Are mouldered, half-remembered things—
'Tis he alone that lives and reigns!"

LET THE REPUBLICANS CLEAN THEIR STABLES

At a gathering in Portland yesterday E. V. Littlefield, a good republican and member of the last legislature said:

"Multnomah county possesses one of the most formidable political machines of all this country. It is called the invisible government. It assumes to dictate who shall serve you in public office—in congress and the state legislature, and the bosses who compose it are in the ring because of the power they can wield and because of the money they can get out of it."

Those are serious charges and they carry particular weight when made by a republican legislator who has seen the machine at work. It is not likely Mr. Littlefield overstated the case. It is probable he could have gone much farther and been within the realm of truth.

It is a known fact that this Portland machine was the power that drove the spoilsmen's act through the legislature. It is a vicious law and it was not wanted by the legislature. It was not sent through the legislature upon its merits but by brigand methods. The workmen's compensation law was jeopardized and the safety of that good measure was guaranteed by the bosses only on condition that the spoilsmen will be passed by the house.

These same Portlanders are the men who have organized the fight against Ben Olcott, secretary of state. Mr. Olcott is an official who refuses to be a man of putty. He thinks for himself. This was often shown during the administration of Governor West and it is true under the present administration. The republican politicians liked Olcott's independence when West was governor and they did not fight him for renomination then. But they don't like his independence now. They want a man who will play ball and take their signals.

But will it be a good thing to further strengthen the hands of men who are branded by Mr. Littlefield as "in the ring because of the power they can wield and because of the money they can get out of it."

Is it wise or necessary for the republican voters of Oregon to follow the dictation of these Portland gangsters? Is it not time for those voters to do something in the direction of cleaning their political stables before they become too foul?

BESIEGED AT THE DINNER TABLE

THE price of meat in England has soared to such an extent it is said the use of beef once a week is about the limit of extravagance on the part of the average family. Even those in more affluent circumstances are being urged to curb their appetites as shown by the fact a committee of prominent men in London has issued a request that on Thursday of each week no family serve meat of any sort.

If the nation that controls the seas is thus reduced to economy in the matter of food what of the nations that are shut off almost entirely from foreign commerce?

How long will Europe stand for a continuance of the war when stomachs become empty?

EVADING THEIR DUTY

IT is charged in a report by the Industrial Relations Commission, written chiefly by Basil M. Manley that the government has been able to collect only $80,000,000 through the income tax whereas in reality something like $400,000,000 should be collected.

In other words people of wealth through evasion and perjury are escaping four-fifths of the tax they should pay on incomes. Assuming that the charge is well founded, it constitutes a serious indictment of wealth, particularly so at this time. There is a well recognized sentiment to the effect the United States if it is to be adequately defended must greatly increase its naval and military strength.

The demand for this vigorous policy of preparedness comes very largely from the well-to-do. Wherever the voice of wealth is expressed in any manner it is insistent upon greater preparedness. If through failure to properly defend the nation disaster should ever come to the United States the financial damage would fall most heavily on those having large interests.

While preaching preparedness wealth should practice its own teachings by paying the income tax required by law. If the government could get the $320,000,000 said to be unpaid it would assist mightily in building up the fleet.

ORGANIZATION OF PARENT-TEACHERS ENDS YEAR AT ECHO

REV. J. E. SNYDER OF PENDLETON ADDRESSES LAST MEETING WEDNESDAY.

Association Organized Last September Has Held Meetings Once a Month and Much Good Work Has Been Done; Subject Studied During Year Was "Child Study."

(East Oregonian Special)
ECHO, Ore., May 13.—Rev. J. E. Snyder of Pendleton addressed the Parent-Teachers' meeting last Wednesday evening at the high school auditorium. This was the last meeting of the Parent-Teachers' Association for this school year. The association was organized here last September and has met regularly every month.

The subject taken up for the year's work was "Child Study." A large number of parents as well as the teachers have faithfully attended through the year and much has been accomplished. The association will resume its work in September.

The student body of the Echo high school held a banquet Thursday night at the Domestic Art rooms. The girls of the domestic science classes prepared the entire banquet. Besides the high school students the school faculty and school board were present.

Mrs. M. C. Wolverton and two little daughters are visiting at Lostine. Mrs. Harry Thayer of Raymond, Wash., is here visiting with her brother, R. H. Holmes and family. Cloyd Oliver, a former Echo resi-

NEW LECTURE SCHEDULE.

"I enjoyed your lecture very much last night," said the man to the lecturer.
"Oh, I wasn't there."
"Well, what do you mean by telling me you enjoyed my lecture and you were not present?"
"Oh, I bought tickets for my girl's father and mother and they both went."—Fit Bits.

THE BUGLE CALL.

To arms, oh comrades, hear the call
That rends the evening air,
The bugle call that stirred the hearts
Of men in days of yore.
Stand not ye by and see your country
Thrown in great despair,
When ye can bear the burden the
Same that others bore.

Let not your nation suffer from lack
Of manhood's might,
But stand your ground like heroes in
War, in peace thru all,
And build your nation stronger and
Keep it in the right,
With arms prepared to answer the Distant bugle call.

While war is ever knocking for
Entrance at your door,
Be prepared with gun on shoulder
For Old Glory take your stand,
Be prepared in time of peace and
Be prepared in time of war,
That Old Glory's folds may ripple in
The breeze of freedom's land.

Years have flown since men were
Fighting for the land they loved
So well,
Fighting for their flag and country,
Fighting for the peace they Wanted.

Should we not prepare to answer
When the bugle notes they Swell,
Calling forth each man to hasten
With his sword and with his gun?

Then, oh comrades, listen keenly for
The bugle call tonight,
Calling for a better army to defend
Humanity,
Calling for a better navy to protect
Our country's right,
That each fellowman may live in
Peace and have his liberty.

GOOD ROADS NEWS

Edited by W. C. E. Pruitt, Acting Secretary of the Active Umatilla County Good Roads Association. Contributions cheerfully solicited.

A taxpayer there was and his taxes went.
(Even as your and mine)
Kerplunk into a mud hole, every cent,
(Even as yours and mine),
And when he died and his life was spent,
They started for the cemetery with good intent
But hearse dropped into a mudhole of great extent,
And there they left him, fully content,
It was a suitable monument.

Cities and towns in Umatilla county will have to pay for this bond issue just as much and probably more, proportionately, than does the farming section. The opposition is peddling false statements that the cities and towns will not have to pay anything. Nobody but a fool would make this statement. The tax levied to provide for the bonds applies to every dollar's worth of taxable property in the county.

Why should the voters of Umatilla county listen to the wall of Barrett, Harrah, et al? When your finger is cut off you don't take plaster off, do you?

Harrah! Harrah! Now, what are these farmers going to do with this labor question and the walking delegate? Last election they came around to every one and pleaded with the voters to kill the eight hour law and the things they said about the promoters of the scheme, the labor agitators and the Portland labor council couldn't have been any less than Harrah says he thinks about the people who are conducting the campaign for good roads. But now they go and bring one of those very self-same labor agitators up here and fetter him and put him on the back and haul him around over the county and pay him for telling the voters of Umatilla county how to vote on this bond issue. This same man will come right back at them in harvest season and demand that they honor the eight hour day, that they put on two or three shifts of hands during harvest, and by ginge he should. When they think they can play fast and loose with the voters of Umatilla county in this manner they are entitled to be left to themselves and work out their own salvation in the other instance. But they can't save themselves in such a crisis. They must come begging and pleading to the cities and towns to save them from the grasp and graft of labor agitators and walking delegates. It is an insult to the intelligence of the voters of Umatilla county for them to parade this soap box orator and labor agitator before the people as a man who is qualified to tell the voters of Umatilla county what they should do. Everybody knows what his interests are and what actuates him in this instance. Wait until he turns the very weapons they have put in his hands now upon these farmers themselves. Then hear them how!

You want a pay roll. It is the distribution of money among laborers that makes good times and keeps up the business of the community. To build the roads proposed under the bond issue would require 1900 men one year. What better pay roll can you ask than that?

What are Barrett, Harrah, et al basing their opposition to the bonds on? They have nothing that is real and tangible. But they want the people to go out and vote down this big improvement simply because they couldn't be the whole show in the play and it doesn't provide them private roads for their own private use.

Let the east end of the county vote

Boise is Shaken by Quake But Not Much Damage Done

BOISE, Idaho, May 13.—Boise experienced the most violent earthquake shock in the history of the city at 7:36 last night. The tremor lasted about three seconds and was more in the nature of an upheaval than a wave. In the downtown district people rushed from the buildings to the streets. The quake was the second in a fortnight, the last one having been recorded April 30.

In Boise a chimney of a business block in the heart of the city was shaken down and others were damaged, and in other buildings plaster was broken from the walls. Dishes fell from tables and plate racks, tables, chairs, beds and desks were moved.

Strasburg, the capital of Alsace, was annexed by Germany in 870, taken by France in 1631 and recaptured by Germany in 1870.

Buildings Rock and People Rush Out From Homes in Panic

The railroads will pay one-fourth of the bond issue and they are the only people who will be injured. Are they out fighting it? Maybe that is where the opposition is getting their money for the campaign.

A hard surfaced road from Pendledown this bond issue and see how long it takes them to get swatted on their millage tax for the hard surfacing of the macadam road. That is all they want, the macadam hard surfaced. If this bond issue provided only for that they would be out howling their heads off for it. But they are not willing that Pilot Rock, Helix, Echo, Stanfield or any other section of the county shall have good roads.

Warren Construction Company

is not an issue in this campaign but the opposition would like you to believe that they are already sharpening their tools for the work. The contract has not been let and there may never be a contract let. The Warren Construction Company has filed a written agreement with the county court offering to install the plants, furnish a competent engineer, supervise the work, furnish the tools and furnish all the hot stuff called bitumen necessary for paving the road for the sum of 55 cents a square yard, and this includes the royalty. Now the county court may decide to accept this offer and do their own paving, or they may decide to let the contract to some other firm. The Warren Construction Company stands no better show of getting the contract than any other road building firm.

Whoop'er up for the bonds, it means big things for Pendleton and Umatilla county.—Adv.

ton to Umatilla will reduce freight rates sufficient to pay the interest on the bonds. What better investment could you ask.
