CASEMENT CALM AS CHARGES ARE HEARD IN COURT

Trial of Irishman for instigating the Revolution in Dublin is underway in London today.

GERMANY WAS BACK OF PLOT

Irish Prisoners Taken in Flanders Fighting Were Influenced to Desert and Join the Kaiser's Army; Case-ment Denies He Had a Hand in This Part of Plan.

LONDON, May 15.—Clad in a seedy, frayed suit, Sir Roger Casement went to trial today in the Bow street police court on a charge of treason.

Casement was calm while Smith read the charges. His eyes roved, occasionally resting on the presiding magistrate and then the spectators.

Smith exhibited a flag of the Irish republic which he said Casement had brought ashore and buried in the sand near Tralee.

This is merely the preliminary hearing. The crown has reserved much evidence for presentation at the formal trial.

With two bloodhounds from the Walla Walla penitentiary in leash, Deputy Sheriff J. H. Estes and Mickey Davis of Walla Walla Saturday afternoon took the trail of the safecrackers who, the night before broke open the safe of the Lang grocery on West Webb.

The noses of the hounds were placed in the same sand, as soon as they caught the scent, they led the way straight down Webb street to Tutuilla, thence north to the jungles.

A finger print expert from Walla Walla is also working on the case.

Police For Time Thought They Had Kidnapping Band

ABSENCE OF IDENTITY MARKS, HOWEVER, RELEASES GYPSY SIENS AFTER CHASE.

The absence of a little mole on the back of his neck and the fact that he had but one crown instead of two to his head brought to nought what promised to be the unearthing of a kidnaping crime by the local police.

On May 12, 1915, a small white boy was kidnaped by gypsies in Pennsylvania. Just a year from that date, which was last Friday, the local police received a message from Salem, Ore., that a boy answering the description of the kidnaped child was traveling through eastern Oregon with gypsies in high-powered automobiles.

When the three big cars arrived here Saturday, the police searched through the band and found a four or five year old white boy among them. They took seven or eight pictures of him and then wired to Pennsylvania for a better description.

INFURIATED TEXANS SEIZE VICTIM AFTER HE IS SENTENCED TO HANG.

WACO, Texas, May 15.—Striving to get the court house, a mob of a thousand seized Jesse Washington, a negro, 19, and burned him to death in the city hall square. He was charged with murdering Mrs. Elizabeth Fryar, a farmer's wife.

The judge had just sentenced Washington to hang when the mob surrounded the sheriff and seized the prisoner, who piteously begged for mercy. He was led down the court house steps, surrounded by yelling crowds. A rope was tossed around his neck and his body jerked into the air from a tree.

Move on to Secure Rate Allowing Grain Cleaned in Transit

EFFORT IS TO OVERCOME INJUSTICE TO WESTERN DEALERS BY EASTERN GRADEERS.

It has become learned in local grain circles that a move is on to secure an arrangement whereby wheat shipped east this season may be sent via Portland and cleaned in transit at the docks in that city.

There has been considerable complaint regarding the handling of western wheat shipped east last fall and during the winter. In the absence of a state standard of grading wheat the wheat was graded and cleaned on reaching the Atlantic ports.

By having the wheat cleaned in transit in Portland it is said the dealers will have a better show in the east. At the same time the plan would avoid a congestion of cars at eastern terminals as least year the wheat had to be kept in the cars until it could be cleaned.

What makes the problem a pressing one is the fact present indications are that all export wheat will go east by rail. Thus far no ships have been chartered out of northwest ports and with the pronounced scarcity of ship-it is possible all the ocean carriers will be kept on the Atlantic. Should such prove the case, western people will want a square deal in the matter of grain grading in New York and it is said the shipment east of cleaned wheat will work to this end.

The German ignored the first challenge a month ago. Navarre has 14 air victories to his credit and has informed Immanuel that he intends to make his aeroplane the fifteenth. Allied aviators are waiting tensely for the outcome of the challenge. Smooth-faced Navarre has fought more than 50 duels in the air.

Co-Operation of Public is Needed in Enforcing Law

COUNCILMAN PENLAND SAYS AID IS NEEDED TO MAKE DRY LAW SUCCESS.

Co-operation from the public in enforcing the prohibition ordinance in this city was asked last evening by Councilman Claude Penland who addressed a union meeting of the Baptist, Christian, Presbyterian and Methodist churches in the Methodist church auditorium. The task of the officers, he declared, is a difficult one and they need the ready assistance of every good citizen.

Councilman Penland declared the present city administration is doing everything it can do to stamp out illegal liquor traffic. The mayor, the council, and the police are as one, he said, in their desire to enforce the ordinance and are doing their utmost. He paid a tribute to the ability of Chief of Police Gardner and of Officers Nash and Edwards but declared it was an impossibility for them to stamp out bootlegging without the aid of detectives.

He declared that Pendleton has the best prohibition ordinance in the state and that the officers will do their best to see that its provisions are carried out.

Rev. H. H. Hubbell of the Christian church made a general talk upon the enforcement of the prohibition law and upon improving upon it. He expressed surprise that the law has been as effective as it has during the first few months of its operation. The weakest point in the law, he said, is the provision enabling druggists to sell ethyl alcohol upon affidavit. He quoted District Attorney Evans of Portland as authority for the statement that this provision is unconstitutional and, if so proved, he said, remedial legislation will be unnecessary. The law gives the druggists the right to sell alcohol on affidavit, he said, and some of the druggists have taken precautions only to observe the letter and not the spirit of the law. Rev. Hubbell branded the physician who is constantly writing prescriptions for alcohol either
