

BOND CLOTHES

GUARANTEED DYES
$15 to $30

Men of Pendleton have come to regard the styles set by Bond Clothes as assuredly correct—and rightly so.

There is a freshness, a spontaneity about them that is easily recognizable that has given them their undisputed leadership each year season, year after year. This is so because we scour the world's markets to secure the best. Ours is preeminently a man's store run by young men who appreciate what men and young men want and with the requisite skill to put those desires in realization.

One of the main elements of good style is precision, the cut of the lapel, the front, the cuff, each of these must be chosen unerringly, for it is the little things that distinguish to the initiated real style from the mediocre.

A visit here will disclose the truth of this. You will find here the models delineated in our illustrations. You will find pure wool, superior workmanship, and lastly you will find style of such smartness and emphatic correctness as you will find nowhere else but in Bond Clothes.

THE HOUSE OF PAIN.

Unto the Prison House of Pain none willingly repair,
The bravest who an entrance gain
Reluctant linger there—
For Pleasure, passing by that door, stays not to cheer the sight,
And sympathy but muffles sound and banishes the light.

Yet in the Prison House of Pain things full of beauty blow—
Like Christmas-roses, which attain
Perfection mid the snow—
Love, entering in his mild warmth the darkest shadows melt,
And often where the hush is deep, the wail of woe is felt.

Ah, met the Prison House of Pain! What lessons there are bought!
Lessons of a sublimer strain
Than any elsewhere taught,
Amid its loneliness and gloom, grave meanings grow more clear,
Far to no earthly dwelling place seems God so strangely near!

THE GOVERNMENT GAVE ITS PLEDGE

THE irrigation of reservation lands close to the Umatilla river will provide scores of new homes between Pendleton and Gibbon and will double the rents received by the Indians, says Major Swartzlander, agent upon the reservation.

It is a pleasing development to contemplate. It means greater production, more people and a greater tax roll for Umatilla county because it is a mere matter of time until the Indian lands will all be subject to taxation.

But more important than the subject of community development is that of justice to the redmen. Their little allotments is all the Indians have or can reasonably hope for in this world. Their ancestral empire has been taken from them. When that was done the government guaranteed by treaty to give them the water necessary for domestic and agricultural purposes. The government should keep its pledge.

BRANDEIS CONFIRMED

BY confirming the appointment of Louis D. Brandeis to the supreme court the senate has vindicated the judgment of President Wilson as to the fitness of the appointment and it has done more. It has made known to the world that when it comes to the highest judicial tribunal in the land it is not necessary for an executive to first secure the approval of Wall street.

A very fair and truthful portrayal of the situation was made by the Boston Post, a great New England journal, at the time the judiciary committee made its report. The Post said:

The decision of the senate judiciary committee to make a favorable report on the nomination of Louis D. Brandeis for the supreme court of the United States is but a preliminary victory, yet it almost certainly foretells the ultimate triumph of the great jurist and publicist when the whole senate votes upon his name. It gives evidence that the democratic party will stand strongly for his confirmation, leaving the republicans to get what comfort they can out of the odium that will attach to their hostile action throughout the country.

The contest has been long and discreditable to the personal enemies of Mr. Brandeis. But it has been worth while if it can show—as there is every likelihood—that the corporations, the financial "interests" and all the powers of mouldy conservatism cannot dictate the makeup of the supreme court of the United States.

The appointment of Brandeis will cost the president the love of Wall street if any love for him ever existed in that quarter, but it should commend him to the confidence of people of all classes who share the ideal that principle should rank higher than the dollar.

"HAPPY VALLEY"

ONE of the best new books of the year is a tale of Eastern Oregon by Anne Shannon Monroe, popular writer who is quite well known locally through her visit to the Round-Up several years ago. "Happy Valley" is the title of the book and it gives a charming, realistic view of western life.

A tale of Oregon pioneering; of a giant fight to add twenty million acres of rich, virgin soil to the producing power of the nation, of hardship and privation, of toil and endurance, of stress and storm, and of final victory.

It is also a big, gripping story, tense with human interest and rich in characterization. Old man Clark, the sturdy pioneer, who had "fought potato bugs in Texas, prairie dogs in Kansas, and chinch bugs in Oklahoma," presenting always an undaunted front to life, and never losing his cheery optimism, will linger long in the reader's memory.

"Happy Valley" is a book that will appeal to real men and women everywhere and it should have an especial appeal for eastern Oregon folk. This section will always have a warm welcome for writers of the type of Anne Shannon Monroe.

STEPMOTHER BEATS BOY WITH BOARD; ARRESTED

JOHN DAY, Ore., June 1.—With both eyes swollen shut, his face cut and his body a mass of bruises, marks of a beating administered by his stepmother, the 4 year old son of Frank Nikum, a rancher, was brought to John Day Sunday for medical attention. The Nikums reside on a ranch nine miles west of here. Saturday night upon returning to the house for supper, Nikum missed the little boy. Upon inquiry the wife replied that he had become sleepy and had been put to bed. Early Sunday morning the father heard the boy crying, and went to his bed. He found the child's face black and swollen.

It developed from statements of the older children, that Mrs. Nikum had knocked the child down and beat him with a board, until he was unable to stand. She had then picked him up and put him to bed.

Sunday afternoon Nikum filed a complaint against his wife and she was brought to town by a deputy sheriff. At an informal hearing before Justice of the Peace White, Monday afternoon, the husband agreed to withdraw the complaint provided his wife would leave the country and not return. This she agreed to do at once, and upon this condition she was released from custody.

The Nikums came here from Harney valley last fall. Mr. Nikum had eight children by a former wife, and Mrs. Nikum two by a former husband.

Tuesday morning Mrs. Nikum left for Idaho, where she has relatives.

War Secretary Not Apprehensive Over Mexican Situation

WASHINGTON, June 2.—Spread out over a five hundred mile line, 29,000 Carranzistas have been mustered for patrol work, according to Fun-ston's report. This is double the number Oregon promised to place in northern Mexico. The troops are mostly infantry. Funston said while papers report the entrenchment of the Mexicans, an investigation found no evidence of such a move. There is no apprehension, said Secretary Baker.

In contradiction of reports of threats against American forces Funston's report said that Trevino has issued strict orders that Mexicans found insulting Americans be summarily shot.

Senate Passes Bill for Armor Factory

WASHINGTON, June 2.—News of the naval engagement between British and Germans spread like wildfire among the members who are fighting over the naval bill. It is reported the destruction of twelve British vessels and the damaging of many others was ascribed as an argument by many for a larger United States navy than is proposed in the bill, which has the largest naval appropriations ever reported, and a building program to cost one hundred and eighty million. It is understood the republican minority will attempt to have the bill recommitted with instructions to add two dreadnaughts. Tillman's plan for a government armor plate plant carried as amended.

St. Reetz and two sons will leave Sunday for the Willamette valley to spend two weeks.

BOYS AND GIRLS GATHER.

Strain will also give a welcoming speech to the girls in behalf of the local young lady members of the association.

Roll call will be held at 8:55. Mrs. C. H. Upton will conduct it for the girls. The address of the evening will be delivered to the boys by C. P. Strain, assessor for Umatilla county. His subject will be "The Marks of a Man."

Mrs. L. M. Ormsby will address the girls upon the subject, "Girlhood and Service."

The sessions tomorrow morning will begin at 9 o'clock. There will be afternoon sessions but none in the evening. On Sunday, sessions will be held morning, afternoon and evening, at which time the conference will adjourn. The Sunday evening sessions will be open to all.

The following ladies will have charge of the girl delegates while in the city and attend to their welfare: Mrs. S. A. Lowell and Mrs. S. G. Reetz of Pendleton; Mrs. C. H. Midwell of Island City; Mrs. C. H. Upton of La-Grande; Mrs. John McDonald of Walla-walla; Mrs. L. M. Ormsby of Boise.
