charming lyrics which the master of lyrics ever wrote occur. The story is never fully told in the poem, and perhaps its very mystery inspired Rupert Julian to make a photoplay of it. Wherever he got the inspiration, it was certainly a good one.

The poem, for picture purposes, has been placed in the old south before the war, while some of its earlier battles were being fought. The characters, with one exception, have been turned into Americans, but the heart-set and impelling force of the beautiful love story knows no nationality or period. "Naked Hearts" is simply a gripping story, told in lucid detail by clever actors in support of Rupert Julian, the star, and Francis Hillington, who lends the inspiration in the character of Maud.

WILLIAM FARNUM in "THE BONDMAN," BY HALL CAINE, AT PASTIME

Theater is Unable to Accommodate the Crowds.

William Fox certainly knew what he was about when he cast William Farnum in the leading role in Hall Caine's masterpiece, "The Bondman." Never has Farnum had an opportunity to display his remarkable talent to better advantage than he does in this widely known novel.

Yesterday at the Pastime "The Bondman" had its initial showing and today it will have its final screening. Most everyone has read this book and those who have not will find the play equally interesting. Farnum plays a dual role, that of Stephen Orey, the father, and also Jason, his son. Harry Springler has the part of Sunlocks, the other son, and Dorothy Bernard has the part of one of Orey's wives.

A cartoon comedy rounds out the program. Make arrangements to come early.

Pastime Offers "Dollars and the Woman," from Terhune's Great Story, "Dollars and Cents," Ethel Clayton and Tom Moore Featured.

Sunday and Monday the Pastime offers Lubin's "Dollars and the Woman" in six big acts, adapted from Albert Payson Terhune's great story, "Dollars and Cents." This picture was chosen from all others to open Portland's newest exclusive motion picture theater, the T & D. Ethel Clayton, who will be remembered for her remarkable acting in "The Great Divide," and Tom Moore, a gentleman who needs no introduction to photoplay fans, have the leads. Assisting them is Crawford Kent, a matinee idol whose remarkable good looks makes him a favorite with the women. Those who insist in digging into everything until a moral is unearthed will not have to hunt far in "Dollars and the Woman" before perceiving that the married woman who, even innocently, accepts financial assistance from any other man than her husband is seeing-sawing on the brink of a precipice. And when her husband is poor and her benefactor not only wealthy but a former suitor for her hand she is lighting matches in a powder factory.

At the Temple.
Julia Dean, the star of "The Ransom," which is the next release on the Equitable program, at the Temple theater today and tomorrow, has to play a dual role, in each part of which her wonderful dramatic ability finds full scope and free expression. At first she is a young and rather wilful wife, led astray by the glamor of the stage, and later she is the aged and repentant mother, intent on saving her own daughter, who is also "on the stage, from the wiles of the same manager who had wrecked her own life. She accomplishes this in a thrilling manner, and after seeing her child safe in the man she loves, pays the ransom of her daughter's happiness with her own life, the relationship being unknown to the daughter at whose feet she falls dead in the theater. The pictures of stage life thrown on the screen are a wonder-

Two Go to Alaska Alone.
OREGON CITY, Ore., May 31.—Virginia Harbottle, aged 9 years and her sister, Gladys, aged 8 years, left Sunday for White Horse, Yukon Territory, to join their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Harbottle. They were accompanied as far as Seattle by an aunt, Mrs. G. F. Askew, but they will make the 1100 mile journey to their home alone. They made the trip to Oregon City a year ago unaccompanied.

The two girls have attended the Oregon City schools during the winter and were guests of their aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Bigger.

Told King "Go Chase Yourself."
ROME, May 31.—King Victor Emmanuel, late one night recently dressed in the uniform of a simple foot soldier, lifted the flap of one of the little dog terris that are just big enough to allow three soldiers to lie side by side and asked to be taken in for the night. It was snowing heavily. The three territorials, failing to recognize the king, gave his majesty the merry ha! ha! and told him to go chase himself. A flash of light revealed who was being gazed. The three territorials nearly tore down their dog tent to get out and salute. One of the three then was allowed to go and chase himself.

GREATEST BLOOD REMEDY

Gives Results When Others Fail
Nature's Remedy For the Blood.

The purifying and curative properties of Nature's great remedy have made "S. S. S. for the Blood" a household name. Thousands today enjoying perfect health owe their recovery from blood or skin diseases to this universally used blood purifier. S. S. S. is made entirely from roots, herbs and barks, which possess cleansing and healing ingredients. You cannot be well when your blood is impure; you lack strength and energy, you are morose, you are nervous, you are pale and sallow, your vitality is weakened. When waste or refuse matter, which Nature intends shall be thrown off, is left in the system, it is absorbed into the blood and boils, pimples, rashes, blotches and other eruptions of the skin appear.
S. S. S. goes into the circulation and removes every particle of blood toxin or poison of every character. All skin diseases and eruptions pass away, and the smooth clean skin, glowing with health, shows that the body is being nourished by rich, pure blood. Rheumatism, Gout, Scrofula, Contagious Blood Poisons, all are deep-seated blood disorders, and for their treatment nothing equals S. S. S. Get S. S. S. at any drug store.
