TILL THINGS TURN UP. My heart to the man who are doing things now. My hand to the spirit that leads me on.

MILLIONS FOR OREGON

The senate and house conferees have voted to give Oregon 50 per cent of the land grant money, 25 per cent going to the irreducible school fund and 25 per cent to land grant counties for roads and port districts.

The senate has already passed the bill as recommended in conference and the house is expected to take similar action today.

This means that of the forty millions anticipated from the land grant property Oregon people get the benefit of twenty million. Of the remaining money four fifths goes to the reclamation fund and one fifth to the general government.

The Oregon delegation is entitled to congratulations upon its good work. In the final struggle Senator Lane was found loyally working with Senator Chamberlain in behalf of the school fund.

Had legislation been guided by the spirit of the land grant conference and the "midnight resolution" the state would have gotten nothing.

Twenty millions for Oregon and a $10,000,000 increase of our irreducible school fund seem to be the fruits of the agitation carried on by the independent press of the state, the East Oregonian included.

WILSON'S RECORD

What honest issue can be raised against the reelection of President Wilson and the continuation of his party in power?

With Germany having yielded to the demands of the American government, conceding all the points raised by President Wilson in defense of American rights and for the upholding of American honor, can there be any question of the efficacy of the handling of foreign affairs?

Will the republican party contend that despite the fact that President Wilson won a great diplomatic victory, not merely for the people of the United States, but for civilization itself, this country nevertheless should have gone to war with Germany?

When President Wilson gave the order for the American troops to enter Mexico to break up the bandit bands which had been causing the loss of life and property along the border, the republican leaders in congress applauded the firm action that was taken. It was agreed by the republican leaders in the senate and house that no other action was possible.

Will they say now that the United States government should withdraw the troops from Mexico or will they say that the United States should declare war against Mexico?

So far the opposition party has confined itself to vague and general statements that the handling of foreign affairs will be made an issue. The count will have to be more specific or else it will be given short shift in the court of public opinion.

MOSBY, AVIATOR OF THE SADDLE

COL JOHN S. MOSBY was a military aviator of the Civil War period. That is, he was as close an approximation to the fighters of the air as was possible at the time of the warfare in which he participated.

A cultured man of engaging qualities, he found some of his most sincere admirers among the enemy, who once held him in such detestation that they designed hanging him when captured.

How was the South able to transform him and many other men of like peaceful careers into men of prompt decision, quick action, resourcefulness in adopting means to ends, and an almost unerring capacity for doing the right thing at the right time—in short into men with almost ideal qualities for command?

When we have learned the South's secret of discovering and utilizing Mosbys among its unprepared masses, we shall have learned a valuable lesson in preparedness.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

BRITISH SAY THAT FOE'S LOSSES WERE HEAVIEST

LONDON, June 5.—A statement issued by the British admiralty, confirming previous statements of the battle between the British and German fleets, reiterates that the German losses are false.

It says that, although the evidence is still incomplete, enough is known to justify saying that the German losses were greater than the British. "not match relatively to the strength of the two fleets but absolutely." There is the strongest ground for believing the statement says that the German losses include two battleships, the dreadnaught battle cruisers of the most powerful type and two of the latest light cruisers in addition to smaller craft, including a submarine.

MILL GIRL'S VOICE LURES CUPID

BARONESS OTTO HIRSCH.

PATERSON, N. J., June 2.—Miss Barbara Bourhill, a pretty twenty-year old worker in a silk mill here, is in receipt of a proposal of marriage as a result of her winning out over 100 competitors for the distinction of being "local soloist" at the annual Paterson Musical Festival.

A week after her triumph in the singing competition came a letter from the Rev. Lawrence A. Clay of Hattiesburg, Miss., proposing that Barbara Bourhill should become Mrs. Clay.

As evidence of his earnestness the reverend gentleman forwarded his proposal through the medium of the Rev. Dr. William A. Waldo, pastor of the church in which Miss Bourhill is a soloist.

Mr. Clay in a five page letter describes himself as a descendant of Henry Clay, a graduate of a Presbyterian seminary and the owner of a $5000 parsonage in one of the most beautiful spots in the south.

"I read of your wonderful voice," he wrote, "and the thought came that you could upliftly by charge and could give more than others. I love music, and my congregation would surely be benefited if you would come."

But although she is greatly pleased, and means to write Mr. Clay a nice letter of thanks Barbara Bourhill is not going to think of marriage as yet—not for a long time.

LARGE CROWD GATHERS.

While the Rose Festival is not scheduled to open formally until Wednesday, the festivities really begin tomorrow evening with the crowning of Queen Muriel. Some idea of the part Pendleton's queen and king will play in the festival may be gained from the following summary of events in which they take part.

At 7:15 tomorrow morning the Rosarian band will serenade the queen at the Portland hotel. The band and the directors of the festival will then escort her to the city hall where she will be presented to Mayor Albee. At 7:45 the pageant, preceding the crowning, will form at the city hall and march to throne at the Festival center. In the queen's carriage with her will ride the king and President Dundore of the festival. The Rosarian guard will form a hollow square about her carriage. At 8:15 Queen Muriel will leave the royal automobile at the corner of Broadway and Washington and will turn on the switch that will illuminate Broadway. The crowning will take place at 8:30. President Dundore will set the crown upon her head and Mayor Albee will present her with the key to the city. At 9 there will be an explosion of aerial bombs to announce the successful crowning and between 9 and 10 the queen, her retinue and the direc-

Frank Store. At 8:30 she will be escorted to the Oaks where from a special throne she will view the fireworks. Thursday. At 9 a. m. King Joy, who is sheriff of Umatilla county, will attend the meeting of sheriffs to form a state organization. At 2 p. m. the queen and king will lead the annual floral parade of decorated automobiles and horse-drawn vehicles.
