THE ETERNAL SAPHO WILLIAM FOX PRODUCTION

With Theda Bara

6 Acts. A virile photodrama of the soul. A play that hits home to man and woman the moral of a common life story. Theda Bara as Laura Gubbins, ruins many lives in this masterful drama. Miss Bara acts with unusual force a role of heart interest which excels in intensity her former triumphs. It has a moral with a "heart punch."

"ETERNAL SAPHO" AT PASTIME

Will Show Theda Bara Picture Part of This Week.

"The Eternal Sapho," a modernization of the famous stage play, "Sapho," and a film which barely escaped the Portland censors, just as the stage success was surprised at one time or another in various cities of the United States, is in many respects the most successful film in which Theda Bara, the screen's best known vampire woman, has appeared.

The story concerns Laura Gubbins, a youthful inhabitant of the underworld. She is rescued from a life of poverty and a drunken father by artists and when they draw lots for her possession, H. Coudat (Warner Oland) is the successful one. The little artist becomes his model and through her posing he becomes famous, his "Sapho" meeting with universal acclaim as a wondrous work of art.

Laura meets a young gunman, who rescues her from thugs, and is a witness of a murder committed by him when on a burglarious errand.

At a reception Laura meets Billy Malvern (James Cagney) and John Drummond (Elmer Fendley), both of whom fall in love with her. Although Drummond is married and has a pretty little daughter, Laura believes him a bachelor and becomes involved with him in an affair which she believes will lead to marriage.

Malvern admits to Drummond his desire to marry Laura, and later tells Laura of his love, but she declares she will marry Drummond. Then he tells her Drummond already is married.

Laura makes Malvern bring her as a dinner guest to Drummond's home. She torments Drummond through the dinner, intending to expose him before his wife. But Laura becomes interested in their little daughter, and through the child's charm cannot bring herself to break up the happiness of the home. Then she consents to marry Malvern, who brings her to his home where his widowed mother recognizes his wife-to-be as the woman who accompanied the man who killed her husband. Laura then returns to the studio to find that Coudat has killed himself and then she realizes that she has wrecked the lives of three men without bringing any happiness to herself.

Come early. Pastime today.

World's Greatest Motion Picture Actor to Be Seen Here at the Alta Theater Today.

Henry B. Walthall, proclaimed by many dramatic critics to be "the world's greatest motion picture actor," will be seen today on the screen of the Alta in "Beulah," a six part photoplay.

In this picture Mr. Walthall plays the part of Dr. Hartwell, the embittered and melancholy hero of Augusta J. Evans' famous novel, and it has been pronounced to be the best piece of acting that this distinguished player has ever done before the camera.

Millions of theater-goers throughout the world esteem Mr. Walthall for his well-nigh inspired talents as the leading player in the massive productions of "The Birth of a Nation," "The Avenging Conscience," "Home, Sweet Home," "Judith of Bethulia," and "The Gangster."

Before posing in "Beulah" he completed his work in Griffith's "Birth of a Nation," the marvelous spectacle which owes much of its phenomenal success to the star's playing.

Mr. Walthall's friends believe that his genius and talents contributed in the highest degree to the world-wide success that attended the exhibition of these big productions.

Mr. Walthall stands among the highest priced artists in the world, his earnings aggregating some amount as the president of the United States. His contract calls for six days of work each week, seven hours a day and, at his salary of $1000 a week, he will receive about $166.66 a day, $2250 an hour, or about 40 cents a minute. No deduction of his salary is to be made because of cloudy weather or failure of the company to picture owing to other adverse reasons, hence the star will be richer $166.66 at the close of every working day for three years, each year's total salary being $52,000 or $156,000 for the three years work. He is to receive a royalty bonus on every foot of film made in which he is the star, and his yearly income is expected to total about $75,000.

At the Cosy.

Stories of the stage have an irresistible fascination on the screen and "Bobbie of the Ballet" with Louise Lovely as the featured star is no exception to the rule. Miss Lovely is livelier than ever as the little member of the pony ballet who is left by her dying mother in charge of two children. Her efforts to keep these children out of an orphanage and to make a living for them and herself make up a photo-play that will hold one in rapt attention until the end of the play. Come today.

At the Temple.

When the theatergoers of this city see "The Reapers," the Equitable feature with John Mason and Clara Whipple in the leading roles, they will be treated to one of the most artistic pictures yet released in which such a tremendous appeal is made to the better nature of mankind. It is a picture that must be classed with the uplifting dramas of the times, and with John Mason as the star, the strong and virile story of "The Reapers" could not be in more able hands. "The Reapers" will be shown at the Temple tomorrow.

Dance at German Hall. Saturday, June 17. All are cordially invited and assured a good time.—Adv.
