1917 CADETS MAY BE GRADUATED AT ONCE

WASHINGTON, June 20.—Embarrassed by a shortage of regular army officers at this time, members of the general staff considered graduation next month of the class at West Point who ordinarily would graduate in June, 1917. In the event of war, some officials told Secretary Baker such a step would be necessary. The suggestion now considered is to give these men their commissions in July and send them as militia and recruit instructors. Should the number be insufficient, it was suggested these cadets be commissioned and assigned to posts, while the class that would ordinarily graduate in 1918 be sent out as militia instructors.

LETTER BRINGS DIVORCE

Chicago Woman Gets $50 a Month Alimony and Care of Daughter.

CHICAGO, June 17.—My little girl was the starting and "always your boy" was the finish of a letter that won a decree of divorce for Mrs. Emily Chandler before Judge Kersten. With the decree she was also awarded $50 a month alimony and the custody of her 3 year old daughter, Helen. Chandler was a dashing young salesman and won the heart of Emily Bradley, switchboard operator for the former reporting firm of Walton, James & Ford in 1908. Two weeks later it is said, she discovered that his "dash" had carried him over the bounds of matrimonial proprieties. "He always went around with other women and had them telephone him," Mrs. Chandler testified. "I spoke to him about it he said: "What are you going to do about it? Are you going to stay and stand by it?" "One day he received a telephone call and then went out. I followed him. He met a woman and they disappeared in a building on the South Side."

The following letter, dated August 11, 1909, and said to have been written by Chandler to another woman, was introduced in evidence:

"My Little Girl: I am writing on the streetcar. It seems that all I am doing here is work and accomplishing nothing. But it can't be that way at ways."

"No, we were not in the College Inn. The nearest we were to it was the Union. The other cafes were the State and Stillson's and Edelweiss and

I think, Hoffbrau. Who is the girl Chicago? Give me her phone number and I will call her up. I would be pleased to see anyone who had talked to my little girl yesterday. "Say, honey, write me so I can get a nice loving letter Saturday. Always your boy."

SITUATION IS QUIET IN CITY OF MEXICO

MEXICO CITY, June 20.—Completely apprised of the critical situation existing between the United States and Mexico, the citizens here, taking example from the officials, are calm. No violence has been offered any Americans so far as is known. Some of the newspaper editorials are full of what they regard unwarranted violation of Mexican autonomy by the United States, but advise citizens to await the action of the government.

God is Played to Work.

BOSTON, June 17.—The trials and tribulations of business stenographers in defending themselves from employers who are "maasers" were put in the shade when Miss Gertrude Ford, financial secretary of the stenographers' union, told how she had to dodge a maasle while taking dictation. She was one of the speakers at the opening session of the New England women social workers' conference.

Her former employer, she said, was accustomed to smoke and swing a golf club for practice while giving her dictation. What with the choking smoke blowing in her face and the terror of being at any moment clubbed over the head by her athletic boss concentration on her notes was difficult. This was one of the many instances related to prove that the strain on a stenographer's mind was sufficient to justify her working only an eight-hour day.

WOMAN AIDS JAILBREAK

Veiled Visitor to Cells is Believed to Have Passed in Saws. CHICAGO, June 17.—Two men held to the grand jury on many charges of highway robbery escaped from the old 4th Street police station early the other day by sawing off three wooden bars of their cell. A heavily veiled woman, who visited the prisoners on Memorial day after they had been held to the grand jury, was sought by the police. She is believed to have slipped the saw through the bars of the cell during her visit.

SIXTY CARLOADS OF FINE WATERMELONS TO BE RAISED HERE

UMATILLA COUNTY WILL MARKET PRODUCE THROUGH NEWLY FORMED EXCHANGE.

Sixty carloads of watermelons of the finest grade produced in the west will be raised on the Umatilla project this year and they will be marketed through the newly formed Hermon Melon Growers Association. The association was recently formed to promote the melon industry on the project and 60 acres are in crop this season. Most of the melons are of the Monte Cristo variety. An effort is made to produce a uniform quality of melon and by marketing in a cooperative way it is believed good results can be obtained. W. T. Sellers is president of the association and Yayton Boone, secretary. The association expects to send 12 cars of melons to Pendleton this summer.

ROOSEVELT'S PHYSICAL CONDITION IS BETTER

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., June 20.—Colonel Roosevelt spent a quiet Sunday playing with his grandchildren, Theodore III and Grace Roosevelt, and nursing his cold. He is in much better physical condition than when he left New York and will begin receiving callers today. The colonel showed much interest in the announcement that the militia had been ordered out for service on the border but refused to comment on the situation. Mr. Roosevelt also refused to comment on rumors that he would accept a place in the Hughes cabinet or become a candidate for the United States senate.

Lavender Cockatoo Lost.

NEW YORK, June 17.—The Baroness Elsa von Freytag, whose husband held a war prisoner in France, began a search of the sylvan glades in Central Park for Sharatza, her lavender and pink cockatoo, which flapped its wings and flew out of the window of the baroness' studio on the fourth floor of the Lincoln Arcade a few days ago.

Sharatza deserted its playmates, two Rip Van Winkle alligators, a prismatic chameleon, a mud turtle and Krupp, a fancy Pomeranian. The baroness was sitting on the window sill with Sharatza, when "cocky" heard the call of its mate and took the bird's air-line to Central Park or Broadway's lights.

The baroness, wearing white duck trousers and a red garment that went fifty-fifty with a fireman's red shirt and a sweater, ran into Broadway calling for Sharatza. She returned quite hastily.

Sharatza has had the run of the studio, and this was the first time in 12 years that it had stayed out all night.

The baroness, once an artist's model, plans soon to uplift the stage; it is rumored.

To prevent skidding and slipping in damp weather the streets of San Francisco are sanded by a machine mounted on a motor truck.

RAILROADS HAVE A PROBLEM IN MOVING TROOPS TO BORDER

OFFICIALS BELIEVE THAT COMPANIES WILL ESTABLISH RECORD IN TASK.

CHICAGO, June 20.—The western railroads are facing the greatest test of efficiency if they can move the eighty to hundred thousand militiamen summoned to the Mexican border without a hitch and without affecting the passenger traffic, railroad officials declared. "We have plenty of equipment and can make up many trains as that within an hour the public will not know the difference," one said. Railroaders expected few trains would be moved to the border for several days. Trains are moving today toward mobilization points in the various states. Santa Fe officials said they can move 8000 troops daily without affecting the regular traffic.

Big Turkey Attacks Boy.

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., June 17.—Joseph H. Smith, 4 year old son of Bela B. Smith, principal of the Connelleville High school, was attacked by a turkey gobbler while visiting the farm of his grandparents near Bellevernon. The gobbler had lacerated the boy's face before his father drove the fowl off. The lad had snatched up a club and bravely tried to protect himself up to that time. The turkey weighs 30 pounds and the boy 42. The father, a former tackle on the Lafayette College eleven, with visions of his son's prowess later on the gridiron, said, "He'll not quit in the third quarter."

A DELEGATION OF WOMEN

were intensely interested when they recently visited the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., and saw the extreme cleanliness and purity which prevail in the preparation and storing of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as well as of her other medicines. An hour is required to go through so large an establishment. One thing which struck the visitors was the great number of files containing the letters of women who told how much the famous Compound had done for them. Only part of them are published, and no letter is ever published without the writer's permission.—Adv.

CLEVELAND, June 20.—Two score passengers on a Clifton boulevard car had narrow escapes from injury recently when they fled in fright after a broken trolley wire had set fire to the car roof. The wire snapped at Thoreau avenue and Clifton boulevard. Falling it struck the front end of the car and flames shot up. Shrieks of women among the passengers, most of whom were on their way to church, threw the car into confusion.

Windows were broken as men tried to escape. She crowd rushed for both exits and managed to reach a place of safety, while the car crew fought with the crackling flames above. The Lakewood fire department answered an alarm tured in by one of the passengers and the fire was extinguished. Traffic was tied up for 20 minutes.
