SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

The closing exercises at St. Andrews school will be held Sunday afternoon in the school hall at 2 o'clock, June 25th. Previous to the entertainment, His Lordship, the Rt. Rev. Bishop O'Reilly, D. D., of Baker City, will administer the sacrament of confirmation and also give the address to the school. The program for the girls school will consist of songs, duets, piano recitals, drills, etc., and promises to be exceptionally good. The boys' program will embrace the following:

- Song—"St. Andrews" school. Poem—"Greeting" Masters V. and M. Sams. Address to the Bishop, Charles Duffy. Playlet—"The Stolen Trotter, Masters Shellal, Brouillard, McFarland, Parr, Farrow, E. Farrow, Narcisse, Loyd, Williams. Prophecy—Joseph Williams. Recitation—Chas. Duffy. The Merry Minstrels—The entire school. Our New Army—Wm. Hung and soldiers, from the Minima. Dance a la Primrose—Robert Parr and Alvin Bergevin. Rose Song—"To the Bishop, Masters Duffy, McFarland, Loyd. Presentation to Bishop, Lawrence Bergevin. Viva il Papa—Choir. America—Entire audience. Holy God We Praise Thy Name—School.

The band under the direction of Rev. Wm. O'Brien, S. J., has prepared an excellent concert for this occasion. The superior and faculty of St. Andrews school wish to extend their sincerest thanks for the kindness shown them in the purchasing of tickets by the people of Pendleton and to Leon Chen for his many kind favors during the year.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Otis of The Dalles arrived today to be guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. Raymond and to attend the wedding of Mrs. Retta Wombach to William Henderson Bailey tomorrow evening.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Taylor of Pomeroy, Wn., are guests at the home of Mr. Taylor's father, Henry J. Taylor. Mr. Taylor is manager of the Pacific Coast Elevator Co. in Pomeroy.

Because of the cool weather the Baptist Sunday school picnic, set for tomorrow, has been indefinitely postponed.

George Ferguson is back in the city after an extended visit in Minnesota. He will be here several days.

Dr. and Mrs. R. E. Ringo arrived home this morning from New York and other eastern points after an absence of several months during which the doctor attended several clinics and took post-graduate work. They returned via the Canadian Pacific to Seattle and spent two days in Portland en route home.

Mrs. Adah Losh Rose last evening presented a very successful home talent entertainment at Athena under the auspices of the library board. Tom Thum's Wedding" was presented and a number of young people appeared in interpretative dances.

H. L. Stanfield was up from Stanfield yesterday. H. G. Casteel, prominent Pilot Rock business man, spent the night here.

MILITARY DRAMA WITHOUT A BATTLE

Buzzard's Shadow Story of Frontier Post Life.

Today the pastime will present the military drama, "The Buzzard's Shadow." This Mutual Masterpicture features Harold Lockwood and May Allison and is an interesting feature throughout. The story deals with army post life on the frontier in the early days and there are stirring scenes aplenty. William Stowell as the villain is very convincing. There are no battles but the plot of the play hinges on a beautiful love affair between Miss Allison and Harold Lockwood. In addition a good comedy will be shown and the Pastime orchestra of three pieces will furnish the music.

Women Have Vamped from Time

Immortal; Fox Now Gives Men a Chance; "Sins of Men," a scathing Arrangement of the Evil Men Do.

Coming to the Pastime tomorrow is the William Fox feature of super-merit, "The Sins of Men," with Stuart Holmes and Dorothy Bernard and all-star supporting cast. The vital problem picture is based on a novel theme, the publication of a book called "Myself," which exploits a new philosophy, the creed of selfishness. The author's daughter, is involved with a relative of the publisher of the book, a role enacted by Stuart Holmes. The false doctrines of the book are spread to all members of the two families involved in its authorship or publication, bringing ruin, disgrace and sorrow. Even an adopted daughter of the author falls a victim to the false doctrines of "Myself." Her real father learning of his daughter's downfall seeks vengeance on the author. But the teachings of the book "Myself" continue to bring suffering through selfishness until the characters are by one fall victims to their selfish desires.

Alta Theater Tuesday and Wednesday

Harold Lockwood and May Allison, one of the most popular stellar combinations in motion pictures, will make their debut on the Metro program in "The Come-back," a gripping five part production which will be presented here at the Alta theater on Tuesday and Wednesday. This feature was made for the Metro program by the Quality Pictures Corporation under the direction of Fred J. Balshofer, who practically discovered Mr. Lockwood soon after he went into motion pictures and predicted a big future for him. The supporting cast here includes Lester Clinch, Bert Starkey, Mitchell Lewis and Clarissa Selwynne.

Until recently, Mr. Lockwood and Miss Allison have been seen starring on the American-Mutual program. Before that both were stars with the Famous Players, where they made many notable feature productions. But they were glad to get on the Metro program under its unique and popular starring system, and pleased to be with Mr. Balshofer one of the foremost directors in the country. Mr. Balshofer has exercised special care to select scenarios for Mr. Lockwood and Miss Allison in which youth, romance, adventure and the spirit of the great outdoors predominate. It is in such productions that this couple have always excelled and which have won for them thousands of admirers in every quarter of the globe. Mr. Lockwood is one of the most fearless artists now acting before the camera, and always takes a keen delight in doing so-called "stunts" of the most dangerous character. He has been injured repeatedly through his daring, but never discouraged.

"The Come-back" is one of the strongest features in which Mr. Lockwood and Miss Allison have appeared. It deals, for the most part, with life in the logging camps of northern Maine, with many interesting glimpses of New York society for a contrast in an intense story of today.

At the Cosy

How big a lie would you tell to win the girl you love? And if she found out ten minutes after the wedding ceremony would you still have the nerve to keep up the bluff? This is only one of the many interesting situations in the new Gold Seal feature play starring the popular romantic actor Herbert Rawlinson with Agnes Vernon in "The Mark of a Gentleman" at the Cosy. Startling realism is the noticeable feature of the Railroad Bandit, which with the one reel comedy "How Times Do Change" is at the Cosy today.

Quartet Makes Good at Temple

The quartet has a substantial basis in the person of J. T. Hill, who is ranked among the finest colored bass singers in the United States. He takes "A" natural with ease. Mr. Hill's training has enabled him to render the more difficult classics as well as the ever popular plantation melodies.

As a reader Mr. Hill occupies an enviable position on the platform. Possessed of a splendid physique, a rich deep voice, and a mind that can keenly discern the authors purpose, it is not surprising that audiences are carried by his interpretations. Mr. Hill's diction is excellent and his clear rich voice runs the gamut in the expression of strong emotion, sparkling comedy, and delicate pathos. He excels, possibly in the dialect readings from Paul Laurence Dunbar.

Today at Temple.

Notes of "The No-Good Guy"

William Collier, in his new Triangle starring vehicle, appears as a detective who couldn't detect a thunder-storm unless he was struck by lightning.

Willie Collier, as an inebriated gentleman, pursuing his bed about his chamber, constitutes an interesting and amusing feature of "The No-Good Guy," new Triangle five-reel comedy. Triangle blows up an eight story concrete building with a bomb, in the new Wm. Collier starring vehicle, "The No-Good Guy."

Enid Markey, Triangle's slender and big-eyed star, in Wm. Collier's leading woman in his new five-reel comedy, "The No-Good Guy."

It's a department store that Willie Collier picks out to smash up with a runaway automobile in his new Triangle five-reel comedy, "The No-Good Guy." He smashes it pretty well when he drives in, and completes the job when he backs out.

Temple today and tomorrow.

Sutherland Boy Drowned

ROSEBERG, Ore., June 21.—Percy Earl, aged 14 years and a former resident of Sutherland, was drowned while bathing in a river near Staver, Polk county, according to word received here. The body has been recovered and will be taken to Sutherland for burial. In addition to his mother, Earl is survived by three sisters.

At the time of the tragedy Earl and his sister were bathing in the river near the former's home. Neither of them could swim. It is supposed that Earl was seized with cramps or stepped into a deep hole in the river.

Individual fenders for each front wheel of a motorbus, so mounted as to always be in position for use, have been invented by a resident of London.
