PROTECTION IS WANTED AGAINST TUBER MOTH

PORTLAND, Ore., June 22.—There is an insistent call from various interests of the Pacific northwest for the taking of immediate steps to shut off entirely importations of California potatoes.

The finding of so much tuber moth stock here of late in the shipments of potatoes from various California districts has caused almost the entire trade to demand restrictive measures.

Both Oregon and Washington state authorities are being called upon to protect the potato industries of the Pacific northwest. Idaho has already taken a hand in the matter and no further shipments from California will be allowed to enter that state. Various interests now express the opinion that decisive action should be taken at once by Oregon and Washington because unless all act together, the protection afforded the industry would not be complete.

That tuber moth has not already ruined the potato industries of Oregon, Idaho and Washington is a mere matter of luck and not due to any special precautions taken by the authorities. The latter have done their duty as far as lies in their power, but it is impossible for them to examine every potato shipped in from the south or even every sack. Unless the former is done some of the tuber moth is likely to slip through the lines and the industry placed in great danger.

Japan is now being deluged with a shower of umbrella orders, China, India and the South Pacific countries having turned to that market since the war cut off their English trade.

TESTS TO BE MADE ON DEVICE TO KEEP FISH FROM DITCHES

MANY TROUT DIE BY BEING WASHED OUT ON LAND BEING IRRIGATED.

Thorough tests of devices to prevent fish from entering irrigation ditches are to be made by forest service officers who say that thousands of the trout pined in western streams by the government are killed through being carried into the ditches and washed out on the fields. There are not less than 1200 irrigation projects on or near the National Forests, and in many places the loss of trout is very heavy. The amount of water used in irrigation, it is said, often determines the advisability of artificially stocking the streams.

The government annually plants large quantities of fish fry in the streams of the national forests. Last year over 1,000,000 were planted in Colorado and Wyoming alone. This was done to render the forests more attractive to the public by affording good fishing. Where much of the water is used for irrigation, unless the ditches are screened, the trout enter and are washed out onto the fields. While fish are said to make good fertilizer, officials think that trout are too expensive to be used for that purpose.

In the far north of the Russian empire lives a race of people who do not know who the Russians are and who do not know that there is a war.

Because of the heavy snowfall last winter, forest rangers found it necessary this spring to remove two feet of snow from the Beaver Creek nursery in Utah, so that the young trees might be uncovered by the time they were needed for spring planting on the national forests of that region. Part of the snow was taken off by use of shovel and pick. By spreading a thin layer of fine soil over another part, the natural melting of the snow was hastened sufficiently to make shoveling unnecessary.

AS GOOD AS A CHEW OF "SPEAR HEAD"

That Means the Supreme Degree of Rich, Luscious Tobacco Flavor

NO OTHER CHEW EQUALS IT

Nature varies the flavor she puts into the different grades of tobacco leaf—and the best of all is the flavor of choice red Burley that pleases you so mightily when you chew Spear Head.

The delicious fruity flavor of a chew of Spear Head is a revelation to the man who has never chewed or who has been chewing near-good tobacco.

For chewing is the one way to get all the wholesome, healthful, appetizing flavor of the tobacco leaf—providing you chew a high-grade plug like Spear Head.

No other tobacco can compare with Spear Head in the wholesome satisfaction it gives.

You get more savory sweetness in a chew of Spear Head than in a whole plug of ordinary tobacco.

And you get it in its purest form—for Spear Head is made amid the most wholesome surroundings, in a great, new factory that's kept absolutely clean and sanitary.

Try this rich, mellow, satisfying, pure chew. Such a chew cannot be obtained in any other tobacco than Spear Head. In 10c cuts, wrapped in wax paper.
