Insurance is Paid.

A check for $600 was turned over yesterday to Mrs. Blanchou, administrator of the estate of Peter Blanchou, by C. E. Heard to cover the damage to the dwelling at 593 Maria street by fire recently.

McKay Girl at O. A. C.

Miss Carmen Jones of McKay creek, who was adjudged champion turkey grower of the school children of Oregon, is among the winners in the industrial club contest now being given a summer course at O. A. C.

Body is Brought Here.

Mrs. Clarence Penland yesterday received word of the death of her aunt, Mrs. Israel of Bend, Ore., who was a sister of her father. The body will arrive in Pendleton this evening to be laid beside that of her mother.

Not the Indian.

William Barnhart, Indian, who says he has forgone John Barleycorn, wishes it understood that the man of his name connected with the recent bootlegging case in court, is a white man and not himself.

Water Hearings Set.

Hearings in the matter of determination of the relative water rights on the west prong of the Little Walla Walla, on the middle branch of the east branch of Mud creek and on Johnson creek have been set for Sept. 11 at 10 o'clock in the morning.

Railroader is Bankrupt.

Joseph V. Lang, a local railroad man, has been adjudged a bankrupt and the matter is now in the hands of Referee Fitz Gerald. His liabilities amount to several hundred dollars and his assets nothing but his wages. Because his wages have been garnished by creditors, leaving him without money to support his family, he went into bankruptcy.

Carl May Causes Trouble.

Carl May, former pitcher in the Western Tri-state League and now with Boston, was the cause of a near riot yesterday. One of his pitched balls hit Captain McBride of the Washington team and McBride promptly threw his bat at the blonde. Players of both teams rushed to the diamond and before they were dispersed Agnew had hit Manager Griffith of the Washington team and was placed under arrest.

Natorium is Reopened.

The repair of the natatorium will be completed today and the institution will be ready for reopening by the Fourth. The council took advantage of the cool weather to patch up the corner where there was a considerable leakage. The corner proved to be rotten due to the fact that, when the concrete was laid, there were not enough pumps to keep it clear of sewage water. In consequence the cement was washed out of the concrete and the pressure of a full tank caused it to open.

Masks Arrive.

Geo. Hooker the florist, received today a shipment of masks and carnival goods for use in the big fun feature on the Fourth night.

Will Repair Dwelling.

A building permit has been issued to Mrs. Charles H. Carter for the repair of the Carter residence on Vincent street. The work will cost about $200.

Bootlegger Arrested.

Chief of Police Tom Gurdane this afternoon arrested an alleged bootlegger and took into custody Wild Bill, an Indian to whom he is alleged to have sold liquor. The trial will probably be held this afternoon.

Engine Was Off Track.

Through the fact that a Northern Pacific engine on the run from Walla Walla to Pasco went off the track at Attalla the morning passenger train into Pendleton did not arrive until 1:45 this afternoon. The freight train had not arrived at that hour.

First Outside Order.

The first outside order for the self-rising pastry flour manufactured by H. G. Blydenstein arrived today. The order is from the Fruitland Grocery Co. of Freewater and gives evidence of the fact the new product is welcomed.

200 Plug Uglies Wanted.

For the Plug Ugly section in the Fourth of July parade 200 entries are wanted, says R. E. Chloupek, in charge of that feature of the parade. "TWO YEARS AGO IT TOOK FORTY PIECES OF SILVER TO BUY ONE PIECE OF GOLD"

Regarding the present conditions of the silver market Royal M. Sawtelle has given some of the causes of the unprecedented rise in the value of silver bullion which has advanced from 44 cents to nearly 80 cents an ounce.

"Today twenty-seven ounces of silver will buy an ounce of gold. The rise in the value of silver is one of the most exciting financial events of the time. The causes are known. The effects have hardly begun to be felt. They may project themselves further into the future than any one now can see.

"Owing to the revolutions in Mexico—that country being the largest one source of supply—additions to the world's stock of silver for several years have been diminishing, first relatively, then actually. At the same time, owing to economic and financial phenomena arising from the war in Europe, the demand for silver has in the last two years become suddenly greater and more insistent than was ever the case before. Coinage of silver money in all the principal belligerent countries, especially France, England, Germany and Russia, has rapidly increased since the beginning of the war. Gold has entirely disappeared from view in Germany. It ceased long ago to serve as a circulating medium in France. Both governments impounded all they could lay hands upon for the protection of national credit. In Germany people were obliged to surrender their gold. In France they were persuaded to do so. In both of those countries paper and silver currency have wholly displaced gold from hand circulation. In England gold is still free, but the amount of silver money in use there also has been largely increased, and, if it should become necessary to do so, paper money 'uncovered' by gold would be issued by the Bank of England in order to increase its command of gold reserve. In Russia both paper and silver money have been displacing gold. Russia has been a very heavy buyer of silver in China, and the Japanese are coining it into rubles for her.

"Certain questions naturally arise. Why should a government in which the people have unlimited confidence go to the trouble and expense of buying silver for coinage? Why not go on issuing paper money for circulation? Is not the fact that a government is able to buy silver proof enough of its solvency? And if it is solvent, why isn't its paper good with its own people? The answer is that money must be related to people. Theory alone will not suffice. Traditions, habits and prejudices have to be considered. There is a limit to the amount of paper money issued on the credit of the government that people will freely accept. The limit is variable between different people. It is probably much lower in Russia than in France and England. But with any people there is a more or less definite ratio which metal money should bear to paper money.

"Paper money has been increased enormously in Europe. That circumstance alone would call for a greater coinage of silver. But it is probable that at the same time people have been hoarding silver. That would be only natural. Gold they are forbidden to hoard; silver they may. If they save at all they would be at liberty to put silver aside and spend the paper money. Silver has an intrinsic value and always will have. Paper money, no matter how much confidence you have in it, is open to risk. Silver in hand would not be changed in value by the outcome of war, whereas some of the paper money now appearing in Europe may be greatly depreciated by the conditions of peace.

"So, what with a decreased output, an extraordinary demand for purposes of immediate coinage, and the inclination of people to value it more as money, silver was bound to go up. The effect upon the fortunes of the silver countries of the east, especially China, remains to be seen. In the gold prices of the west, the silver money of the Chinese will buy today almost half again as much as it would buy two years ago. Also, the effect upon the fortunes of Mexico would be almost marvellous, if the people of that distracted country could only take full advantage of their opportunity."

lips of Spokane, the man shot by W. O. Marren, and Rudd who works in the Bogert soft drink parlor, is the father of one of the principal witnesses at the murder trial. It is said there has been bad blood between the two men for some time and that Jones struck Rudd yesterday when the latter called him a profane name.

OFFENSIVE IS BEGUN.
BERLIN, July 1.—The repeated British and French attacks at many points on the German front "everywhere were repulsed," said an official statement this afternoon. The French attempts to recapture Froideterre and Thiaumont near Verdun, were repulsed with severe losses.

(It is not clear whether the statement includes the operations on the British front today.)

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Mrs. Blanche Bloomfield, who has been visiting her mother, Mrs. Edith Hughes, left this afternoon for Spokane, where she will meet her husband. They will go from there to Great Falls to make their home.

Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Adkinson and family of Pilot Rock, are here today.

Mrs. J. S. Lluellen of Weston, who underwent an operation recently at St. Anthony's hospital, is now at the home of her brother, F. E. King, and is improving rapidly.

Mrs. Lydia McDonald, who teaches in the Columbia school out from Hermiston, is in the city.

The management of the "Bibliothèque Universelle," of Switzerland, which recently printed an article severely condemning the German Kaiser, has been fined 5000 (4100) for violating the neutrality of the country in publishing it.

ONLY ONE FOURTH NUMBER OF ARRESTS MADE HERE

NUMBER DURING FIRST SIX MONTHS OF 1915 AWAY AHEAD OF 1916.

A little less than one-fourth the number of arrests made during the first six months of 1915 marked the first half of the prohibition year 1916 in Pendleton, according to the police records. During the first six months of 1915 there were 692 arrests by the police, the records show, whereas for the first six months of 1916, which ended yesterday, there were but 150. This number is less than the number of arrests in the single month of May last year.

The following is a comparison of arrests of the two years month by month:

	1915	1916
January	102	22
February	52	23
March	84	21
April	108	46
May	151	16
June	195	15
Total	692	230

BIG CROWD HEARS BAND.

Want Chautauqua Again.
Last evening Superintendent Hendrix sounded out the sentiment for a chautauqua next year and practically every one in the audience stood to signify a desire for a 1917 chautauqua. Pledge cards, obligating the signer to take tickets next year, were passed among those present and many were returned with signatures.

It was announced yesterday that the Rinor Sisters, scheduled to appear today, would not be here owing to the illness of one of the young ladies. As a substitute the Ellison-White management has secured a trio featuring a whistling soloist.
