FISH BITE EXCITES ANGLER

FRED HUNTER SHOOT'S 'SELF' IN LEG WHILE FISHING AT OLIVER LAKE.

BAKER, Ore., July 11.—Fred Hunter, believed to be from Pendleton, got a bite and a shot at the same time while fishing at Oliver lake, near Sumpter, yesterday.

Fishing became dull and Hunter allowed his baited line to trail from the boat while he shot at objects on the shore with his .35 caliber revolver. A trout nibbled and pulled. Hunter jumped quickly for his steel rod just as it started overboard. The jump caused the revolver to explode and he was shot in the leg. He was taken to Sumpter for treatment.

At Sumpter Mrs. A. H. Harley was teaching Miss Opal Wood to shoot a .22 caliber rifle, the hammer slipped and a bullet lodged in the arm of Mrs. Harley's 17-year-old daughter, Pearl Studeg, shattering the bone.

play. Peggy Malone and her mother, Widow Malone, keeper of the boarding house are introduced. Peggy is adored by all the boys in camp, but she is in love with Drew, who regards her only as an amusing little girl.

In the east the man who is financing the work dies, leaving his interests in the hands of his lawyer, Daniels. Daniels and Daniels visit the camp. Rhea Mitchell plays Bettina, and she, as the dainty eastern girl, Peggy, as the product of the rough western surroundings, are an interesting contrast, each appealing in her own way. Daniels and Drew are also contrasted to the discredit of Daniels. The struggle begins at once when Daniels arrives at the boarding house and has an encounter with Peggy. Drew interferes to aid Peggy and incurs Daniels' hatred. From here on the play is full of thrilling sensations, the villain Daniels gets his just deserts and Drew marries one of the girls. Can you guess which? In addition a clever comedy.

though the lesson is so well disguised in the unfolding of the interesting and often exciting plot that the presence of a moral is never suspected at all. The original name of the play was "Tainted Money," which describes it better than the one which was adopted when the first was censored. The scene in which the self-righteous leader of the "Purity League" humbly begs "Big Tim" for the loan of some of his tainted money is one of the strongest in recent photoplays.

pictures was done in the role of a western cow-girl, Clara Williams, who plays the leading feminine role in "The Market of Vain Desire," the Triangle-Ince feature in which H. B. Warner is starred, has recently achieved marked success in her characterizations of girls of wealth and refinement. It is such a role that she is cast with Warner. In preparing for the part she gave her undivided attention to her gowns. She purchased several creations that came direct from Paris shops, and these are said to be unusually beautiful.

"It is the wide variety of parts one is called upon to play with ever-changing costumes that lends enchantment to motion picture work," declares Miss Williams.

"THE MASKED RIDER"

BRIMFUL OF THRILLS

Lockwood-Allison Picture Next Offering on the Metro Program.

"The Masked Rider," a sensational five part Metro-Quantity production, with Harold Lockwood and May Allison in the stellar roles, will be the next feature attraction at the Alta Theatre on Tuesday and Wednesday.

This wonderplay is brimful of thrills, especially in the big scenes staged in the mountains of North Carolina. There are many exciting moments in this part of the story, which deals with the moonshiners of that section. The outlaws are brought to justice through the daring exploits of "The Masked Rider," played by Mr. Lockwood, who poses as a mountain parson until he gathers his evidence against them. Before they are captured the fighting parson is obliged to display his prowess in one of the most remarkable encounters ever shown upon the screen.

The central characters in this fight are Mr. Lockwood and Lester Cunes, who plays the villain in the role of "Squid Archer." The leader of the moonshiners, Miss Allison is seen in the delightful role of a beautiful mountain girl, whom the fighting parson wins in the end.

Mr. Lockwood and Miss Allison are surrounded by an exceptionally strong cast headed by Mr. Cunes and including Howard Trussell, Harry Berkhart, John MacDonald, H. W. Willis, Harry Linky and Charles Selwyn. "The Masked Rider" was produced for the Metro program under the direction of Fred J. Balshofer.
