CHAMBER HEAD IS CHANGED.
T. B. Bruener Chosen President of Aberdeen Body.
ABERDEEN, Wash., July 15.—A. C. Galliac resigned as president of the Aberdeen Chamber of Commerce, and the chamber executive committee appointed Attorney T. B. Bruener to fill the vacancy. Mr. Bruener was given authority to employ a secretary at $100 a month, and will make this appointment within the next few days. Permanent offices for the chamber will be established in the Washington Hotel, starting August 1.
Prior to accepting Mr. Galliac's resignation the executive committee closed a deal whereby Ell Brangberg, of Hoquiam, will reorganize the old Universal manufacturing plant and manufacture there a new patented wood blocking, to be sold as a mounting for cuts and for flooring. This blocking is made from mill refuse, small pieces being placed end to end and glued together. This brings all weight upon the wood against the grain, hence the blocking, although of soft wood, will stand more pressure than hardwood.
According to reports from Skagway, Alaska, shipments are being made from large deposits of magnetite in that locality as a result of the European war.

RELIGIOUS UNITY URGED.
CHICAGO, July 15.—The European war is teaching religious denominations as well as nations to get together in a spirit of cooperation instead of working independently in a spirit of competition and often of rancor. At the same time it reveals just as strongly that the problem of religious unity is not to be solved by the destruction of the organization and identity of the different denominations.

The formation of a world parliament of denominations in which each unit, intensively organized, shall work with the others to advance the cause of the highest good would solve the problem, according to Dr. Frank L. Anderson, president of the Baptist Young People's Union of America. He delivered the opening address at the 25th international convention of the union at the Coliseum.

More than 10,000 miles of macadam roads have been ordered built in Afghanistan since the ruler of that country became the owner of an automobile.

James J. Corbett
by Walt Mason

Once there were giants in the land, men who could scrap to beat the band. In modern times the cheapest skates are known as champeen heavyweights, but long ago, when Jim was young, men didn't fight with jaw or lung, but used their fists, and used them well—brave days of Jackson and John L. They slugged away, while they could stand, when there were giants in the land. And Corbett won his laurels then, among those mighty fighting men. He was the champion when that meant something more than getting fat, and standing, in a graceful pose, to figure in the movie shows. He's an authority on sport, and his decrees the wise ones court. He's an authority on smokes, and as his trusty pipe he stokes, he often says, "Tuxedo's best; it has the edge on all the rest."

JAS. J. CORBETT
Famous Prizefighter and Actor, 1871-1933
"My enthusiasm for the fragrance and mildness of Tuxedo has no limit. Tuxedo is without doubt the most satisfactory pipe tobacco."
