Where It Pays to Trade

Irish Situation Grave.
LONDON, July 24.—John Redmond, the Nationalist leader, made public a memorandum which he sent to Premier Asquith and David Lloyd George, the secretary of war, on Tuesday, in which he declared that the delay in making public the text of the Irish bill and the irritation caused by Lord Lansdowne's recent speech had created a serious situation in Ireland. He adds

"In my opinion any further delay whatever in producing and proceeding with the bill will make a settlement on the lines laid down in the terms submitted by Mr. Lloyd George quite impossible. When these terms were originally submitted to us we were strongly urged to use all possible dispatch in consulting our supporters in Ireland. It was pressed upon us that the matter was one of extreme urgency, that from all points of view it was vitally important that the settlement should be pushed through quickly and we were told that not only Irish but great Imperial interests were at stake.

"It is now more than three weeks since we did our part and obtained the assent of our friends in Ireland in the face of great difficulty, as the proposed terms were far from popular. Since then little or no progress has been made, and for some mysterious reason the matter, which five weeks ago was so urgent, now hangs fire."

A meeting of the Irish party has been summoned for Saturday, when the situation will be taken under consideration.

AN OLD PROVERB.

It used to be proverbial that every man (and it is certainly no less true of women) is either a fool or a physician at forty. This means that every intelligent person must learn so much about caring for his own health that by the time he is forty years of age he can almost be reckoned a physician.

Why, then, is there so much talk by doctors against "self-medication"? A woman can recognize all ordinary ailments without calling on a doctor. If they are ailments distinctive to her sex she can recognize them enough to use the greatest of all remedies for such ailments, Luffa E. Padtham's Scientific Compound and Bileless Oil. It is familiar with the standard remedies for other diseases.—Adv.
