DELVILLE WOODS COUNTER ATTACK LOSES HEAVILY

British Continue Steady Advance Despite Extremely Violent Opposition.

REGIMENTS ARE ANNIHILATED

Several German Battalions Are Completely Wiped Out—Hand to Hand Struggle North and Northeast of Woods Continues Uninterrupted.

English Coast Raided. LONDON, July 29.—It is announced that three German airships at one-thirty this morning dropped thirty two bombs on Lincolnshire and Norfolk. The damage was immaterial and there were no casualties. A fog hampered the raiders. Anti-aircraft guns repulsed the invaders at one point. It is believed the Germans attempted to reach Hull, the cruiser base.

LONDON, July 29.—The Germans have counter-attacked in Delville woods. Haig reported that two desperate assaults were defeated. The Teutons suffered heavily. The hand to hand struggle north and northeast of Delville continues uninterrupted. Haig declared the British were steadily advancing despite the most violent opposition. Haig reported that several German regiments were annihilated around Delville wood.

ITALIAN LINER IS VICTOR IN FIGHT WITH SUBMARINE

ROME, July 29.—It is announced the Italian liner Retalvia en route to Genoa from New York defeated an enemy submarine and then continued her voyage.

NEW YORK, July 29.—The liner Retalvia is the property of the Furness Withy Company of New York. She sailed from Genoa July 19th. New York agents had not heard of the submarine attack and were unable to furnish details. They assume the liner outdistanced the attacker.

That such a strong remonstrance will be filed against the Umattila port district and the Pitman road proposal that the matter will not be submitted to the people of the district is stated today by men who are leading the opposition to the move.

For several days petitions against the port district have been circulated and they are said to have been freely signed, even by people who previously signed the other petition.

POPE PRAYS SPEEDY PEACE

SECOND ANNIVERSARY OF WAR CALLS FORTH A PAPAL STATEMENT.

(Copyright by the United Press.) NEW YORK, July 29.—The United Press through Cardinal Gasparri:—Rome.—To the United Press. I presented your telegram to the Holy Father. His Holiness was grateful for your respect and confidence in the Holy See. He prays the Lord's mercies, moved by the prayers of the innocent children imploring peace in the second anniversary of this terrible conflict, may speedily end the awful carnage. Signed, Gasparri.

The telegram replying to United Press cablegram asked the Pope's statement on the second war anniversary. The cablegram requested a "papal statement to the American people."

The Turkish army is coming to where the only word it can send the Kaiser by: "The running is fairly good."

Liner Appam Is Restored to Her Owners

NORFOLK, July 29.—Federal Judge Waddell restored the captured British liner Appam to her former owners. He decided against the German prize crew. He held the German government had lost its legal claim to the vessel when Lieutenant Berg brought it to American waters.

The judge ruled that the Prussian-American treaty of 1799, renewed in 1825, does not apply to the Appam case. He asserted that the German prize court decision declaring the Appam a prize while the case was pending here does not affect the American jurisdiction over the Appam. He cited numerous precedents. The decision says: "The court's conclusion is that the method of bringing the Appam into American waters constituted a violation of the United States neutrality. She came without permission. She remains here in violation of law. She cannot depart for lack of a crew. Therefore she must be treated as abandoned and stranded on our shores. Her owners are entitled to restitution of property irrespective of the prize court proceedings of the imperial German government and it will be so restored."

SURVIVOR OF PERRY EXPEDITION IS DEAD

Alexander Weir, Participant in Japan Visit of 1857, Passes Away.

PORTLAND, Ore., July 29.—Today there are but two survivors left of the expedition to Japan led by Commodore Perry in 1857, the expedition which opened the door of the Orient to commerce and made the Pacific coast a factor in the busy world.

Alexander Weir died Wednesday after a lingering illness. He had lived at Cooper mountain near Beaverton and cancer slowly took him. Weir and Commodore W. H. Hardy of Portland were shipmates on that momentous expedition. They had long been separated after the expedition had dispersed, but found each other a few days ago and had renewed an old-time friendship.

"Commodore" Hardy, who lives in Portland, was fairly overcome at the cemetery yesterday. Fears were entertained for a time that he, too, was about to pass away. He rallied, however, after being taken to his home.

Besides "Commodore" Hardy, only one other survivor of that expedition is now alive, so far as is known. He is the oldest of the three and lives at Seattle.

RUSSIAN OFFICIAL STATEMENT CONFIRMS GAINS

The official statement said: "By an audacious thrust General Leselaki has thrown back the enemy in the direction of Stanislau south of the Dniester. Figures regarding the prisoners and booty are unavailable yet." It is reported there was a further big advance of Dukh Nicholas and the Caucasus army. He said: "The native division took Ezerzany. Friday we captured twenty four hundred prisoners, fifty five guns and other booty. The advance toward Sivas and Kharpuz continues. At Mosul the Turkish attack was repulsed. The enemy fled in disorder."

BERLIN, July 29.—It is announced that strong British attacks in the Caucasus region failed. It is admitted the Russians have penetrated the German lines in the Tresten region forcing the abandonment of advanced positions beyond the Stokhod river. The Russians are developing attacks along the Stokhod river north-west of Lutsk. A strong attack north of Sokut was heavily repulsed.

Germans Influence Waterfronters Not to Rent Boats to Newspaper Men—Promoters Show Signs of Anxiety Concerning Fate of Bremen Long Overdue.

BALTIMORE, July 29.—The Deutschland remained at the wharf partly submerged. The crew kept aboard. No word was received regarding the Bremen.

Spy fears frenzied the Deutschland's crew. Three British merchantmen anchored nearby. An expedition from the tug Timmons visited the newspapermen's private pier investigating the private telephone line. Reporters threaten the sailors from cutting the wires. Germans influenced the waterfronters to refuse to rent newspapermen boats. The Deutschland's promoters are anxious about the Bremen.

FAMILY IS POISONED EATING MUSHROOMS

Two Members of Portland Household of Five are Critically Ill.

PORTLAND, Ore., July 29.—Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Miller and three daughters—Leah, aged 14; Pauline, 19, and Annie, 6—living at Whitwood Court, on the Lannton road, were poisoned early last night, presumably from eating mushrooms served at their home, and are in a very serious condition.

Physicians who were immediately called pronounced the condition of Mr. Miller and of Leah Miller to be critical.

All were taken to the hospital by the ambulance.

Hilda, another daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Miller, aged 7, was the only member of the family not affected. She is said to have eaten none of the mushrooms.

Leah Miller became hysterical shortly after dinner and ran down a hill to a restaurant.

Members of the Miller family first notified Mrs. A. Hoff, a neighbor of the strange sickness which had suddenly seized them. She immediately telephoned for a physician. Two other physicians were called, as the condition of the different members of the family grew more serious.

The first ambulance called to carry the sufferers to the hospital, ran off the grade turning from the Lannton road up to the house. The machine was put out of commission, but no one was injured. Another ambulance was obtained immediately.

LOCAL BARBER MEETS TROUBLE IN THE DALLES

Jess Edmiston Slapped Farmer in Face is Fined Sum of $20.

Jess Edmiston, former Pendleton barber, may be able to realize that after all there is no place like home in the future. Edmiston, who is well known in Pendleton police circles, hit another man in the police department of The Dalles. This week he was fined $20 for slapping Harry Edwards, president of the Wasco County Farmers' Union in the face. According to the story from The Dalles, Richards apparently ruffled the feathers of the territorial artist the wrong direction, for a quarrel ensued and the rascal wielder slapper Richard's face.

Edmiston left Pendleton some time ago because he said the Pendleton police department had it in for him.

Sustains Painful Injury. While diving backwards at the motorium last night, Wesley Hassell, well-known young Pendleton man, suffered a deep gash on his chin and the loss of several teeth. As he was going into the water he struck his head against the cement. It was necessary to take several stitches in his chin.

You never see anyone bent under a burden of conscious obligation for favors received.

Savage Assaults Hurlled Against All German Lines

KAISER FORCED TO UTILIZE ALL RESERVES FROM VERDUN TO STEM THE TIDE.

(ED L. KEEN.)

LONDON, July 29.—The British front is withstanding Germany's powerful attacks. The artillery is hammering and massed assaults so far have failed to dent the British advanced lines. Experts here believe the Kaiser is utilizing all his reserves from Verdun and several other points in a bitter attempt to recapture British gains. There is a particularly fierce battle beyond Polderes where the British are marching toward Baupains. Steady hand to hand fighting goes on. Several Brandenburg regiments were annihilated in Delville woods. Petrograd declares the Russians are steadily progressing against the Austrians and Turks. Berlin frankly admitted the German retreat south of Kovol. The Austrian statement, twenty-four hours overdue, admitted the Russian advance toward Brody. The French statement indicated the Germans had resumed a violent Verdun bombardment.

It will cost the company about $600,000 to supply the water. It is estimated that 90 per cent of the farmers in that district will vote for the establishment of the district.

BRITISH INCENSED OVER CAPTAIN FRYATT EXECUTION

KAISER'S CONFIRMATION OF DEATH SENTENCE FURTHER INFLAME PUBLIC FEELING.

LONDON, July 29.—A Maastricht dispatch has reported that the Kaiser has confirmed the death sentence of Captain Fryatt, of the channel packet Brussels. This further inflamed British feeling. Press and public declared Fryatt's execution was cold-blooded and ferocious and worse than Edith Cavell's.

The Maastricht dispatch said the Duke of Wurtemberg had wired the news of the death sentence to imperial headquarters asking for confirmation. The war council granted it immediately. All members, including the Kaiser and General Von Falkenhayn, voted yes.

The British foreign office claims that the allegation of the German government that Captain Fryatt had with him a watch bearing an inscription commending him for an attempt to ram a submarine, is untrue. Officials of the foreign office state that in charge against Captain Fryatt must have been based on press reports. Captain Fryatt was known as a "pirate dodger" on account of his success in eluding German submarines in the channel and North sea.

The foreign office also has sent a protest to the American embassy asking for the immediate release of five stewardesses of the Brussels who have been confined in a German detention camp.

The way England puts it: "The Kaiser is still decorating what is left of the German navy."

Cryder Found Frost Every Night During Three Weeks

Range conditions are excellent on the west division of the Umattila forest, according to W. W. Cryder, head of the Umattila forestry office, who returned last night from an extensive tour of inspection of the territory.

Cryder says there is an abundance of grass and lots of water this year and the great number of sheep and cattle which have been turned into the forest for the summer should have a great year.

The rabies evidently has done a good work for there are few coyotes left after the ravages of the disease this year. Forest rangers are finding the forests covered with dead coyote bodies.

During Mr. Cryder's three weeks' visit in the forests there was frost almost every night and the days were cool. The down timber is wet, due to the late season and there will be little danger from forest fires for some time.

Mr. Cryder has 800,000 acres of forest under his supervision and 14 rangers. He made most of the journey on foot.

The trip was made by way of Heppner, Fossil, John Day and Spray. "Everywhere in that section, said Mr. Cryder, we heard much talk of the Round-Up, and the people are all planning to come this year. The residents too seem to think very favorable of the Pendleton normal school and will support it."

The hay crop around Heppner is beautiful and residents of Morrow county say that the crop is general are the best in the last ten years.

Cryder will leave Pendleton this week to visit the eastern slope of the forests.

PETROGRAD, July 29.—It is announced that General Brusilov has resumed the offensive and forced a Teuton retreat on the whole of the Kovel front between Horlich Railway and Brody. The Russian capture of Brody is again announced.

The Russians are rapidly enveloping Kovel from the southward. Brody's capture enables the Russians to thrust northward toward Kovel. The Russians are also advancing toward Lemburg. The Russians have progressed twelve miles in two days. Petrograd believes that many prisoners were taken around Brody. The Russians have seized the railways to facilitate the advance.

The fall of Brody is a serious threat to Lemburg and the rapid successful advance of General Sushkevich's forces menace the whole Austro-German line of communications from the north to the south.

This Galician town, 58 miles north-east of Lemburg, is a great railway junction and it had been expected the Austrians would retain it at all costs. The swiftness of this new Russian stroke was unexpected and may lead to the capture of Lemburg itself. The Russians according to a report from Petrograd also have broken the whole Austro-German front west of Lutsk. In this success they are reported to have captured two generals, 20,000 prisoners and 45 guns.

IF GUNS WERE WANTED WHY DID NOT THIS ROBBER TAKE THE ENTIRE ZOLER ARSENAL?

Who stole three rifles from the cabin of John C. Zoler near Duncan and why didn't the robber take the rest of the arsenal, while he was at it. This is a question puzzling Zoler and some of his friends who had "shooting irons" stored at his place.

The robbery occurred on the day of the freight train pile up near Duncan and while Zoler and Ashley Follette, who was staying with him, were helping with the wreck. The guns taken included a Beaumont English army rifle, a U. S. Winchester sporting rifle, a 22 Remington automatic, belonging to Teddy Hausworth, and a 12 gauge Winchester shotgun.

Zoler was formerly a government hunter and is now engaged in trapping. He is also deputy game warden and since the robber showed a preference for the Zoler guns it is believed that possibly the theft was committed by a personal enemy who knew as to the ownership of the guns. On this assumption the stealing of the Hausworth rifle is attributed to a mistake.

McKay Road Now Public

Word was received today by Major Swartzlander, superintendent on the Umattila reservation, that the secretary of the Interior has approved the application of the county court to have the road from Mission to McKay P. O. made a public highway, under the jurisdiction of the county court.

The actions means the above mentioned road, which leads to McKay via Shumach Gate, will henceforth be maintained by the county. The application for the road was made some time ago and the move was greatly favored by reservation farmers.
