BOOSTS FOR ROUND-UP

"Kit" Carson Tells La Grande People of Big Show.

W. F. (better known as "Kit") Carson, is in La Grande for a day or two to explain in various ways the main features of the big Round-Up at Penleton this year. Among other things he has moving pictures of the great annual gathering which he expects to have thrown on the canvass tomorrow.

"There is no possible doubt," says Mr. Carson, "that the show will be bigger and grander than ever. An order has been sent to Texas for two carloads of the biggest, longest-horned and most implacable steers that can be had for the performances. There will also be a bigger lot of riders and ropers than ever before."

"Kit" Carson's territory extends as far east as Salt Lake and he intends to let everybody within that territory know through illustrated supplements, moving pictures and otherwise what a big treat is in store for those who attend the 1916 Round-Up.

STORY OF FLOODS IN NORTH CAROLINA IS GRAPHICALLY RELATED

Blue Ridge Division of C. C. & O. Is Entirely Destroyed—Estimated It Will Cost $5,000,000 to Replace the Track Over the Mountain—Food Supply Low.

Flat hand information concerning the great havoc wrought by the flood in North Carolina during the middle of January is contained in a letter just received by W. M. Peterson of this city from an old friend, J. B. Ray, president of the Blue Ridge Division of the C. C. & O. Mr. Ray is a brother of the late postmaster of Freewater.

The letter reads in part as follows: The flood damaged the Blue Mountain Railway considerably, some 1000 to 150,000. It washed out a trestle at Penasco, and did considerable damage to the track in that vicinity. It also washed five trestles from beneath a trestle at Kona, our junction with the C. C. & O. It also did considerable damage to the substructure of the bridge at that place. It simply destroyed the Blue Ridge of Mountain division of the C. C. & O. It is estimated that it will cost five millions to replace the track on the mountain, requiring four months to get trains over same and eighteen months to accommodate the heavy coal trains which that company operates. The flood of 1901 had taught a lesson to the inhabitants along the Toe river and they have kept well away from same. At Spruce Pine it did considerable damage, no loss of life, however. It cleaned out some three miles of railroad in the gorge of the C. C. & O. which has been repaired and Tuesday was our first mail over that line to this place. The conditions are serious, in that the food supply in some of the remote sections is running low. The train went to Spruce Pine on yesterday, and will operate regularly unless the rain storm at that place has again interfered, which took place yesterday afternoon. Asheville, Rutherford and Bat Cave suffered greatly. Asheville is attempting to minimize the damage, fearful of detracting the summer travel which visits that section. Several hundred people were marooned on the Southern railway in the neighborhood of Asheville. The Spartanburg branch is all gone. The French Broad river is running where the railway used to be below Asheville. The Round Knob section is a complete wreck. Trains detouring to Lynchburg and through to Knoxville, then to Murphy and over Murphy division to Asheville. The despised Murphy branch saved the situation for Asheville. Asheville was in complete darkness for a week. Conditions are now about normal at that point. Some thirty lives were lost in and around Asheville. Southern R. R. is injured at Statesville, Hickory and Monroe, and the Charlotte division between Charlotte and Salisbury is now operating. Four thousand men are repairing the Asheville-Salisbury division. The N. & W. east of Hatteras to Lynchburg suffers but little. The narrow gauge out of Johnson City is now running, although it suffered with the remainder of the roads. Acres and acres of land on the face of Blue Ridge in McDowell on C. C. & O. has slipped several feet and it seems that the face of that mountain is a flat, sloping rock and the water setting down to the rock loosened the earth and the whole thing slipped. Millions of yards of railroad fills are gone. Not a foot-bridge along the Toe river. The Poplar bridge weathered the storm as did the Unaka Springs bridge, the north fork of Catawba went out. It was a single span bridge with one pier under center. The only damage done was to the crops of Yancey, and that along the Cape river section at Cape river or Elbert Wilson section. No cutting of the land—just washed away the harvested wheat and submerged the corn crops. The damage to Yancey is all from a comparative viewpoint.
