ICED TEA

Of all the summer beverages that are prepared for home consumption, Iced Tea is probably the most widely popular as well as the most refreshing.

Your favorite tea is brewed in the usual way—preferably by using a pierced silver tea ball so that the spent leaves can be readily removed from the pot instead of being left to ruin the fine flavor. Pour the tea into a serving pitcher, add sugar, and cool at once to the desired temperature. Serve with a slice of lemon to each glass, and add cracked ice if desired.

It is customary and proper to serve Iced Tea and drinks of a similar nature in a long thin glass. For stirring liquid refreshment served in this fashion a special spoon is required, having a long handle but with a bowl of about the same proportions as that of a tea spoon.

Unless these are provided the beverage must be served in a different manner than that prescribed by custom, and one's self or one's guests may be placed in an embarrassing predicament through awkward efforts to manage a spoon that is too short.

Many things besides convenience have contributed to the popularity of Iced Tea Spoons. They are long, slim, and graceful, ideally designed for use with any tall glass, and on account of their length, handy for other household purposes that will suggest themselves. They are not expensive, and the ones we have in silver plate would appear to good advantage on any table.

Your inspection of our assortment of Iced Tea Spoons is cordially invited.

8 Glasses $1.00
8 Spoons $1.00

VALVE-IN-HEAD MOTOR CARS
THE REWARD OF CONSISTENCY
In all branches of business and industry the big successes have been won by the firms and individuals who settled upon the right policy and then stuck to it.
The Buick Motor Company first made sure that the Valve-in-Head motor principle was right. Then we stuck to it. We were sure we were right because all the laws of common sense and engineering science told us so. And we stuck to it because an ever increasing encouragement from the public enabled us to do so.
These principles have been rigidly adhered to from the start by the Buick Motor Company. It is the reason for the Buick's great success. It is the reason for the present overwhelming demand for Buick motor cars.
