What the Picture Theaters Have to Tell You.

SOMETHING IN BRIEF OF MME. KALICH'S PHOTODRAMA "AMBITION" FILM TRIUMPH

Madam Bertha Kalich, of whose dramatic supremacy generally little need be said, appears in another master motion picture drama of the William Fox perfect tie in "Ambition," a story of political intrigue in typical American life. In this photodrama the world-famous star finds an outlet for her dramatic art such as in her first picture for the Fox organization, "Slander."

The story of her film experience in "Ambition" is one which every American man and woman should see, for it is the epitome of the pitfalls of American present-day existence whether it be in public or private life, love of money for what it will buy and of fame for what it brings in so-called high society. Marian Powers (Mme. Kalich) is the wife of an ambitious assistant district attorney. He is hopeful of promotion by the political boss of his town. The boss does not think well of Powers and declares he intends selecting another man for the office sought by Powers.

Mrs. Powers, hoping to aid her husband, decided to lay siege to the heart of the boss and does so with the result that the political boss falls in love with her and she with him. Their relations, however, are entirely platonic.

Powers encourages to boss' attentions to his wife and seeks in every way to leave them together. The boss inadvertently learns that Powers is willing to sacrifice his own wife for his own political selfish ambition. The boss, in spite of his affection for Mrs. Powers, does not sanction the promotion of Powers. Mrs. Powers realizes the utter unworthiness of her husband and leaves him. Pastime today.

Alta Friday and Saturday. Fannie Ward, the distinguished actress who scored such a triumph in the Lasky productions of "The Cheat" and "For the Defense" will be seen at the Alta on Friday and Saturday, in the vivid drama "A Gutter Magdalene" in which she will be seen as a beautiful Salvation Army lass.

Buzzards and Booze. Buzzards and "booze" led Major Burke a merry chase for two days after he had sent a charge of buckshot in the general direction of Deacon Todd. What the buzzards started the "booze" continued and Major Burke was mightily relieved when old Todd drove up in his newly purchased "Henry" and forthwith straightened matters out. "The Secret of the Swamp," one of the cleverest of Bluebird Photoplays to be exhibited at the Cosy theater today illustrates how Deacon Todd's cows were fattening themselves at the expense of Major Burke's corn-field and the buzzards are seen hovering above the swamp where Major Burke's liquor-inspired fancy has located the dead body of his miserly neighbor. The bare recital of these few details may not indicate an exciting evening at the picture theater, but to tell the whole story would spoil the enjoyment of a skilfully contrived and artistically played feature that winds up, after plenty of sensations, in the biggest "laugh" a photoplay ever produced.

REUNION OF PREHISTORIC THRU Mae Marsh, Robert Harron and Wilfred Lucas Act Together for First Time in Five Years. From time to time in the motion picture industry there have been assembled remarkable casts whose unusual harmony in getting results, coupled with distinct native ability, long kept them together as regular production combinations. Such an association was that of Mae Marsh, Robert Harron and Wilfred Lucas, the three stars now appearing in the novelty triangle feature "The Wild Girl of the Sierras."

Bluebird Photoplays, Inc., Present

"The Secret of the Swamp"

An American Comedy-Drama in five exciting acts introducing Myrtle Gonzales, Val Paul, George Hernandez and a Company of Superior Merit. Filled with sensations; bubbling with mirth; replete with emotions.

Five years ago, they appeared together under direction of D. W. Griffith in the first "primitive man" film ever made, "Man's Genesis." Their work in this picture was commented upon most enthusiastically by the critics, and it was generally believed that they would be regularly maintained as a producing combination. But somehow or another, Lucas was transferred to a distant branch of the studio, and so the idea was abandoned. Recently, however, the trio were reunited. They will be presented in another new play immediately after "The Wild Girl of the Sierras" is released. Temple Sunday and Monday.

Christian Church Study, Pastor of Temple Theater.

Dear Sir:

It gives pleasure to know that you are bringing to our city such a high class educational and moral production as the "Damaged Goods." The whole community should appreciate your efforts in this line. The play contains a greatly needed lesson on clean, pure living that will be helpful to the young men and women.

Yours sincerely,

H. B. HUBBARD, Pastor Christian Church

To the people of Pendleton.

The problem play, "Damaged Goods" to be put on at the Temple Theater in a 7-reel film Thursday and Friday of this week, has the unqualified endorsement of the Oregon Social Hygiene Society, of which I am a member. It is a strong moral play and I take pleasure in commending it to the people of Pendleton. Children, however, should not be permitted to attend without their parents.

J. E. SNYDER, Pastor Presbyterian Church.
