Frank Hamilton Spearman's Famous Story

The most extraordinary production of the year

Sequel to "Whispering Smith"

"MEDICINE BEND" HAS THE SAME CHARACTERS EXACTLY AS DID "WHISPERING SMITH," AND IT IS CLAIMED BY THOSE WHO HAVE SEEN BOTH PICTURES TO BE A SUPERIOR ATTRACTION THAN ITS PREDECESSOR "WHISPERING SMITH." IN "MEDICINE BEND" THE GREAT LOVE OF SMITH AND MARION SINCLAIR REAPS THE REWARD OF A TRUE LOVE, THE VILLIAN SINCLAIR MEETS HIS JUST DESERTS AND THE NOTORIOUS BAND OF LOOTERS ARE SCATTERED TO THE FOUR WINDS.

With Helen Holmes and J. P. McGowan

"Medicine Bend" is a feature replete with incidents that make a gripping story. Among the score of stirring scenes depicted are the holding up of a train in a rocky gorge under circumstances unusually thrilling, the battle with the bandits in a mountain fastness and the shooting up of the town in the darkness, the flickering street lamps and the flashes from the popping revolvers furnishing the only illumination for the combatants.

STILL THE SAME.
Here is a little lyric by Margaret Widmer, in Contemporary Verse.
"God holds, God guides, God keeps,
St. Francis' God and Buddha's still the same.
He who made Plato as a great wind, sweeps Paul as a piercing flame;
"He is the Peace we crave,
He is the Life; we pause and breathe it not;
He is the vibrance of the thought that gave
The radiance half-forgot.
"The old creeds crash apart,
Break in our tread, entreating hands, and fall—
God, the encircling flame, the eternal thought
Is over all."

UNGRATEFUL AND UNFAIR

There are signs that the efforts of the so-called Congressional Woman's Union to wage a fight on President Wilson will produce the same sort of results that attended their misguided fight on Senator Chamberlain in this state two years ago.

There are reasons why the women should resent the attempt of the "militant" suffragists to inject partisanship into the suffrage question and particular reason why they should resent the fight being made upon the president.

These reasons were splendidly set forth in Portland Tuesday night by a lady from The Dalles, Mrs. Thompson, who made a spirited talk upon the subject. In brief the points made by the speaker were:

President Wilson has been personally an advocate of equal suffrage; he voted for suffrage in New Jersey and made his position known to the world.

The president has been responsible for a mass of beneficial legislation of saving value to the nation.

He has been directly responsible for the child labor law for which the thoughtful women of the land are a unit.

He has preserved the country's honor and prestige yet has kept us free from war, its horrors and its cost.

These things are accomplished facts, not theories. They represent performance not promise or prophecy. They represent deeds, not words spoken to catch votes.

The record is such that it makes the efforts of the Congressional Union absurd and misplaced. Instead of fighting the president those women should be devoting their time and money to converting anti-suffrage states into suffrage states. It is ungrateful for them to be slaming a president who has personally voted for their cause just as it was ungracious for them to fight Senator Chamberlain who has been a long time worker and champion of suffrage.

It is a safe forecast that the women of Oregon will this fall rebuke the unfair work of the Congressional Union by voting directly contrary to the advice sent forth by that questionable organization.

PROF. FRENCH'S SIGNIFICANT ENDORSEMENT

If there are any people who have had doubt as to the advisability of a state normal school at Pendleton in preference to the rehabilitation of the old school at Weston such feelings will be set at rest by the statement of Professor R. C. French, former head of the old E. O. S. N. S.

Professor French is for the Pendleton normal measure and in his statement emphasizes the necessity of a school at a central point such as Pendleton.

His advice is that of an experienced school man who knows the difficulties that beset a normal school in a little town. He has no concern in the advancement of Pendleton but speaks for the welfare of education in Oregon.

The position taken by Professor French is the position of all the educators of the state from the state superintendent down to the humblest teacher. The fact the Pendleton measure is endorsed by the man who as head of the Weston institution led the fight for that school some years ago is significant and the meaning of his endorsement will be plain to the voters who seek intelligent guidance upon this issue.

PALESTINE'S PEOPLE STARVING

CHRISTIANS in America, where as in other Christian countries, Palestine means "The Holy Land," have an opportunity to show their interest in that country in a more substantial manner than usual. For, owing to the war, about 80,000 inhabitants of Palestine have died from starvation and thousands more are in dire want.

Scoffers at Sunday schools have charged that the teaching consists in the main of a "pottering around Palestine." However, that may be, there are large numbers of Sunday school teachers and scholars who probably know as much or more of the Holy Land than of their own country. It would be shocking if, at this crisis, the sole interest American Christians displayed in Palestine was geographical.

The able bodied men of Palestine have been drafted into the Turkish armies. Animals and food have been commandeered, and the local industries are ruined. Agriculture is at a low ebb, and the last crop was destroyed by locusts.

American churches and Sunday schools can easily give relief in this case. The country is small, and it is said that a dollar will keep a person alive there for two weeks. Up to this time, the American Committee for Armenian and Syrian Relief has sent $35,000 to Palestine, but much more is needed.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

On his western trip Mr. Hughes has devoted considerable time to criticizing Wilson because he has replaced some republican office holders with democratic appointees, but he does not say that if elected he would appoint his foes to office and he wouldn't.

Mediation is the diplomacy that prevents industrial war and both railroads and employes are sane in deciding to accept the peaceful course.

A dollar a bushel is a good price for wheat and it is not surprising there is heavy selling.

It will now be up to Hughes to assaid the president for the child labor law.

Now is the time when the enthusiastic grouse hunting experts look to their shotguns.

Very little occasion this year to visit the mountains or coast.

MANNER OF SHIPPING GAME IS DESCRIBED BY WARDEN TONKIN

LAW PROVIDES THAT EACH PIECE OF MEAT MUST HAVE METAL TAG ATTACHED.

Charge of Five Cents Is Made for the Checks and Money Received Therefrom Will Be Placed to Credit of State Game Protective Fund.

The attention of sportsmen is called by Warden George Tonkin to Sections 25, 6 and 37 of the Fish and Game Laws of Oregon, which prescribe the manner in which game may be shipped or carried otherwise than as baggage.

Section 5 provides that every quarter of deer or every other game animal or game bird which is offered or accepted for transportation or storage in accordance with this act must have attached to it the metal tag provided for this purpose by the State Fish and Game Commission. These tags will be attached to each piece of game by the deputy game warden or other person authorized to do the work upon application of the person making the shipment or storage. A charge of five cents will be made for each tag thus attached and the money received therefor will be placed to the credit of the State Game Protective Fund. It is hoped that this system of tagging will better enable the wardens to keep a check on game that is shipped for the purpose of violating the bag limit and also to trace the original ownership of game that has been unlawfully killed.

Section 26 provides the manner in which game may be shipped into the state.

Section 27 provides that all packages, boxes, barrels, etc., that contain game for shipment must be plainly labeled so as to disclose the fact that such package or receptacle contains a certain kind of game. Said packages, etc., are subject to examination by any officer entrusted with the enforcement of the fish and game laws. These laws will do much toward the protection of game as they will aid the officers in their work of detection and help support the game protection fund by money received from the sale of tags.

Copies of the game laws have been placed for distribution in many of the stores and public places in the county but if the local supply is exhausted send the deputy game warden a postal and you can receive a copy by mail. All hunters should remember that the game laws seek to protect the game during the closed season and to give all persons an equal chance in the hunt during the open season. Your cooperation with or protection of the person who violates the law not only incriminates you but helps destroy the game that otherwise you might lawfully enjoy.

THREATENED RISE IN PRICE OF BREAD IS NOT EFFECTIVE HERE

Although bakers throughout the northwest are declaring they will be forced to raise the price of bread from five to ten cents a loaf it is probable that Pendleton consumers of the "staff of life" will not be affected for some time at least.

C. Rohman, in speaking of the local situation today, declared he had 5000 bushels of wheat and enough flour purchased ahead to last six months and until that was utilized at least there would be no raise in the price of bread.

Otto Hobbach is not considering a raise. He stated that there were 15,000 bushels in convention at Salt Lake and that northwest bakers would be largely governed by the dictates of that body.

The reason for the proposed raise is due to the increase in the price of wheat.

PLUMBING PLANT FIRE DOES SERIOUS DAMAGE

Crane Company of Portland Has Blaze of Unknown Origin.

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 10.—Heavy damage, the exact extent of which is so far unestimated, was done by fire on the third floor of the building of the Crane company, wholesale plumbing supplies, Fourteenth and Irving streets, early last night.

Eight fire companies responded to the alarms and managed to confine the blaze to the third floor, but because of the hay and excelsior in which plumbing fittings are wrapped, it burned fiercely and was hard to handle.

At the office of the Crane company it was stated that the cause of the fire is so far unknown and that only a detailed check can determine the amount of damage to the building and stock.
