GROCERIES FOR LESS MONEY.

This is strictly a cash store, selling for cash only enables us to make lower prices than if we sold on credit. The cash buyer gets more for his money than one who asks for credit, because it costs money to carry accounts. This extra cost is made up by keeping book-keepers, extra clerks, lost accounts, in fact when you ask for credit you ask for an accommodation and you have to pay for it, and so does the cash buyer is he trades at any other place than a strictly cash store.

Birds of Passage.

"There is a deep green place where a little white-blooming meadow tree grows, and a Balm of Gilead, and tall wild roses and ferns and alders—there the land birds will linger for a few days," wrote Celia Thaxter once to Bradford Torrey. "It is very pleasant, the way they have of visiting us for a few days, only we miss them so when they go! A bobolink spent all last week with us, and we really were reluctant to come in to meals and leave him singing. And when a ferruginous thrush came to see us last year, all the inhabitants of the island used to go out and turn their faces to the sky and listen when he began his heavenly pipe! I am writing this at five in the morning, and the white-throated sparrow is whistling! I think they must build here; they are always heard; whistlers every one calls them here. I am always up at four, and I hear everything every bird has to say, on any subject whatsoever."

WORTH KNOWING.

The best remedy for rust on gas stoves is linseed oil rubbed on with a soft cloth. It also brightens the stove.

Colored handkerchiefs should be soaked in cold water for a short time before they are washed. This will prevent the colors from running or fading.

When about to clean paint in a kitchen or other rooms where there is a stove, heat a boiler of water and allow it to boil without a cover for a long time.

As you pack each article for moving make a note of where you put it and when you want to reach a certain article you can do so without any difficulty.

Clean the glass over pictures with a cloth wrung from hot water and dipped in alcohol. Polish them immediately until they are dry and glossy with chamolis or tissue paper.

MAPLE SUGAR.

Maple sugar frosting is the particular delight of the kiddies in one household. It is an old recipe which is very well known up in the northern parts of Canada where the maples abound. Simply boil maple sugar until it forms a soft ball in water, like candy does. Turn in slowly to the well beaten white of an egg and beat until smooth.

GRILLED MUTTON.

Slices of leg of mutton, one shallot, parsley, bay leaf, thyme, one tablespoonful salad oil, fried potato chips, one-half pint piquant sauce; cut some one and one-half inch thick slices from the thick end of a mutton, season with pepper, salt, chopped shallot, parsley, bay leaf, thyme and a little salad oil. Let the meat remain in the seasoning for one hour before cooking, then grill or broil the slices for one quarter hour and dish on a pile of fried potato chips. Serve hot with piquant sauce.

MOLD ON CANNED GOODS.

Mold may develop on canned goods—

(1) If the seal is defective.

(2) If, after sterilizing, tops are removed from jars to replace rubber ring. Jars should be returned to the canner for at least five minutes when this is done.

(3) If jars are kept in a damp place where the rubbers may decompose, mold may enter through these decomposed rubbers.

PROJECT WORKERS TO ATTEND BIG IRRIGATION MEET

MANAGERS, ENGINEERS AND HEADS OF ALL LEGAL DEPARTMENTS OF U. S. RECLAMATION SERVICE.

Delegates will have opportunity for first time of meeting in a body. All the Practical Men Engaged in Carrying Out Congress' Plans.

EL PASO, Tex., Aug. 24.—It practically has been decided that all managers of federal irrigation projects, all engineers in charge of reclamation work and all heads of legal departments connected with the many reclamation projects now under construction under direction of the government throughout the United States, will meet in force in El Paso during the annual convention of the International Irrigation Congress, which is to meet October 14 to 18, next.

This will be the first time in the history of the congress that opportunity has been given the delegates to meet as a body all the practical men engaged in carrying into practice the plans outlined by the congresses at their annual meetings since the systematic work of reclaiming lands by means of stored waters began 25 years ago. For that reason interest in the 1916 irrigation congress has been greatly enhanced. Owing to the number of new questions which will come before it for discussion and settlement the international irrigation congress of 1916 will rank as one of the most important congresses to be held since the work of reclaiming the waste places of the country was first inaugurated a quarter of a century ago.

It has become more and more apparent, each year, that in the reclamation of lands by means of irrigation as much attention must be paid to preventing the water logging of irrigated lands as to the getting of water to the lands. When the question of irrigation became a national question attention was chiefly centered in the matter of conserving water and applying it to the lands to be reclaimed. In the intervening years it has been learned, often at bitter cost, that there is such a thing as putting too much water upon the reclaimed lands. As a result more attention is being paid now, than in former years, to not only preventing the use of too much water for irrigation purposes, but to providing ways and means for relieving the over-watered lands of their dangerous burdens.

The matter of drainage will be one of the vital questions to be discussed at the irrigation congress when it convenes in El Paso in October," said R. F. Burges, president of the congress. "For that reason the project managers and the men who have made a study of the laws on the subject will be of more than ordinary importance and will add greatly to the value of the discussions of the questions when they come before the congress."

"There are at present 27 irrigation projects under way in the United States under federal control and the coming of the managers, engineers

PRETTY WEDDING IS SOLEMNIZED AT STANFIELD

Viola Greville and Joseph Cunha, Jr., prominent Young Folks, Married.

(East Oregonian Special.) STANFIELD, Aug. 24.—The wedding of Joseph Cunha, Jr., and Miss Viola Greville was solemnized at the Catholic church Wednesday morning, Father Butler officiating. The bridal party entered the church to the strains of the wedding march played by Miss Mary Connelley.

The church was beautifully decorated. Sweet peas predominating. The bride was daintily gowned in white silk with lace drapery over which was hung a white tulle veil fastened to her collar with orange blossoms. She carried an attractive bouquet of bride's roses. Her bridesmaid, Miss Mammie Ray, was in a dress of white voile. She wore a large white lace picture hat and also carried an arm bouquet of roses. The two little flower girls, Clara Cunha, sister of the groom, and Wilma Howard, were prettily clad in white and carried large bouquets of roses. Gustavus Greville, the small brother of the bride, led the way to the altar, carrying the wedding ring on a white satin cushion. The groom was attended by his brother, Antonio Cunha.

The bride is the charming daughter of Mrs. Pauline Greville and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Cunha, one of Echo's most prominent men.

Miss Rachel Hazen sang "I Love You Truly." The wedding breakfast was at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. C. W. Fregnitz. Mr. and Mrs. Cunha will make their future home in Echo.

Just the Thing for Diarrhoea.
"About two years ago I had a severe attack of diarrhoea which lasted over a week," writes W. C. Jones, Buford, N. D. "It became so weak that I could not stand upright. A druggist recommended Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. The first dose relieved me and within two days I was as well as ever." Many druggists recommend this remedy because they know that it is reliable. Obtainable everywhere.—Adv.

FEWER BABIES DIE IN N. Y. THAN EVER BEFORE

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—Fewer babies have died in New York this year than in any preceding years despite the sixteen hundred infantile paralysis deaths. Health authorities said the decrease was due to the fact that mothers took better care of the children and kept their homes cleaner, fearing paralysis attacks.
