PASTIME SHOWING DANDY PROGRAM TODAY

Anna Little, Frank Borzage, Lizetta Thorne, Edward Coxen, Ben Turpin and Mutt & Jeff Featured.

An interesting program is being screened at the Pastime today, consisting of a mixed assortment of clever pictures. Leading is "Nell Dale's Men Folks," a delightfully interesting human interest story of the west, featuring Anna Little and Frank Borzage.

"Ruth Ridley's Return" with Lizetta Thorne and Edwin Coxen will be found to be unusually entertaining.

Ben Turpin will keep you in good humor with his funny antics in "The Iron Mitt," as will Bud Fisher's comedy cartoon creations Mutt & Jeff.

This program will be shown today only and at the admission prices of adults, 10c; children, 5c.

Celebrated Actor at Pastime Sunday: Nat Goodwin, Man of Many Wives, Featured.

Nat C. Goodwin, famous actor and a man whom the public in general has heard of possibly more than any other living celebrity on account of his many matrimonial adventures, will be the star attraction at the Pastime Sunday-Monday in the Mutual Masterpicture, "A Wall Street Tragedy." This feature is a class A production and one the management of the Pastime is presenting knowing well that it will please his patrons.

The story deals, as the title suggests, with Wall street and high finance. Interwoven is a pretty love story and life on the Great White Way is shown in all splendor. In addition will be shown a clever George Ovey comedy

NEARLY WILD WITH BURNING ITCHING

Eczema. From Hands to Elbows One Mass. Could Not Put Hands in Water. Could Not Sleep.

HEALED BY CUTICURA SOAP AND OINTMENT

"My daughter was poisoned by salt and it turned into eczema and from her hands to her elbows was one mass of red, burning, itching eruptions. It began with a rash which was of such a burning itching nature that at times she was nearly wild. For many weeks she could not put her hands in water and she could not sleep.

"She suffered intensely for several weeks and I tried wringing towels out of hot water and putting a rubber sheet across her, but she wasn't helped. The Doctor said to try Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I did and the itching and burning left her, and I used four boxes of Cuticura Ointment together with the Cuticura Soap and she was completely healed." (Signed) Mrs. Ida Brown, 7029 Eggleston Ave., Chicago, Ill., Oct. 22, 1915.

Sample Each Free by Mail. With 25c. Skin Back on request. Address post and "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston." Sold throughout the world.

and the Pastime will also introduce to Pendleton the famous Katzenjammer Kids' Cartoon Comedies. The first one is called "Hans and Fritz and the Chinese Cook."

To marry her, she manages to place the girl in a compromising position with her husband, where she is also seen by the man she loves. How the affair is adjusted and she eventually is united with the one whom she loves is presented in a most unusual and attractive manner.

At the Alta. Blanche Sweet, the popular idol of the screen, will be seen at the Alta Theater on Sunday and Monday in the Jesse L. Lasky production on the Paramount Program of "The Dupe," written especially for her by Hector Turnbull and prepared for the screen by Margaret Turnbull.

Story of New Triangle Release is the Tale of a Luckless Savage, Shunned by White People.

Practically everyone has heard the expression, "Lo, the poor Indian." It does not mean "Behold the poor Indian." Lo is the Indian's name. The expression comes from a celebrated story by Bret Harte, called "In the Carquinez Woods," in which the central figure is Lo Dormante, a half-breed Indian. Why Lo should be pitied may now be seen on the screen, for Triangle has just made the novel into a picture called "The Half-Breed," with Douglas Fairbanks as the star.

Although "Lo, the poor Indian," has been made the text for all manner of stories about the way the Indian is treated by his white brothers, Lo Dormante is not really an Indian. His father was a white man. His mother was driven out of her tribe when he was born, and because he was born. Even Indians didn't want anything to do with him. He is "poor Lo" in more than one sense of the word.

As a child he is adopted by an old botanist who lives in the Carquinez Woods and given a fine education, but as soon as the old man dies the white men of the mining camp, not far away, remind him that under the law an Indian is not permitted to own land and drive him forth to find his living elsewhere. He finds a home in one of the hollow trees of the giant California redwood forest. Then follow many adventures in which the half-breed youth finally finds everything a youth can want—even love.
